Political Conditions Normal.

People of Mexico Approve Diaz's Administration, Says Gen Trevino.

Quiet Reigns and no Trouble Is Anticipated at Time of the Election.

Distinguished Military Commander Talks Frankly of the Situation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MONTEREY (Mex.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That current political conditions in the republic of Mexico are serene and peaceful, that there is no internal disturbance of moment in sight, and that any possible uprising in rebellion against the constituted authority should be promptly put down by the military, is the opinion Gen. Geronimo Trevino frankly expressed to a correspondent of The Times, in his residence here today.

It was the first extended and authorized interview Gen. Trevino had granted to a newspaper since he was placed in command recently of the third military zone of Mexico, comprising the States of Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas, Coahuila, San Luis Potosi and Durango.

Gen. Trevino is a close friend and trusted lieutenant of President Diaz in a political situation which, according to some observers from the States, is fraught with considerable menace to the tranquility of the republic. His assurance that there are no threatening clouds in the sky will go far towards calming the fears of the anxious on both sides of the border line.

NOT CAUSING ANXIETY.

The correspondent spoke in high approval when assured that The Times sought to obtain an accurate survey of the actual conditions as they exist in Mexico at this time. He conducted the correspondent into his office, led him to a small table which was in harmony with the democratic simplicity of a republic, and in the presence of an interpreter and an attaché of the office, asked the pleasure of The Times.

"How do you find the general political conditions in your military zone?" was the first question asked.

"The conditions are satisfactory and are not causing anxiety. At present there is no occasion to expect trouble of any kind."

"Are the people, General, supporting President Diaz and his administration?"

"My opinion is that the popular sentiment of Mexico is altogether favorable to the policies of President Diaz, and that he will be returned to the Presidency for another term, with Mr. Corral as Vice-President."

"Are the campaign and national election next year likely to cause any violent or unusual disturbances?"

ONLY ORDINARY AGITATION.

Court Forbids Chauffeur to Drive Auto in New York State.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—One of the severest decrees ever pronounced by a court in an effort to discourage automobile scorching, prohibits Felix L. Driet, a chauffeur, and participant in the Vanderbilt Cup race, from ever driving a car in New York State.

Justice Soller, in the Court of Special Sessions, suspended sentence in Driet's case today when he promised to regard these directions. Driet has been arrested several times for speeding.

Miss Gertrude Buell Dunn the Latest "Soul Mate" of Hard-to-Suit Artist, Is from California—Will Never Marry or Assume Any Marital Relations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ferdinand Pinney Earle has a new "affinity." Accompanied by Miss Gertrude Buell Dunn, a Socialist like himself, who has many friends in New York, Chicago, Colorado, and California, he has gone abroad for an indefinite stay.

"We are going to work our destinies according to our ideals," is the word he left for his friends. They are traveling as brother and sister under an assumed name. Not only are they determined never to marry, but also never to enter into any relations even approaching the marriage state.

Although Earle had a child by each of his wives—the one who divorced him in Paris and Miss Julia Kuttner, the original "affinity," who is now suing to have her marriage annulled—he has determined, his friends say, to become a celibate.

Only by adhering to strict celibacy, he has decided, is it possible to realize the highest literary and artistic ideals. At the same time, he and Miss Dunn are collaborating on what they hope will be the great epic of the sex problem—a deeply philosophic treatise dealing with the relations of men and women, marriage and what it may lead to.

Miss Dunn is described by her friends as a remarkably pretty and attractive woman of 26. Her mother lives in California, where Earle's latest "soul mate" was born. Miss Dunn came here about three years ago, after figuring in a somewhat sensational episode at Glenwood Springs, Colo., where she was pictured as a member of Theodore Roosevelt's hunting party.

Dr. Jiminez, it has been declared, has a strong friend in President Zelaya of Nicaragua, who was anxious to see him elected.

AFTERMATH.

SIX HUNDRED BODIES FOUND NEAR MONTEREY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MONTEREY, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Work of recovering bodies from the flooded district, and the burial of the dead, continues. It is believed now that six hundred bodies have been found in and near Monterey, but definite sources of information are lacking. Reports from down the river tell of scores found dead, some tossed on the banks and others half buried in debris.

The government and city authorities and charity organizations are feeding and giving shelter to ten thousand homeless. To date no epidemic has started, which makes the situation easier to handle.

Adding to the unfortunate conditions is the fact that thousands of men will be thrown out of employment until the smelters and steel plants are able to resume operations. These plants are covered deep with mud and are badly damaged by water. Dynamos and other machinery are probably ruined by water. Many mines are also said to be flooded, thus throwing more men out of work.

Supplies of vegetables, fresh milk and other food were brought in from the adjacent country today, and restriction by the refrigeration plants will simplify the situation and reduce the danger of disease.

Railroad officials expressed the hope today that the first train into the city since Friday from any direction may be put through from Laredo, Texas, tonight. This train is not likely to bring much in the way of supplies, but with communication re-established many difficulties in the situation will be surmounted.

Probably three hundred Americans are marooned here waiting for the first train to the United States or Mexico City. There is no sickness of moment among them, and all accept the isolation philosophically.

The relief work is now excellently organized and in the best hands in Monterey. Contributors from the United States and elsewhere are assured that their money, clothing and supplies will be judiciously used. Monterey citizens have been particularly liberal with money donations despite the heavy draught on them recently for earthquake sufferers and persons made destitute by the flood here three weeks ago.

Philip C. Hanna, the American Consul General, is receiving scores of inquiries from charity organizations and commercial bodies in the United States, as well as from the American colony in Mexico City, asking what is most needed. Mr. Hanna has been instructed to draw on Texas newspapers and other concerns for stated amounts.

Women refugees are in great need of dresses, as few ready-made garments are to be found in Monterey. The plainest fabrics, like calico, will be acceptable. To meet this need women of the better classes have organized sewing societies to make garments. Consul General Hanna has a half dozen sewing machines going at the American consulate and near by to supply simple dresses.

Nearly three hundred homeless were fed at the American Consulate yesterday. The refugees flock thither in droves.

Huge Wall of Water Races Through Business Section of Mining Camp.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RAWHIDE (Nev.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A wall of water fifteen feet high swept this town this evening. Five hundred people are homeless and at least six are missing. It is impossible to estimate the damage either to life or property until the rain stops, and the bands of searchers can begin their investigations.

The scenes after the cloudburst were frightful. The town was filled with rushing, frantic men and women, desperate, hunted by the torrents of water that swept away at least 150 houses from the very center of the business section of the city and gutted other districts.

Miners underground and business men in their stores were terrified shortly before 7 o'clock by the sound of a roaring and rumbling of heavy thunder from the low-lying clouds which had overhung this town all day. Hardly a moment afterward the rain began pouring down, and within the next few minutes Rawhide was fairly swamped under the deluge from the skies.

Nevada street, the main thoroughfare of the town, was almost instantly the channel of a rushing yellow torrent that swept business houses from their foundations, and carried them tumbling like children's blocks into Stingaree Gulch. Here they met another but lighter flood, which, coming down the narrow gulch had stripped the miners' cottages on the sides and carried them along in its clasp.

The junction of the two floods caused a huge whirlpool to form, and

JUSTICE HELPLESS.

William H. Moody Is Very Sick.

Long Kept Secret Is Out at Last—Taken Home in Ambulance.

Every Effort Made to Conceal Illness—Condition Serious.

Malady Is Officially Declared to Be Rheumatism and Gout.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVERHILL (Mass.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Very quietly, and with many precautions to insure secrecy, Associate Justice William M. Moody of the United States Supreme Court was removed in a police ambulance from the Bradford railroad station to his home here tonight.

It is understood that Justice Moody's condition is serious. He appeared to be helpless during the transfer from the train to the ambulance. Although Justice Moody's malady was announced officially as a case of rheumatism and gout, local physicians who have known him for years believe it to be more serious.

Justice Moody came here, it is believed, from a sanatorium in New York, where he has been for several weeks, following a short stay at Hot Springs, Ark. No intimation of his indisposition had been received here previously. It had been supposed when he temporarily left the bench early in the summer that it was merely for a vacation.

Justice Moody's secretary, J. A. Krotz, had made arrangement by telegraph for him to be met at Bradford, instead of at the Haverhill station.

The train pulled into Bradford at 2:10 o'clock, and Justice Moody was borne to the platform. He was unable to move his lower limbs at all.

Mr. Krotz had telephoned to Dr. I. J. Clarke, and the physician awaited him on the platform. Arrangements had also been made for an automobile ambulance, but through some misunderstanding none appeared.

Former Postmaster Horace I. Pinkham called at the nearest police station, and asked Capt. Hill for the use of the police ambulance, and in this vehicle the jurist was borne to his house on Saltonstall road.

Secretary Krotz spent the evening at the Pentucket Club, where he was besieged with inquiries about Mr. Moody's condition. He made this statement:

"Justice Moody is at his home to undergo further treatment. He has been suffering from an attack of rheumatism, which has settled in his limbs. This has incapacitated him from all sorts of activity for the present. During his treatment his progress has been satisfactory, considering the time during which the affection was allowed to develop. While it may require a good while to effect it, we are confident that he will recover the use of his limbs.

"If necessary, bulletins will be published of his condition, issued by Dr. I. J. Clarke, who will be in attendance."

When asked last night for a statement in regard to Mr. Moody's condition, Dr. Clarke replied that he had nothing to say.

"Mr. Krotz will give out any information in regard to Mr. Moody's condition, and his bulletins will have my sanction."

Spends Day Using Auto Visiting Business Men With Plan to Float Bond Issue to Save Turkey from Bankruptcy and Is Unable to Pay Chauffeur's Bill.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, divorced wife of Brodie L. Duke, was arrested here tonight. She passed the night in a cell at the Harrison-street station. Mrs. Duke was arrested upon the complaint of an automobile company because of her inability to pay $40 for a machine rented during the day.

Upon her arrival at the Palmer House, she demanded the best suite in the hotel and when asked to pay for it in advance she admitted that she had no money, but said she would have $1000 tomorrow. She then tried to send telegrams to Gov. Deneen and other prominent men but the telegraph operators refused to accept them unless paid for in advance.

Later she went to the criminal court building and told Assistant State's Attorney Day that relatives of her former husband were plotting against her life. After leaving there she visited a number of lawyers and business men and tried to interest them in a plan to float a bond issue to save Turkey from bankruptcy.

Mrs. Duke had been using a hired automobile for all these trips and when the chauffeur demanded his TRUTH.

BALLINGER TO TELL PRESIDENT HIS SIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congress is expected by all sides of the Ballinger-Pinchot contrversy to investigate the various phases of that row during the session next winter, unless President Taft shall intervene and settle the difficulty to the satisfaction of all concerned before that time.

This new turn of affairs is not looked forward to with relish by the friends of the Taft administration, who realize that the issue probably will be forced upon them in Congress by the far western members.

Secretary Ballinger, it was announced at the Department today, is expected to arrive in Washington next Friday. The purpose of his coming and the length of his stay are unknown to the Interior Department subordinates, but it is presumed that the Secretary has been summoned east by President Taft, with whom he will consult at Beverly, and that he will furnish the President with his side of the controversy in order that Mr. Taft may take some action upon it before starting on his western trip.

Secretary Ballinger is expected to accompany the President on his tour of the Pacific Coast States the latter part of next month.

It is generally understood here that the policy of the administration will be to ask Congress to strengthen the laws of conservation along the lines of the Roosevelt policies. In that event Secretary Ballinger will be placed in the position of having to fight the friends who think they are helping him by taking up the cudgels against the forestry and reclamation services.

That the Interior Department and the Forestry and Reclamation services will be bones of serious contention in Congress this winter was strongly indicated today. The House Committee on Agriculture controls practically all of the appropriations under which the forestry bureau operates, and hitherto

AUDACIOUS HOLD-UP.

Lone Bandit Halts Fast Express.

Stops Flying Locomotives in Wild Gorge by Dynamite Signal Cap.

Compels Train Crew to Carry Bullion to the Side of the Tracks.

Mistakes New Lincoln Pennies for Gold and So Gets Little Loot.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LEWISTOWN (Pa.) Aug. 31.—An audacious hold-up of a railroad train occurred on the eastern slope of the Allegheny Mountains early today.

A lone highwayman, with a dynamite cartridge, stopped a Pennsylvania Railroad express train, and, at the point of a revolver, compelled the crew to carry thousands of dollars from an express car to a spot in the wilderness.

When the conductor, Isaac P. Poffenberger, attempted to interfere, he was shot in the hand, and the bandit escaped.

In the darkness, however, he mistook a bag containing 10,000 new Lincoln pennies for gold coin, and staggered away with it, leaving the real gold bullion to be recovered.

When the news of the robbery reached the railroad and express company officials, they ordered every available detective from the East and West to the scene. Bloodhounds were also put on his track, but up to a late hour tonight no trace of the man had been found.

The looted train was running through Lewistown Narrows, a wild mountain gorge, through which runs the Juniata River, when suddenly a dynamite cap exploded, and the engineer stopped the train. He was confronted by a masked figure holding a revolver in each hand.

CARRY OUT GOLD.

The engine crew then was forced to accompany the robber to the first express car, where the messenger was looking out to discover the cause of the sudden stopping.

Threatening to dynamite the car, the robber forced the messenger of the two express cars, and the engine crew to carry all the gold and bullion stacked in the first car to the side of the tracks.

The robber then calmly ordered the crew back on the train and told them to pull out, leaving the bullion beside the track. It was recovered later by a posse sent on a special train.

It was reported tonight that in addition to the missing pennies, several thousand dollars in currency was missing, but the express company officials refused to announce the exact amount of the loss.

Agent Hamaker of Lewistown sent a safe to the scene of the robbery to recover six bags of pennies, on which the seals had not been broken, but which had been cut open with a knife to ascertain the contents, and abandoned by the robber in disgust.

SIGNAL STOPS TRAIN.

The train consisted of two engines, three express cars and two sleepers. A signal cap, placed on the track, brought the train to a stop. Engineer John Long and Baiser Beahm, both of Altoona, on alighting from the engines, were confronted by a masked man with two revolvers, who ordered hands up.

Conductor Poffenberger of Harrisburg came up and, taking in the situation, started to run for the rear of the train. The robber fired five shots at him, one taking effect in the right hand.

The robber then ordered the express car opened. The money bags were carried to the side of the tracks. It is thought several thousand dollars was obtained. Several of the bags contained pennies, and some of these were found later near the scene of the hold-up.

Only one robber was seen by the trainmen. Later investigation disclosed six sticks of dynamite between the tracks at the point where the cap exploded. This is accepted as evidence that it was the intention of the robber to blow up the train.

CONFIRM ROBBERY STORY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—The officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad here confirm the robbery of Train No. 39 near Lewistown, Pa., early today. The following statement was authorized:

"From reports at hand now, it appears the robber—there was only one—did not get much money. In the express car was more than $5000 in bullion, as well as a large amount of Lincoln pennies. It is understood the highwayman was compelled to drop the bullion in order to escape.

"The train was known as the Pittsburgh & Northern Express. It left Philadelphia shortly after 9 o'clock last night. About 1:20 o'clock this morning, when near the Lewistown Narrows, on the middle division, it was held up by a masked highwayman. The train was halted by an explosion of dynamite which slightly damaged the engine. Before it could be ascertained just what had happened the robber, with heavy revolvers in each hand, was in control of the situation.

"In a later statement, the railroad officials said:

"When the dynamite, placed on the track by the highwayman, exploded, the headlight-shield windows in the engines were pretty badly broken. One mail was also in use.

"It is impossible to say at this time how much the robber took, but one package of pennies and several boxes of gold, valued at $5000, have been found on the train."

SAFES WERE LOCKED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LEWISTOWN (Pa.) Aug. 31.—The express car in which the robber secured his booty was held up says there were five large iron safes in his car, each containing a considerable sum of money, but he did not know how much as they had been locked at Washington, and could only be opened by Sub-Treasury officials at St. Louis.

HOT ON TRAIL.

With practically every detective and officer employed by the railroad, assisted by special detectives of the Adams Express Company, engaged in a search for the bandit, the prediction was made tonight by the Pennsylvania Railroad officers that his apprehension is but a few hours off. He was traced a short distance up the mountainside, currency dropped in his flight marking his trail.

The highwayman, it is said, took $5000 in bullion and $200 in pennies from the car, and all of this has been found along the trail except $65.

CARUSO MAKES AMERICAN BOW.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Frederico Caruso, a young Spaniard, acclaimed by many as Caruso's rival as the leading operatic tenor, made his first appearance in America at the Manhattan Opera-house in "Aida" tonight. Caruso sang with a fine expression. As Radames, he displayed a fine stage presence and much histrionic ability.

The summer home of Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, at Great Neck, L. I., was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $30,000. Two women servants were severely injured by jumping from the second story windows.

GIRL STOPS JAIL BREAK.

Stands Guard Over Three Desperate Criminals Until the Sheriff Comes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAWRENCEBURG (Ind.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Alice White, the sixteen-year-old sister of Sheriff White, prevented a jail delivery here this morning by arming herself with a revolver and holding three desperate men at bay until help reached her. The escaping prisoners were safely lodged in separate cells.

Sheriff White was absent from the jail, when his sister heard a noise that attracted her attention. She stepped into the corridor, and met Tides Negley, George Griffin and Edward Mitchell, at work with a file on the bars of the window overlooking the jail yard. Two of the bars had been sawed in two, and they were at work on the third, which would let them out to liberty.

Miss White pointed a revolver at them, and, leaving out into the yard, confronted the prisoners just as one of them was getting out of the window. She remained on guard on the outside of the jail until the Sheriff came and put the three men in safer cells again.

WARNS GIRLS AGAINST PITFALLS OF PARIS.

WISE.

PRIMA DONNA WARNING GIRLS AGAINST PITFALLS OF PARIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mme. Marguerite Sylva, the prima donna who recently returned from France to sing in Carmen at the Manhattan Operahouse, today issued a warning to American mothers who are sending their daughters to Paris for a musical education.

"American mothers are making a fatal mistake in trusting their daughters to the allurements, the pitfalls, of a Parisian musical education," said Mme. Sylva.

"Thousands of sweet, guileless American girls go to Paris yearly in the hope of becoming great singers. How many of them come back with their dreams realized and their lives unstained? Mary Garden, Cavalieira and a few others."

Without reserve, Mme. Sylva painted the immorality and the treachery of the stage in Paris. She said that a girl with great talent might succeed in the long run, even though she maintained her character, but that the process was infinitely slow.

"Girls are lured to their ruin by the most diabolical ingenuity," she declared. "They have to pay a dear price for success in Paris. I have seen it with my own eyes.

"When I was 16 I ran away from home in Brussels because my mother would not let me wear my best silk dress in the rain. I thought she was a tyrant, but I have learned better.

"With $15 in my pocket I came to America. My mother told me as I left that I would write to her for money, but I never did.

"On my arrival in New York I went the rounds of the theaters and asked for employment. The managers laughed. 'Why, my dear girl,' they said, 'you can't speak. How can you expect to play?'

"Finally I had 10 cents left, and there was no work. I had not eaten for two days and was very hungry. I wandered into a cheap restaurant and through the kindness of a waitress ate enough to make me violently sick. After going to my room I became worse and thought I was dying. People in the house thought so, too, and sent for a doctor. He gave me medicine that made me sicker than ever. He came every day. In a week I was better.

"I began making the rounds of theater offices again. I could have sung in the choruses but would not. Next I learned a little English. Then I got the part of a French maid. I had a home at last.

"Afterward I went to Paris and my eyes were opened. I thanked my stars I had not gone there first."

BALLINGER.

it has made it its business to inquire specifically into the workings of that bureau. Likewise the House Committee on Territories two years ago requested the Interior Department to furnish Congress with data relating to Alaska railroads and coal lands, but, after continuing the investigation for a short period, the Department gave it up.

Inasmuch as coal claims in forest reserves are involved in the so-called Cunningham coal claims, which are partly the cause of the Ballinger-Pinchot row, and a strong effort is to be made in Congress next winter to increase the amount of coal land which may be held under one management, it is believed almost unavoidable that Congress or one of its committees must investigate the conservation row.

Furthermore, Senator Beveridge of Indiana, one of the spokesmen of the conservation movement, is chairman of the Senate Committee on Territories, and it is understood he may insist on an investigation complete in all details before permitting an amendment of the present coal-land laws.

COAL LAND INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Acting Secretary Pierce, of the Interior Department, confirmed today the report that Secretary Ballinger is on his way to Washington.

The department's report on the Cunningham-Alaska coal entries, concerning which there is a controversy between the Interior Department and the Forestry Bureau, will be completed by the time Mr. Ballinger arrives, but will not be forwarded to Beverly until after the Secretary has had an opportunity to read it.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 31.—Resolutions of appreciation and indorsement of Secretary Ballinger's position with respect to irrigation problems and especially with reference to the Elephant Butte dam, were unanimously adopted by the citizens of El Paso, at a banquet tonight in honor of the El Paso delegation to the National Irrigation Congress at Spokane.

QUAKE SHAKES ROME.

ROME, Aug. 31.—Rome was visited by an earthquake this afternoon. The only damage so far reported is the cracking of the facade of the Chapel of Santa Anna. The shock was felt especially in the higher quarters of the city. There was considerable apprehension in the crowded districts of the city, and the men and women in the city hospitals and prisons were in a condition bordering on panic until assured there was no danger.

Improving Van Ness Avenue Square.

The highest class of improvements are now being established in the McCarthy Company's beautiful Van Ness Avenue Square—the new subdivision out Wilshire way. This property is the very heart of Los Angeles' most fashionable residential development. The formal opening of the property will occur about the middle of this month. However, advance sales are being made now. See Walter G. McCarthy, representing owners at the banking rooms of the Columbia Trust Company, Union, 311 West Third street.

CHINA AND JAPAN SETTLE MANCHURIAN QUESTIONS.

Two Countries at Last Reach Agreement on Most of the Points Long at Issue Between Them—On the Face of Document Mikado's Government Wins Most Decided Diplomatic Victory Over the Celestial Statesmen.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PEKING, Aug. 31.—China and Japan today concluded their negotiations on the general Manchurian questions that have been in dispute for some time.

The two countries soon will sign an agreement under which China agrees; first, not to construct the Hsin Min Tun-Faku Men Railroad without consulting Japan; second, in the event that the Kirin Railroad be extended to the Manchurian border, half the capital required will be borrowed from Japan; third, Japan is given the right to work the mines in the Fu Shun and Yen Tai districts; fourth, Japan will construct the extension of the Yin Kow Railroad; fifth, there shall be joint exploitation of the mines in the zone reached by the Manchurian and an Tung-Mukden Railroad lines; sixth, China agrees to open four trade marts in the Chien Tao district, between Korea and Manchuria, the Koreans living therein shall be under the jurisdiction of Japan, while those residing outside the marts shall be under the jurisdiction of China, except that Japan shall have the right to hold court in cases calling for the infliction of the death penalty; seventh, China agrees that Japan move the station of the South Manchurian Railroad to Mukden.

Japan agrees, first, to recognize Chinese sovereignty in the Chien Tao district; second, that the terminus of the Hsin Min Tun Railroad be moved to the city of Mukden, and, third, the amount of the indemnities to be determined later.

During the negotiations Japan declined to discuss, first, the question of the administration of the railroad zones; second, the area of foreign police rights within those zones, and, third, the question of policing the An Tung-Mukden line.

IMAGINARY DANGERS.

republic where popular elections obtain there is always more or less opposition to those in power, but I do not anticipate that the campaign will result in more than the ordinary agitation."

"What about the celebration of the national holidays in the middle of this month? Do they promise to be attended by any untoward excitement?"

"Personally, I expect the celebration to be quiet and orderly and in keeping with the patriotic spirit of these holidays."

"Can any possible uprising in Mexico be promptly suppressed?"

Gen. Trevino was quick and positive in his reply to this question.

"Any demonstration or rebellion against the government would be put down immediately," he said, with the quiet determination of the soldier who had lived through and who was an active factor in the troublous times when the empire of Maximilian passed through the transition period into the republic of today.

"It has been currently reported in the States that Gen. Reyes has been asked to resign the governorship of Nuevo Leon. Is there any truth in that report?"

"Gen. Reyes has not been asked up to this time to resign, to my knowledge. According to my latest information, he is at present in Gaelena."

Gen. Trevino seemed to feel the soldier's reluctance to enter into details in answer to this question and the matter was not pressed.

WELCOME FOR PRESIDENT TAFT.

"How will the Mexican people receive President Taft when he comes to the border at El Paso in October?"

"The President of your country will find a cordial and enthusiastic welcome. President Diaz is in perfect health and will be present on that occasion. I think the meeting of the two executive heads of the two sister republics will bring your people and ours closer together nationally and will be of much good to both."

"Is the fighting efficiency of the Mexican army on a higher plane than it was a few years ago?"

"There has been a marked improvement in our army service. The artillery arm of the army is much stronger than formerly and there has been an improvement in regimental instructions. We have a capable fighting force."

"What number of men could Mexico put into the field on short notice?"

"There is an available force of 100,000 men who could be made ready for service in the field in a few days. A fourth of that number is on call for instant service. An increased number of railroads in Mexico makes it possible to assemble a formidable force in any part of the republic quickly. In that respect Mexico is different from what it was in the old days."

REGRET OVER DISASTER.

Gen. Trevino shared with others the regret over the disaster that had befallen Monterey. He was deeply impressed with the prompt measures taken by the American citizens here for the relief of the sufferers, and for the substantial interest manifested by the people of the United States.

While national, civil and military authorities have the utmost confidence in their ability to cope with any emergency that may arise, more than usual precautions are being taken that no undue agitation be started. Information does not come from Gen. Trevino, but it is well understood secret service men on both sides of the Rio Grande River are particularly vigilant against smuggling arms across the border. It is determined by both governments that prospective insurrectos shall not equip themselves from the States. There are rumors of intended seizures of arms at various points, but nobody is standing sponsor for these stories.

STRIKERS STARVING.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 31.—The Aftonbladet asserts that many strikers are actually starving, and that others are subsisting on bread and water, and fish caught in the archipelago, or tramping the country robbing the potato fields.

FIRST RAIN OF SEASON.

Light Showers Lay Dust of Two Towns Near Redding.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

REDDING, Aug. 31.—The first rain of the season fell in this section today. At Weaverville there were two light showers, accompanied by electrical discharges. Enough rain fell at Lewiston and Baird to lay the dust on the roads. The precipitation in Redding during the night was light.

MONTEREY FLOODS.

to the loss of life and damage outside of this city. Nine hundred bodies were recovered in the city.

The village of San Francisco was entirely destroyed; the town of San Juan badly damaged, and the town of Camargo, on the Rio Grande, is reported to have been completely washed away.

A rider from the town of Cadereyta, this State, said tonight that twenty bodies had been recovered there; that hundreds were seen floating by with the flood, and that on his ride from Cadereyta there was not a depression in the ground or an arroyo which did not contain from one to ten bodies, left by the floods. The northern part of the State of Nuevo Leon has been flooded and toward Tampico, in the State of Tampaulpais, alarming reports have been received.

Nothing definite is known, however, as telegraphic communication has not been opened with the district.

The property loss is now estimated at between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000 in this city, without counting the damage to the railroads or "down the valley."

The railroad situation remains unchanged, but officials say a train will arrive early tomorrow from Laredo, and that trains will leave for Laredo at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. No trains will leave for Mexico City, however, before another forty-eight hours. The Santa Catarina River drains a watershed of 1000 square miles. The actual flow of water in the river at the height of the flood was one-half of the flow of the Nile, and one-fourth of the flood of the Mississippi when these rivers are at their highest flood stage.

TRAIN SERVICE ESTABLISHED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Aug. 31.—The National Railway succeeded in reëstablishing service with Monterey today. A local train left this morning and made a slow run of the 148 miles to that city. The regular through Mexico City train left Laredo at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

CALL FOR ASSISTANCE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, August 31.—The American National Red Cross has issued an appeal to the American people for contributions for the relief of the Mexican flood sufferers.

Contributions may be sent to the National Red Cross, care of the War Department, Washington.

A telegram from the Consul at Monterey states that thousands are homeless and practically the entire population of 100,000 has suffered from the flood. It is believed that from $50,000 to $100,000 will be needed to meet the emergency.

The Central Committee has directed that $2000 be sent to Consul-General Hanna at once. This sum nearly exhausts the fund always kept on hand by the society for emergency use.

EFFECTS BIG SAVING.

New Banking Law of New York Demonstrates Its Usefulness for First Time.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The first demonstration of the saving to creditors of embarrassed banks under the law passed by the Legislature this year, which substitutes the State banking department for receivers appointed by courts, is given in the case of the Binghamton Trust Company, which became involved about five months ago.

In announcing today readiness to pay 50 per cent. of approved claims against the trust company, Clark Williams, State Superintendent of Banking, says:

"At the time the banking department took control, the Binghamton Trust Company owed its depositors and correspondents, $3,190,258. The balance remaining unclaimed August 25, was $28,603.

"During the same time the department has collected from the assets of the company $1,560,318. This work has been done at a total expense, including receivers, of $10,626."

McCLELLAN ON DEFENSIVE.

Mayor Charged With Squandering Public Money in Investigations of Political Opponent.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Charges against Mayor McClellan, filed with Gov. Hughes by Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn, were made public here today.

Mr. Coler alleges that Mayor McClellan has squandered money in the investigations ordered by his Commissioner of Accounts, and that these investigations have been aimed solely at his political opponent, and not for the general good of the city government.

In the investigation of the office of the president of the borough of Brooklyn alone, Coler charges that the Mayor has "misplaced public funds of the City of New York to the extent of at least $166,000."

TROOPS WANT TO FIGHT.

MELILLA, Aug. 31.—A visit today to the Spanish base at Zoco de Larba discloses the fact that the lines of communication are now safe, and that the spirit of the men is excellent. The Spanish troops feel that they are in a position to meet the enemy on terms of equality, and all are clamoring to be led forward.

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most interesting displays of fruit, on exhibition at the State Fair at Sacramento, is the display of J. H. Leggett of Oroville, who has fruits and vegetables of unusual size and quality that were grown on the leveled stacker piles, left by the fleet of dredgers operating in the Oroville section.

The anti-dredger people have contended that the land worked by the dredgers is worthless. Leggett has disproven this contention and has raised some of the finest fruits and vegetables to be found anywhere. Lemons and oranges grow to perfection. The display at the State Fair is appropriately labeled, so all who see it will know it came from the worked-over dredger lands.

The auto was stolen from Medford Saturday, during the performance of a circus. The banker left the machine standing near a sidewalk, and when he went to get it, it was gone. The chase was taken up at once, and the machine was last heard of between this city and Chico, bound for this place. There are many new machines here and a search will be made among the garages.

Colusa Fishermen Have Terrible Experience in Treacherous Coast Range Canyon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUSA, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] County Auditor A. F. Sutton and Attorney Harmon Albery, son of Superior Judge Albery, were lost from Friday evening until Sunday evening in Dark Hollow, a well-known but dangerous trout-fishing stream in the western part of Colusa county. Sutton reached his home in this city today and is confined to his bed.

More than a score of persons searched the mountains around Fouts Springs for the missing men and came upon them after they had found their way out of the cañon Sunday evening and were lying, completely exhausted, on the trail. The men had subsisted on trout after their light lunch was exhausted on the day they entered the cañon.

Dark Hollow is one of the most treacherous cañons in the Coast Range Mountains and even experienced mountaineers shun it.

RANCHER NOT GUILTY

OF USING WATER OUT OF TURN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MODESTO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter E. Garrison, accused by officials of the Modesto irrigation district of having taken water from lateral No. 4 of this district after he was ordered not to do so by Ditch Tender Dial, came up this morning for trial.

Atty. Carlson for Garrison created a stir when he claimed the ditch tender and Superintendent Benson were legally trespassing, as the land belonged to Garrison, and all the weirs which were opened were his property. He explained this by saying that the Modesto district had offered to build him a bridge across the ditch provided he would give them a right of way, but that when the ditch was through he was laughed at by the officials, and told he was "easy." Garrison then refused to sign any papers, and no legal right of way was ever granted.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, after an hour's deliberation.

This is the second attempt of the district to prosecute ranchers who use water out of their turn.

FRUIT DECAY ELIMINATED.

PRECOOLING PLANT SAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The government precooling plant being constructed at Lodi for the purpose of freezing grapes and other fruit when placed in cars for shipment to eastern points is fast nearing completion, and in a few days it will be ready for testing. It is claimed that when the new system is in use there will not be the slightest loss from decay. After the cars are loaded for shipment, they are cooled by the ammonia process. The government experts have found that ammonia accomplishes in a few hours what it takes ice to do in several days. The fruits are immediately put under a cold temperature, and while ice is not done away with altogether, less is needed. The expert's main object will be to determine to what extent losses in shipment can be reduced by prompt cooling. As many cars as possible will be handled, and the fruits will be inspected by the Department of Agricultural on their arrival in New York.

MINISTER IN TROUBLE.

KICK AT FREAK WEDDING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 31.—Rev. J. Bowers of the Ockley Green Evangelical Church of this city, performed a wedding ceremony in a lion's cage at a recreation park last Sunday, which has brought upon Mr. Bowers the wrath of the other evangelical ministers of the city.

Rev. Mr. Bowers is a pioneer minister, having served in this State for more than thirty-five years, and is said to be one of the best-known clergymen of his denomination. Presiding Elder C. C. Poling of the Oregon conference is especially severe in his condemnation, but Mr. Bowers stands by his guns and declares that he fails to see wherein he has committed an offense against morality by officiating in a lion's den.

FLEET ARRIVES.

PREPARING FOR VOYAGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Eight cruisers of the Pacific fleet, under the command of Rear-Admiral Uriel Sebree, arrived here early today from Seattle, which port they left Saturday. They at once began final preparations for a cruise to oriental waters that will continue until February 15 next.

The vessels that will make the long voyage are the California, South Dakota, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Colorado.

They will receive 300 more sailors and take on coal and ammunition before sailing, September 5, for Honolulu. They will arrive at Honolulu about September 11, and remain in island waters twenty-five days, proceeding about October 6. From Honolulu they will steam at full speed to the New Guineas, where they will coal and weigh anchor for Manila. After battle practice at Manila, the fleet will divide, four ships going to Hongkong and four to Yokohama.

THOUSANDS OF PELTS.

WORTH HALF-MILLION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The steamer Homer arrived in this port yesterday afternoon with a cargo consisting of 14,368 sealskins, valued at approximately $500,000. This is the largest annual consignment of sealskins that has come from the Pribyloff Islands for some time. After an inspection by the custom officers here the furs will be placed aboard an express train and shipped to New York and thence to London, where they will be prepared for the market.

FACTORY BURNS.

SACRAMENTO RECORD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Fire of known origin at 4:20 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the Capital Paste Company's plant, Second and N streets, and two flat buildings adjoining. The loss to the paste factory is about $20,000, and to the flats $15,000.

One fireman, Joseph Hamilton, was severely burned while fighting the blaze. This fire is the twenty-seventh that has occurred in Sacramento during August, making a record for any month in this city.

ULTIMATUM.

W.C.T.U. MUST NOT ANNOY WINE BOOTH AT STATE FAIR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Quit annoying the people in the wine booth or close your exhibit and leave the grounds."

This blunt ultimatum has been handed to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union by the State Fair directors.

The warning was repeated several times before the women understood that it meant business. And then they acquiesced with none too good grace.

The wine and the cold water booths are near each other on the Fair grounds. The rivalry is intense. The W.C.T.U. decided to invade the precincts of the enemy. Two boys were hired and armed with thousands of slips of paper on which were glaringly printed: "Get on the water wagon. Why? Because California's going dry." Also, "Don't give it to my boy. What? Wine." And again, "Down with King Alcohol, and save our boys and girls."

Thousands of these slips were thrown into the wine arbor. Managers Sheehan and Stoll swept them out and told the boys not to continue their crusade within that booth. The women themselves had first distributed the literature. The boys, unheeding the injunction, toured the tables depositing a pack of the slips on every top.

Three times the attack was made, and three times the distributors were warned. Also three times the directors toiled up the steps to the W.C.T.U. booth and instructed them to desist.

The answer was the hiring of four more boys for the work. This was the last straw. Two minutes later the women in the W.C.T.U. booth were handed an ultimatum to the effect that if they threw their literature into the grape exhibit again their booth would be closed and they would be asked to leave the ground.

"How would you like to have the grape men throw their posters in your booth?" inquired Maj. Martin, president of the Capital State Bank and a fair director.

"Not very well," answered the women. "But, then, we are right."

"Lots of people don't think you're in the right," remarked the major, "or you would not have to go downstairs to the wine exhibit to throw your slips."

The band played "You're in the Right Church, but the Wrong Pew." That ended the trouble.

TUGBOAT EXPLODES.

Boy Deckhand Drowns and Captain and Chief Engineer Are Badly Scalded.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 31.—While towing an oil barge to Port Costa last evening, the tugboat Pirate, of the C. A. Hebard Launch and Tugboat Company, of Oakland, exploded, injuring Capt. Samuel Webster and Chief Engineer Olsen, and causing the drowning of Carl Schoen, a young Oakland boy who was acting as a deck hand.

The accident happened off Pinole Point. Capt. Webster and Engineer Olsen were badly scalded and saved their lives only by grabbing the tow line of the tug, after being thrown into the water and pulling themselves to the deck of the barge. Their wounds were treated at the hospital in Hercules.

The port light of the tug for some unknown reason exploded, igniting the oil of the feed tank and setting the whole boat in one mass of flames.

When the explosion came, Webster and Olsen jumped into the water and seized the tow line. Young Schoen jumped at the same time they did, but missed the line and sank to the bottom of the channel.

Today a launch and party of men have been dragging the channel but have not recovered the body. The boy's parents live at No. 1830 Valdez street.

The tugboat was towing a large containing empty gasoline cans belonging to the American Dredging Company. It was badly injured by fire.

The Pirate, valued at $10,000, is a complete loss, and sunk.

FED WHILE BURIED.

Women of Neighborhood Give Entombed Workman Hot Gruel Until He Is Rescued.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—After having been buried for four hours under a mass of earth that caved in on him, while he was excavating for a school building, William Schumacher, a laborer, was rescued late today by a crew of firemen. He will recover.

With only a portion of his head free, Schumacher was buried at a depth of twenty-five feet from the surface, while the women of the neighborhood were feeding him hot gruel.

HERDER SHOT FOR A DEER.

Careless Hunter Flees After Wounding Sheep Man Who Walks Mile for Aid.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PENDLETON, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alfonse Mayons, a sheep herder, was taken for a deer, and shot by some careless hunter near Meacham yesterday. After discovering his mistake, the hunter fled, and his identity has not yet been revealed. His victim was brought to the hospital here, and is in a precarious condition, with his left shoulder shattered and his left lung punctured.

The herder was stooping over when shot by the hunter, who was not more than twenty-five yards away. When hit the victim yelled and heard the hunter say "My God," and then heard him running away. Mayons walked a mile after being shot.

STEPS INTO DEATH.

Prominent Walla Walla Man Walks in Front of Automobile and Is Killed Almost Instantly.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WALLA WALLA, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Deloss Coffin, one of the best known men in this section, met death tonight as the result of being struck by an automobile driven by John Baxter, a local real estate man. The accident was the result of a crowded street, and the machine was not being driven at a rapid rate.

When starting to cross the street, Coffin endeavored to dodge an oncoming vehicle, but as he stepped aside to pass this, he was hit by the Baxter machine. He died within three minutes.

STATE CONDITIONS.

BANK CLEARINGS HERE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—California conditions for the period from July 29 to August 28, inclusive, were as follows, according to the California Promotion Committee:

Bank clearings, San Francisco, $161,879,445; Los Angeles, $60,144,236; Oakland, $8,136,768; Sacramento, $4,766,912; San Diego, $4,481,914; Fresno, $2,026,737; San José, $1,945,499.

Building permits: San Francisco, $2,186,064; Los Angeles, $1,483,651; San Francisco building permits since the fire, $144,358,365.

HONOR ECCLES.

WIRELESS TICKERS SILENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 31.—All wireless telegraph instruments in the western division of the United Wireless Company were silent for half an hour this afternoon during the funeral of George E. Eccles, operator on the steamer Ohio, who lost his life while trying to signal for help for the sinking vessel.

The body will be taken to Almonte, Ont., tomorrow morning by a uniformed representative of the American Wireless Telegraph Company.

FIND REMAINS.

MYSTERY OF DEATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 31.—The remains of Pierce Lamb, a clerk, and University of California graduate, who had been rooming at the Manhattan House on Seventh street, were recovered this morning from the estuary by Chief Deputy Coroner Bert Bergent. The body had been in the water about a week. Lamb was in poor health at the time of his death, and as far as is known had no kin in the West.

From papers found on his person it appears that he was subject to epilepsy, and had been treated for this affliction at the county infirmary. Whether he committed suicide is not is not known. He was 31 years of age.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Officials in Court.

OAKLAND, Aug. 31.—A. J. Flood, former clerk, and John S. Delaricy, former counsel for Public Administrator Gray, appeared before Judge Brown this morning in the Superior Court in answer to indictments charging them with forgery, connected with the recent investigation of estates. Both cases were continued for one week for arraignment.

Heaps of Coin.

STOCKTON, Aug. 31.—Gold coin, amounting to $320,923.67, was paid into the San Joaquin county treasury today by E. H. Rollins & Sons of New York, who bought $290,000 of the county's road bonds. The total includes the premium and interest.

Young Bandits in Court.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 31.—Frank E. Smith and Leo Nevins, whose cases were remanded from the Juvenile Court back to the Justice Court in Santa Clara, were given their preliminary examination this morning before Justice of the Peace Thompson, and held to answer on the charge of having robbed the Valley Bank of Santa Clara of $7135 on August 3.

RAILROAD RECORD.

SPEED WAR IS NOW IMMINENT.

Hill Throws Down Gauntlet to His Competitors.

Cuts Ten Hours from Chicago-Seattle Run.

Flouts the Western Passenger Time Agreement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With respect to passenger, mail and express business the management of the Hill roads has decided to throw down the gauntlet to every railroad in the West and Northwest, and to adopt strenuous means to entrench itself in territory where there is the sharpest competition.

With this end in view the Burlington, Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads have made a proposition to the Postoffice Department to put a new fast mail train in service between Chicago and Seattle to make the long journey in sixty-two hours. This is ten hours faster than the present fastest schedule to the Puget Sound territory.

Notice was also served today by the Burlington that, effective September 12, that road would no longer observe the Western Passenger train speed agreement, but would reduce the running time of its main Chicago-Denver train by two hours. Both these moves took the competitors of the Burlington by surprise and caused no end of scurrying and consultation today.

The time cards for the Burlington's new schedule are being "strung," and it is stated that there will be no change in the decision to change the time.

The Burlington's move in the direction of faster time between Chicago and Denver may lead to a speed war among the competing lines. Formerly the Chicago-Denver schedule was twenty-seven and one-half hours, and it is this schedule to which the Burlington will return.

TALK OF EXTENSION.

NO ACTION TAKEN YET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The old project of extending the Northwestern Pacific Railroad from its present terminus to Eureka, Cal., was the subject of a conference here today between Julius Kruttschnitt of the Harriman lines and A. H. Payson, Pacific Coast representative of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé.

Although President Ripley of the Santa Fé was not present at the conference, he was familiar with the details, and said that nothing was accomplished of public interest. Mr. Kruttschnitt could not be seen, but his secretary said there was no immediate prospect of the extension being made.

"It is still in the air, where it has been for years," he said.

ROADS WILL WAIT.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad and seven other railroads interested in the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission instituting a new proportionate rate between Chicago and Des Moines, withdrew today their suit to enjoin enforcement of the order.

The withdrawal was due to the recent decision of the Federal Circuit Court in the Missouri River rate case, in which the alleged power of the commission to make new rates was denied.

The principle involved in the Des Moines case is the same as that in the Missouri River rate case, which will be reviewed by the Supreme Court of the United States.

GRADING CONTRACT AWARDED.

FOR NEW ARIZONA RAILROAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The contract was awarded today to Scott Smith & Co. of St. Louis for grading the Arizona and California Railroad from the bridge over the Colorado River at Parker, Arizona, to the connection with the Santa Fé at Bengal. The distance is ninety-five miles and the contract calls for completion on or before May 15, 1910. Several big railroad contractors went over the ground, among them R. R. Coleman and the Occidental Construction Comany of Los Angeles. It is generally understood that when the gap is completed through passenger trains will be put on by the Santa Fé between Los Angeles and Phoenix.

NEW STEAMER LINE.

FROM SALVADOR TO MEXICO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The State Department has been informed in a report from Charge d'Affaires Fraser at Salvador that the Salvador Railroad Company is about to inaugurate a weekly steamship service between the ports of Acajutla, in Salvador, and Salina Cruz, in Mexico.

The service is to begin on regular schedule, about January 1, 1910. When the line is established, it is said, the governments of Salvador and Mexico will be approached with a view to entering into contracts for the transportation of the mails.

PACIFICS' JULY REPORT.

INCREASE IN NET REVENUE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific reports for July as follows: Gross revenues, $10,814,569; increase, $1,094,163; operating expenses, $6,467,934; increase, $717,892; taxes, $329,728; increase, $862; total expenses and taxes, $6,797,661; increase, $718,754. Net revenue, $4,016,907; increase, $376,209.

Union Pacific reports for July as follows: Gross revenues, $7,534,853; increase, $785,170; operating expenses, $3,678,922; increase, $250,527; taxes, $212,305; increase, $14,450; total expenses and taxes, $3,891,227; increase, $264,977; net revenue, $3,343,586; increase $480,192.

New Commissioner.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 31.—W. P. McNair of Douglas will be named Railroad Commissioner, vice Sims Ely, resigned, by Gov. Sloan tomorrow. McNair is a railroad expert and was formerly with the El Paso and Southwestern system.

The battleship Maine went out of commission at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday. The crew sailed on the cruiser Prairie for League Island, where they will be distributed among several other naval vessels.

SIGNIFICANT BUSINESS GAINS.

During the seven months of business ending July 31, 1909, The Times made a gain of 2782 columns of advertising over the same period of 1908. This is an average monthly gain of 397 columns, and approximately 10 per cent. The aggregates for the respective periods named are 30,656 columns for this year as against 27,981 columns for last.

Following is the tabulated statement, month by month, for each year, showing gains and totals:

Month.	1908	1909	Gain
January	4038	4803	765
February	3712	3896	184
March	4574	4467	....
April	4104	4504	400
May	4262	4765	503
June	3697	4259	562
July	3594	3962	368
Total	27,981	30,656	2782

The figures are a sure indication of the arrival of the prosperity wave. The Owens River enterprise, San Pedro annexation, the enormous loans and investments made by large eastern insurance companies in downtown business property, and the great influx of people from abroad, all point toward the sure and permanent progress of Southern California.

VOLIVA GOES TO JAIL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor to the late John Alexander Dowie, as head of the Dowie religious cult, is today a prisoner in the jail at Woodstock, Ill., in default of payment of a $1000 judgment in favor of Philip Mothersill, a farmer of Montana. The judgment was obtained on slander charge. Voliva declared he would stay in jail the entire six months provided by law rather than pay the judgment.

DEBTS NEAR QUARTER-MILLION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

UNION CITY (Tenn.) Aug. 31.—Developments in the failure of the Hardy Grain Company, announced yesterday, show the aggregate liabilities to be $188,000. It is reported that when a complete schedule of indebtedness is filed it will total $250,000.

DRUNKS ARE "ODORLESS."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Aug. 31.—For two months the police have been combatting the "odorless drunk." Men are carried into the station house every day drunk with something that leaves no odor on the breath. When they are questioned as to what they have been drinking, they almost invariably say, "Beerette," but "beerette" is not considered an intoxicant. The "odorless drunks" are usually without bottles in their pockets. There were forty-one drunks on the police docket yesterday.

ENGINEER KILLED IN CRASH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—Engineer Walter D. White was killed and ten or more persons were injured when the eastbound North Coast Limited train of the Northern Pacific road ran into a work train while rounding a curve half a mile east of Detroit, Minn., last evening. The limited was two hours late at Detroit, and was running fifty miles an hour when it struck the work train. The baggage and mail cars turned turtle, and landed in a swamp in which the water was nine feet deep. None of the passengers was badly hurt. Three mail clerks were said to have suffered serious injuries.

"WANDERING BOY" USELESS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" is out of date, useless and should be placed under the temperance ban, according to Mrs. Emily Hill, president of the Cook County W.C.T.U., and chairman of the Temperance Parade Committee, which plans to have 100,000 men, women and children march in the anti-liquor procession on September 25. "Let's not sing that old hymn any more," she told an audience in Willard Hall last night. "It reflects on us. We ought to know where our boy is and if he is wandering subject him to discipline." Mrs. Hill declared the statement had been made that Gen. Fred D. Grant was to appear at the head of the parade without his army uniform. "This may be true," said she, "but we women are going to make a uniform for him and he has consented to wear it. It will consist of a white silk sash, trimmed with heavy gold fringe. We are proud of our grand marshal."

WANTS CANCER TO CURE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Thomas J. Allen of Aurora believes he has discovered a cure for cancer and is so sure of his ground that he yesterday offered himself for an experiment. He said he had asked an eastern cancer specialist to graft a cancer upon him for the test. The cure Allen proposes is a matter of diet. Some time ago he went in for peanuts and lived for sixty days on them exclusively. He says cancer comes from a disorganized digestion and alternating "monodiets" will eradicate it. Thus, he suggests potatoes alone for a number of days, then peanuts alone, followed by a turn at grapes and so on.

KHEDIVE'S SON IN DETROIT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—In pursuance of an ancient custom that each member of the better families of Egypt must prepare himself to elevate the nation in some branch of learning or culture, Prince Osman Abdul Rasik of Cairo, Egypt, is in Detroit. He will enter the University of Michigan for the study of agriculture. Rasik says he is the third son of the Khedive.

TO MODERNIZE CHINA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—A University of Chicago man may break down the Chinese barrier that has hitherto blocked the development of sciences in that country. Dr. Oskar Eckstein, a chemist and metallurgist, now in Denver, last night said his mission to China is to open a scientific department in the imperial Chinese University at Peking. Mr. Eckstein says he was engaged by cable. He will proceed to establish the new department according to the methods used in this country and Germany.

FUGITIVE HAS PELEGRA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Aug. 31.—Thomas Scott, who says he escaped from the Elgin Hospital for the insane, was captured at Mossville, five miles north of Peoria, yesterday, after he had created a panic among the villagers by his efforts to kill those who approached him. He was brought to Peoria and placed in a jail, where it was found that he was suffering from an aggravated case of pelagra. It is probable that specialists here will make an investigation into the patient's condition.

PENNY CUFF-LINKS BARRED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Whether, under the Federal law, prohibiting the mutilation of United States coins, the new Lincoln memorial pennies may be gold plated for use as cuff buttons or tie pins, has been asked Capt. Porter of the United States Secret Service. His answer is in the negative. "The law prohibits such things," said Capt. Porter yesterday. "To gold plate these pennies or to in any way utilate them is a serious offense. We are on the alert to stop such violations."

TO PURIFY OSAKA.

Japanese Mark to Christians and May Keep Resorts Out of Business Section of City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO (Japan) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An active movement is in progress in Osaka to prevent the rebuilding of the burned licensed resorts in their former good location near the principal railway station in the business section of the city.

The agitation, which was begun under Christian auspices, is winning the support of all the moral forces and crowds are turned away from the mass meetings which are held. A petition already has received more than 100,000 signatures, and strong hopes are entertained that the efforts for the municipal improvements of Osaka will be successful.

LOAN PROJECT FALLS THROUGH.

PEKING, Aug. 31.—The local representatives of the European bankers concerned in the Hankow-Sze Chuen Railroad loan of $30,000,000 received discouraging news today from their principals and the impression prevails that the loan project has fallen through.

LOFTIS IS EXPELLED.

Diamond Merchant Loses Membership in Club Because He Slapped His Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Samuel T. A. Loftis, diamond merchant, was expelled from the South Shore Country Club tonight because of an altercation he had with his wife at the clubhouse last Thursday night. The account of Mr. Loftis's troubles with his wife, as related by the complaining witnesses, was said to have been that, because of Mr. Loftis being under the influence of wine his wife declined to go home with him and made arrangements to leave the clubhouse with friends. Mrs. Loftis started to leave him. He caught her by the arm, addressed her in loud tones, slapped her face, and so twisted her arm that she cried out from pain.

CHURCH AND SPIRITUALISM.

LINKED BY PROMINENT ST. LOUIS CLERGYMAN.

Rector of St. James Episcopal Memorial Church Says That Communication With Souls That Have Gone Before Is Corollary of Christian Doctrine of Immortality.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the most carefully chosen and emphatic words, Rev. Edmund Duckworth, rector of St. James Episcopal Memorial Church, declared in an interview today, that spirit communication is a necessary corollary to the teaching of the church in regard to immortality.

The spirit communications are becoming more and more frequent and that eventually the veil which hides the future life may be entirely lifted, he regards as a possibility of the not far distant future. He gave his views of the subject as a comment upon the sermon delivered by Bishop Samuel Fallows of the Reformed Episcopal Church in Chicago.

"Belief in communication with spirits follows naturally from the teaching of the church in regard to immortality. I do not see how any one can read the Bible without accepting the declaration that Bishop Fallows makes unless he treats the Bible as an unbeliever and as a materialist.

"I might cite innumerable instances of spirit communication from the scriptures. Christ himself talked with Moses and Elijah on the Mount of Transfiguration. St. Paul was lifted into the third heaven and states that he there saw and heard things unlawful for men to know."

"Do you believe that communications with the spirit world have occurred in modern times?" Mr. Duckworth was asked.

"I would have to take a very peculiar attitude if I denied the existence of men and women with souls that have passed on before. The so-called mediums which infest this and other cities are the fakes referred to by Bishop Fallows."

APPEAL FROM ORDER.

Cadets Dismissed from West Point Ask Reinstatement from Secretary of War Dickinson.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Aug. 31.—Gordon Lefevré, of Richmond, Va., J. H. Booker, Jr., West Point, Ga.; Chauncey C. Devore, Wheeling, W. Va., and Richard W. Hocker, Kansas City, together with Congressman Borland, of the Fifth Missouri district, held a conference with Secretary of War Dickinson yesterday at his home, Bellemeade, in an effort to secure the countermanding of an order dismissing them from the West Point Military Academy for hazing Cadet Rolando Sutton, a brother of Lieut. James N. Sutton, Jr.

It is said that while Judge Dickinson accorded the boys every possible courtesy and expressed a willingness to go over the record again, if they so desired, three of the boys left without waiting for the record to reach the city.

OBITUARY.

Gen. Thomas H. Cavanaugh.

TACOMA (Wash.) Aug. 31.—Gen. Thomas H. Cavanaugh, aged 66, died today. He was a native of Indiana, served in the Sixth Illinois Cavalry in the Civil War, and was Secretary of State of Kansas for four years. President Arthur appointed him Inspector of lands in Washington, and President Harrison made him Surveyor General. He had been department commander of the G. A. R. for Washington and Alaska.

MONTCLAIR (N. J.) Aug. 31.—Hester Campbell, a famous Scotch cook, who was employed for many years in the family of former President Roosevelt, died here today at the age of 96. She was particularly noted for her recipe of "Johnny cake." She always accompanied the Roosevelts on their trips.

NOT CRAZY; BRILLIANT.

Woman, Believed Insane Because She Smoked in Public, Is Released from Custody.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Betsy Hill, the English woman who was sent to Ellis Island under the suspicion that she was insane, because she smoked a cigarette while a customs officer inspected her baggage when the Steamship Philadelphia arrived here on Saturday, has been released with a certificate that she is not only sane, but is a remarkably brilliant woman. Mrs. Hill, who is about 60 years old, is one of the best known European authorities on antiques and has accumulated a large fortune in executing commissions for wealthy collectors.

Many prominent Americans are among her clients.

Mrs. Hill demonstrated to the satisfaction of the immigration authorities that the smoking of a cigarette was not conclusive evidence of a woman's mental incapacity. This is her first visit to America. She leaves for the West in a few days.

Officers of Wrecked Pacific Mail Liner Not to Blame, Say Steamboat Inspectors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The officers of the Pacific Mail liner Indiana, which was wrecked in Magdalena Bay, April 3, during a heavy fog, were declared guiltless of blame for the disaster today, by Federal Steamboat Inspectors Bolles and Bulger.

The inspectors declare they are satisfied the ship's officers were not guilty of negligence.

Capt. J. F. Robinson, who was in command of the steamer when it went on the rocks, committed suicide in his stateroom shortly after the wreck.

NECESSITY.

HARRIMAN TO REST AWHILE.

Promises Family to Give Up Hard Work for Time.

Other Shoulders Must Bear His Heavy Load.

Task of Placing Burdens Is Going on Apace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. H. Harriman has promised his family that he will give up hard work for a long time. He has informed his associates that it will be necessary for other shoulders to carry the heavy burdens known as the Harriman railway policies.

Since Mr. Harriman returned the distribution and division of these responsibilities has been going on under his direction. So far as the operation of the Harriman railways is concerned nothing much is to be done in the way of looking out for a future without the direct superintendence of Mr. Harriman.

J. C. Stubbs, traffic director, and Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operations on the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, will be responsible for the well-being of these two huge organizations. The difference in their positions is that they will not have daily orders from Harriman headquarters.

Mr. Harriman will hereafter speak through Robert S. Lovett, counsel of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. The orders which he has been in the habit of giving direct to Mr. Stubbs and Mr. Kruttschnitt and others will now go through Mr. Lovett, and Mr. Harriman has promised his physicians and his family that he will originate as few orders as he can.

Judge Lovett's responsibilities have been increased tenfold. His right hand man will be William Mahl, now the controller of the Union and Southern Pacific systems. These two will deal with the bankers, who are so important in all the Harriman plans.

The financial plans of Mr. Harriman will be carried on for him in the future by the National City Bank, Kuhn Loeb & Co., and other banking interests identified with the Harriman schemes.

These plans are being carefully worked out by James Stillman, chairman of the board of the National City Bank, and by Jacob Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and their subordinates.

DAY OUT OF DOORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ARDEN (N. Y.) Aug. 31.—Reports from the Harriman home today were even more encouraging than those of yesterday. Mr. Harriman, it was said, passed the entire day out of doors and walked about at intervals with the assitance of a cane.

INDORSEMENT.

WOULD THIN OUT BACHELORS.

ARCHBISHOP THINKS HIGHLY OF PRIEST'S IDEA.

Declares That "No Babies, No Ballot," Plan of St. Louis Pastor Would Solve Suffrage Problem and Put an End to Race Suicide and Kindred Evils.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Archbishop Diomede Falconio, here to preside at the consecration tomorrow of Rev. Father Dunne as bishop of the Peoria diocese, as successor to Bishop Spalding, today declared himself as in hearty accord with the idea promulgated by a St. Louis priest of giving the ballot to parents only. This would solve the suffrage problem, end race suicide and thin the ranks of what bachelors and vinegarish spinsters who are howling for the right to vote, he says.

Archbishop Falconio said the idea was splendid. He cited the fact that in some States women are given the ballot on property qualifications.

"Surely children are more valuable than property," he said.

"It would thus be reasonable to give votes to married persons on the basis of the number of their children, but I fear it will be some time before we see this fine idea realized in law."

Archbishop Falconio said the liquor problem was being solved. He said tremendous strides had been made in the last ten years, and there was less drinking everywhere. He attributed this to the education of children against the habit, making it unpopular and unfashionable. He also said religion was spreading everywhere at an encouraging rate.

REWARD OUT FOR AUTOIST.

Acting Governor of Illinois Declares Driver Who Ran Down Boy, and Fled Is Murderer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Acting Governor Oglesby today issued a proclamation which, it is hoped, will have a wholesome effect on the reckless drivers of automobiles. The proclamation offers a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the unknown driver of the automobile that ran over and killed Harold Wakefield, a boy, in West St. Louis.

The driver made no attempt to stop his machine, either before or after the boy was killed, and it has been impossible to locate him. The acting Governor takes the ground that the driver of the automobile that killed young Wakefield had "an abandoned or malignant heart," and therefore is a murderer.

INDEMNITY FOR PANAMA.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Through the State Department, Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop has received $14,600 from the Panama government, paid by it as money reparation in the cases involving the maltreatment of American naval officers and seamen at the hands of the police of that republic.

Of this amount, $5000 is indemnity for what is known as the cruiser Cotorro incident, when several officers in uniform were arrested, locked up and roughly handled in Colon on June 1, 1903. The assault, it is declared, was entirely unprovoked.

The indemnity of $9000 will be paid to relatives of Charles Rand, a boatswain's mate of the cruiser Buffalo, who was killed in Panama in September, 1908, and $1000 will be given to the relatives of Joseph Cieslik, a sailor of the same vessel, who was stabbed and killed at the time.

CATCH CHINKS EN ROUTE.

Government Officials Discover Fourteen Smuggled Celestials in Freight Car.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCUMCARI (N. M.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The largest gang of smuggled Chinese ever captured in this Territory were taken in custody here this morning by United States Emigrant Inspector M. F. McGuire and his assistant, David Tyre.

The Chinese, fourteen in all, were discovered in a car of sugar, which was consigned to Kansas City. The car had come from California, via El Paso. The Chinese were well supplied for a long journey, having plenty of water and food stored in the car.

They were placed in the County Jail to await the arrival of a government interpreter before preliminary examination.

SUES FOR FALSE ARREST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—A suit to recover $20,500 damages for alleged false imprisonment from Sheriff Frank Barnet of Alameda county and William Knapp of the United Fidelity Company was filed in the Federal Circuit Court today by William Hess.

The plaintiff declares he was arrested without due process of law and charged with the theft of a diamond ring from Knapp. He states that he was held by Barnet for nine days and repeatedly put through the "third degree," only to be released without bail at the end of that time.

Hess holds that his reputation was damaged to the amount asked, and cites as proof of this that he was forced to move from Alameda to Santa Clara county to avoid the disgrace occasioned by his imprisonment.

AVIATOR HIT BY A TRAIN.

After Working Secretly on Aeroplane Five Years Inventor Is Dying from Accident.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) [Exclusive Dispatch.] Struck by a train just after testing his aëroplane for its initial flight Sunday, Louis Raynaud lies in a hospital tonight dying. He and three assistants were returning home in a wagon from a field at Gentilly Road and London avenue, where he kept his airship. Just about dusk they started across the track of the New Orleans and Great Northern road at Gentilly Road and Bruxselle street. A train struck the wagon from the rear and hurled them all out. Raynaud with a fractured skull was taken to the charity hospital. The others were not seriously injured. Raynaud has been working in secret on his aëroplane for five years. The fact that he had one was learned only last week.

KING'S FAVOR, NOT CASH, WINS SOCIAL TRIUMPH.

Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of American millionaire, who has issued formal denial of gossips that she purchased position in English society.

DAME GOSSIP, BE SILENT!

KING EDWARD RESPONSIBLE FOR MRS. LEEDS'S SUCCESS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Persistent gossips have compelled Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of the American tin-plate millionaire, to deny that her social prestige in Europe has been bought.

Some one whispered that she paid Lady Paget $500 to permit her to shine in reflected social light, and $500 additional for each invitation for a function graced by royalty.

It is known, however, that King Edward's admiration for her is really responsible for Mrs. Leeds's popularity.

Mrs. Leeds met the King at Mrs. Standish's in Paris last winter. It must be said, most respectfully, that His Majesty always has his eyes open to add to the London society agreeable and wealthy American women—and their husbands, if need be.

"Why do you not come to London for the season?" the King asked Mrs. Leeds.

"Because sire, I know few English people," she answered.

"Easiest thing in the world," answered the King. "Put yourself in Lady Paget's hands."

Mrs. Leeds took all her social successes here very calmly. So far from being flustered, she did not seem to be greatly impressed, so it is very doubtful if she will be a London hostess; but she may go to Marienbad.

MAIL TO JAPAN FOR LESS.

BIG SAVING BY NEW RATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The cost of conveying United States mail to the Orient by Japanese contract steamers will be reduced from 5 to 4 francs per kilogram on letters and post cards, which is equal to a reduction from about 43 to 35 cents a pound. The department will thus save $7282.1 4annually if the volume remains the same, but if it increases the annual saving will be greater. The Postmaster-General took measures to bring about the reduction upon the discovery that the United States was paying 20 per cent. more than the rates fixed by the universal postage convention of Rome. The new rate applies to the conveyance of mails from Seattle and San Francisco to Yokohama and Hongkong by the Japanese contract steamers on the Hongkong-Seattle line of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, and the Hongkong-San Francisco line of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha.

ROOSEVELT TROPHIES.

RATS MOST VALUABLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Moles and rats are the most important trophies of the many samples contained in one big packing case and five small ones just received by the Smithsonian Institution from former President Roosevelt.

The scientists of the institution display comparatively little interest in the skulls of the big animals, proofs of ex-President Roosevelt's heroism and marksmanship. But moles and rats of the sort contained in the latest shipments seem to be quite popular.

Maj. E. H. Mearnes, who heads the Smithsonian end of the Roosevelt exhibition, saw fit to include in the collection of skins and birds and small animals that of a rat marked with awo warts on its lower lip. The government experts never before knew of a rat so decorated. Consequently a great value is attached to the particular hide. It outranks in worth the biggest lion skin in the bunch.

READY FOR WORK.

HOYT TAKES THE OATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Henry M. Hoyt, who was a Solicitor-General of the Department of Justice during President Roosevelt's two terms, and whose appointment as Counselor of the State Department was announced from Beverly yesterday, has taken the oath of office and entered upon his duties.

It is understood his position will be very similar to that occupied by the Under Secretaries of European governments, although he probably will have little to do with the executive or administrative branches of the department, his duties in the main being advisor to the Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Is Youngest Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Royal Cabell, for the last three years postmaster at Richmond, Va., tomorrow will become Commissioner of Internal Revenue, succeeding John G. Capers, who retires to take up the practice of law. Mr. Cabell is thirty-three years old, and is the youngest man ever appointed to the commissioner's chair.

Open Air Schools for Consumptives.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Open-air schools for the accommodation of tubercular patients have received the approval of the commissioners of the District of Columbia. The Board of Education is now perfecting arrangements for the opening of two such buildings, one for white, the other for colored pupils.

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

SHOT DOWN ON WEDDING DAY.

Man She Was to Have Married Slays Woman.

Repulsed in Favor of Former Husband, He Kills.

Fires Barrels of Shotgun Into Her Body.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CRISFIELD (Md.) Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To meet death on the day set for her wedding, at the hands of the man whom she expected to marry, was the fate of Mamie Gunby, daughter of J. H. Gunby, a farmer of Somerset county. She was shot and instantly killed by her lover, Isaac J. Waters, at St. Paul's camp meeting, about three miles above Crisfield.

Five years ago Mamie Gunby, then 16, married Joseph Roley, from whom she secured a divorce less than a year after. The girl resumed her maiden name. Isaac Waters, an old suitor, began to press his claim again, and met with favor. After three years' ardent courtship, she consented to become Waters's wife, and the wedding day was set for last Sunday, at St. Paul's camp ground.

Miss Gunby arrived at the camp, and in the evening was met by her prospective husband last Saturday.

Joseph Roley also arrived at the camp meeting, and was informed of the proposed marriage of his former wife to Waters. He attempted a reconciliation. Then followed an hour's pleading by the two men. Finally, finding her love for her divorced husband the stronger, the woman renounced Waters, and told him the wedding planned for next day would not be solemnized. In a passion Waters left.

After early prayer service Sunday morning, Miss Gunby, with three ladies, was walking in the camp grounds. As they approached a highway, she came face to face with Waters, who stepped out of the woods with a double-barrel shotgun. He fired, killing the woman he had expected to make his wife that day.

The first shot only stunned his victim, and he fired again, striking her full in the forehead. He then leaned over the prostrate form and reloading both barrels fired another shot into the woman's body. He held those who rushed to the scene at bay until he could escape. He is still at large.

CRIME TOO HEAVY.

Youth Who Claims to Come from Los Angeles Admits Theft to Seattle Police.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Consciences tricken and driven to drink through remorse for what he says was his first step from the straight and narrow path of absolute honesty, D. D. Brown, aged 28, who declares he lives at No. 819 South Main street, Los Angeles, tonight walked into police headquarters and asked Capt. L. J. Stuart to lock him up that he might sober up, and then be sent back to Los Angeles to face a charge of stealing $51 from the Mission Fixture Company, for which he worked as salesman.

Brown said he stole $51 which he had collected for his employer and came direct to Seattle. That was two weeks ago, and since that time he has been living at the Westlake Hotel. Tonight he went out and told the first police officer he met, his story. He was not drunk enough to be sent in under arrest as such, and the patrolman told him to go to police headquarters and tell his story.

PLAYWRIGHT PAROLED.

BRONSON HOWARD IN TROUBLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—George Bronson Howard, the playwright, was indefinitely paroled today on the charge of having forced Miss Theresa Raymond, whose stage name is Gerard, to give him a diamond ring at the point of a dagger, a week or more ago.

Miss Raymond has refused to appear against Howard, but Magistrate Corrigan refused to dismiss the charge, and announced he would hold it over until the girl returned.

TEACHER SUES FOR ATTACK.

Chicago Girl Wants Ten Thousand Dollars from Man Alleged to Have Entered Her Room.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Revelations were promised today by friends of Miss Caroline Benedict, formerly a teacher in the public schools, in a suit filed by her against Stewart Barrett, for $10,000 damages because of an alleged criminal attack of five years ago.

At the time she was not sure of the fact and even now is puzzled, it is said. One night, she says, she was half awakened by a noise in her room. Some one—a man, she thought—seemed to have her by the throat, and just as she was about to scream she felt, she imagined, a handkerchief was pressed to her lips. She remembered nothing more.

Her health began to fail almost immediately and she went to New York, where she remained until recently.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Strikers Are Killed.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Aug. 31.—John C. Nicolai, a private detective employed by the Lake Carriers' Association, shot two marine strikers dead on the West Shore ore docks tonight, and was only saved from lynching by the arrival of the police.

Murderer of Family Must Die.

ABERDEEN (S. D.) Aug. 31.—Emil Victor was found guilty today of the murder of J. W. Christie, the latter's wife and daughter, and Michael Reesnaine on July 3, and the penalty was fixed at death. Victor killed the Christies in a hold-up.

SEVEN BABIES BURN.

Firemen Find Little Bodies in Ruins of Home for Children on Long Island.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—That seven little children, inmates of St. Malachi's Home for Children at Rockaway Park, Long Island, were suffocated in a fire which destroyed a portion of the home last night, was discovered by firemen today who were digging in the ruins.

There were 750 children in the institution, which is conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Brooklyn.

Nearly all of the dead were under 5 years of age. The portion of the dormitory in which they slept was directly over the laundry, where the fire was discovered about 8 o'clock last night. Three hundred and fifty small children were in their cots on the third and fourth floors of that wing, and some of the older children were attending evening prayers in the chapel.

As the alarm sounded the older children marched from the chapel to the board walk along the beach, and the attendants began carrying the little children from the floors above. Firemen assisted in searching the building and found a few children lingering in the halls, too frightened to leave the building, but the rescue work had been conducted with such dispatch and good order that it was not long before all the children were out of the building.

The Hebrew Home, near by, with a large number of inmates, was saved, all its occupants escaping.

Dominion of Canada Will Follow His Suggestion Anent Conservation of Natural Resources.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Aug. 31.—The Canadian government has followed ex-President Roosevelt's suggestion by appointing a commission for the conservation of natural resources.

AERIAL RACE MEET.

BRESCIA (Italy) Aug. 31.—A great aërial race meeting will be held here on the field of Montichiaria, when many of the experts who made the Rheims meeting so notable will participate. The competitions will begin on September 5, and will continue two weeks. Prizes are offered for two classes of airships, dirigibles and motor flying machines. For the dirigibles there will be speed prizes only, while for the aëroplanes the chief prize, which is of $10,000, will be awarded to the machine making the greatest speed, as well as prizes for the highest altitude attained and for the carrying of passengers.

THINK STEAMER WRECKED.

HAVANA, Aug. 31.—It is believed the small freight steamer Nicholas, plying between Havana and Cienfuegos, was wrecked in the tornado of August 23. The Nicholas carried a crew of seventeen and left Cienfuegos August 24. Advices from the Isle of Pines say that several bodies and some cargo supposed to be from the Nicholas have come ashore on the south coast.

STEAM SCHOONER ASHORE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—A telegram received this afternoon by the Merchants' Exchange states that the steamer Bandon, which sailed from Bandon, Or., for San Pedro today, went ashore at 1 o'clock p.m. at the outer end of the south jetty at Bandon. The Bandon is a steam schooner, belonging to E. T. Kruse of this city, and is loaded with lumber. It is hoped to float her at high tide.

Fall Skirts at $2.95 and $3.95--A Sale

When we bought these stylish fall skirts for the September sale we had our determination set upon making them two of the strongest lines in skirts offered to Los Angeles women at $2.95 and $3.95 in many seasons. We told the maker our determination. And only his cooperation could bring about the excellent skirts we have to offer in this September sale, which starts Wednesday.

The styles are better, the tailoring is better, and the materials are better than we believe you have secured at $2.95 and $3.95 in many, many seasons.

Those at $2.95

Are made of pretty panamas and mohairs in black, blue and brown; either plain tailored styles or those effectively trimmed with taffeta folds and bands. Priced exceptionally low at $2.95.

are of smart new voiles, panamas and brilliantines, in blue, black, gray and brown. Plain gored or new pleated models. Choice of several styles. Special price, $3.95.

Two-Piece House Dresses 95c

One-piece is worth that price in most regular lines, made of cool, durable lawns, in black, navy, light blue; dots and figures. Regularly marked $1.35, $1.50 and $1.75. Clearance 95c.

$1.95 Wash Coats at $1.00

All are the desired 36-inch styles, cleverly made of good pre-shrunk cotton materials;; in white only; trimmed with self buttons.

$2.75 to $5 Coats at $2.00

Made of linette, in lengths from 36 to 40 inches, trimmed with jet, self and pearl buttons; white only; regularly $2.75, $2.95, $4.50 and $5.00.

New 19-Inch Corded Silk Bengaline 48c

Here's a much favored material for fall dresses and waists. It's a corded silk, 19 inches wide. There's a choice of beautiful shades of taupe, silver, brown, wistaria, old rose, reseda, pink, light blue, Copenhagen as well as white. It's going to go quickly at 48c.

Peau de Cashmere, the Fashionable Silk, $1.00

This is the new plain silk with the cashmere finish; all the best of shades including mulberry, copper, myrtle, terra cotta, cinnamon, ashes of roses, gendarme, as well as black; 24 inches wide. Fashion has approved this beautiful silk. You will appreciate this price at $1.00.

Hammocks Cut to $4.00 for Clearance

Although these hammocks, from the standpoint of service, are as good as the day they were unpacked, yet this store is very strict about holding merchandise from one season to another. So, in consequence, you may profit largely on these hammocks Wednesday—prices being on a level with the cost of the yarn, not considering the weaving.

ANNUAL CLASSIC.

BARON ALCYON DERBY WINNER.

Readville Handicap Event Proves Spectacular.

Sonoma Girl Starting from Scratch Is Eleventh.

Leaders Race Head to Head Down the Stretch.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

READVILLE (Mass.) Aug. 31.—The Syracuse stallion, Baron Alcyon, today won the second renewal of the American Trotting Derby at the Readville track, by three lengths, from Axtator.

It was one of the most spectacular races ever seen. From the time the word was given until the horses were within fifteen yards of the wire, the winner was in doubt.

After thirty-five minutes of dallying the ball fell to the start. Immediately Hylie Bird, entered from the limit mark allowance, 495 feet, in advance of the scratch horses, Sonoma Girl and San Francisco, set out to make a whirlwind race of it.

Passing the stand the first time at the half-mile mark, Hylie Bird was leading by a length over Axtator, the favorite; Baron Alcyon was fifth, just in advance of a horde of horses that packed the track.

In the back stretch Gilles, with Axtator, went after the leader, the race being hot until reaching the lower turn, a little more than a mile of the journey. At this point Hylie Bird weakened enough to permit Axtator to rush into the van, a good length in front of Kaldar, who was closely followed by Baron Alcyon.

The positions remained the same entering the stretch for the grand battle to the wire. For a few strides the two leaders raced head and head, and then the superior speed and endurance of Baron Alcyon carried him to the front and he passed the winning post three lengths to the good.

SACRAMENTO DAY.

ZOMBRONUT WINS FEATURE EVENT.

ADAM G. FIRST IN FAST PACE AT STATE FAIR.

Pal Is First in Two-Year-Old Event in Good Time—Agnes Carter, Grace R., and Katalina Are Contenders to Winners Which Took All Races in Straight Heats.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Sacramento Day" was celebrated this afternoon at the State Fair races, and red ribbons were everywhere in evidence and the grounds presented an animated appearance.

Although events calling for big purses were down for decision, the light harness races did not produce any keen competition. If betting had prevailed, Pal, Adam G. and Zombronut, the three winners, would have been overwhelming favorites.

The 2:13 trot, for a purse of $2500, had six starters, but Zombronut marched off with the big end of the stake in three straight heats. This horse has been a good winner for Fred Ward, one of the cleverest of the young reinsmen in the West. Katalina was the contender in two of the heats and secured second money. May T., which must always be regarded as dangerous, was on her bad behavior and was shut out in the second heat.

Sweet Bow was not a starter in the two-year-old trot, to the disappointment of many horsemen. She hurt herself in the stall a few days ago, which made it necessary to withdraw her. Pal took this event in two straight heats, trotting the second heat in 2:12, which is a new track record for a two-year-old. Pal is owned by E. D. Dudley of Dixon, and was driven by Sutherland in the absence of Chadbourne, who was called to Pleasanton on account of the illness of his child.

Adam G., the star trotter at the State Fair meeting four years ago, carried off the honors today at the pacing gait. The converted son of McKinney won in straight heats, driven by the veteran Dr. Ryder. He took every heat easily and the event was certainly worth winning, as it called for a purse of $2000. J. L. McCarthy's work as starting judge has been very satisfactory.

HUNTING AND FISHING.

Protective Association to Discuss Plans and Listen to Addresses at Lake Tahoe.

President H. W. Keller of the California State Fish and Game Protective Association is negotiating for a special car for the use of the delegates from Southern California to the annual meeting of the association, which is to be held at Lake Tahoe, beginning September 13.

It is proposed that the delegates and their friends leave Los Angeles September 11.

Reports of progress in most of the sections of California will be received at the convention, and addresses will be delivered by David Starr Jordan, by a representative of the Audubon Society of Southern California and by northern hunting and fishing experts. The secretary of the association, Mayor A. R. Orr of Visalia, also will speak.

The State Fish and Game Protective Association has in a few years developed into one of the most influential organizations in California. It is composed of sportsmen who desire that the fish and game shall be preserved, and of late the transportation companies have given the organization active cooperation, realizing that with good hunting and fishing their business is increased by hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Local organizations of the central body have been formed in nearly every county of California, John Schumacher being the president of the Los Angeles county association.

At the Tahoe convention there will be a thorough discussion of the present game laws and suggestions will be received for further changes in the statutes designed to carry out the purposes of the association.

It was due to the activity of this association that the present hunting license laws were enacted, the money collected being devoted to the preservation of both fish and game. That many men are interested in the proper enforcement of the laws is shown by the fact that last year a total of $117,000 was collected in California in the form of hunters' licenses.

Racing in England.

DERBY (Eng.) Aug. 31.—The Byrkie maiden plate, 100 sovereigns, 2-year-olds, five furlongs, was won by Charles Carroll's Washoe, H. P. Whitney's Newcastle II, and Fiscal Fighter ran a dead heat for second place. Seven horses started.

Papke Accepts Terms.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31.—Billy Papke has agreed to the terms recently offered him by the West Side Athletic Club, and will meet the winner of the Kelly-Klaus fight the latter part of October.

THEN LOST HIM.

WONDERFUL FIGHT WITH TUNA FOR MORE THAN EIGHT HOURS.

THE blue button of the Tuna Club is adorning the coat of a new member, Ben Williams of Los Angeles. This plucky angler fought a big tuna for eight hours without a moment's pause, from 4 o'clock in the afternoon when he got the strike, till midnight last Thursday, and then had to give up the struggle from sheer exhaustion and hand over his rod and reel to the boatman, who gaffed the tuna in another half hour.

This disqualified Williams for membership in the Tuna Club for the time being.

The officials of the club, however, not understanding the situation, and full of admiration for the gamy fight, voted him a blue button, but Williams would rather not wear the button of distinction until he won it according to tuna rules.

Saturday he went forth again, and drew his fish to gaff twelve minutes after he got the strike. The fish weighed 122 ½ pounds.

Since the first large leaping tuna taken at Catalina Island in five years was brought to land, August 19, by Steve Brode of Los Angeles, twenty-one of these world-famous fighting fish have been caught, every one weighing more than 100 pounds.

The average weight of the season's catch up to date is 120 pounds, and the largest tuna up to date, taken by Philip O'Mara of Salt Lake City, weighed 153 pounds, which has not been equaled since 1900.

For the first time in the club's history a minor, Ross Kirkpatrick of Los Angeles, aged 15 years, is wearing the blue button, his tuna weighing 126 pounds. C. G. Conn of Elkhart, Ind., a millionaire manufacturer and former Congressman, has taken the greatest number thus far, and daily goes forth to battle with the gamest fish in the world.

Conn's catch includes three tunas, taken in one evening, forty-four minutes sufficing to subdue the three fish, weighing 128, 120 and 109 pounds respectively. Mr. Conn caught the second tuna of the season, 110 pounds, another 120 pounds, and still another tipping the scales at 114, making six of the twenty-one drawn from the waters thus far.

Conn is determined to surpass the world's record for tuna caught on rod and reel, which was made by Col. C. P. Morehous of Pasadena, in 1908, the tuna weighing 251 pounds. This splendid fish, resembling a steel projectile from some battleship, with its suggestion of deadly power, is the chief ornament of the Tuna Clubhouse.

In following the leaping wonder of the waters in his efforts to find a greater fish, Mr. Conn uses a rowboat, so that he can follow the fish to greater advantage. The rowboat is attached to his launch, the Nevada, and is cast loose when a strike is made. In the first surface run made by the tuna, the boat is frequently carried seven or eight miles out to sea, and when the fish has sounded and is coming to the surface again the small boat is upon him and he is gaffed in a twinkling. George Farnsworth accompanies Conn, and has gaffed every one of the big fish.

Button, button, who has the blue button, which is awarded for landing a tuna over 100 pounds, could be answered for the present season by the following roll of honor up to Friday night:

Steve Brode of Los Angeles, with the first of the season, weighing 126 pounds; C. G. Conn of Elkhart, Ind., six tuna weighing 110, 128, 126, 109, 120 and 114 pounds; L. G. Murphy of Converse, Ind., 118 pounds; E. T. Judah, 111 pounds; Arthur J. Eddy of Chicago, 111 1-2 pounds; A. E. Tyler of New York City, 117 pounds; C. C. Bowerman of Monrovia, 110 pounds; Dr. John L. Kirkpatrick of Los Angeles, 138 1-2 pounds; Dr. Edwin Palmer, Hollywood, 112 1-2 pounds; William M. Hunt Jr., 117 pounds; E. J. Polkenhorn, 113 pounds; Ross Kirkpatrick, 126 pounds; Philip J. O'Mara of Salt Lake City, 153 pounds, and three other tuna reported yesterday.

LOSES HIS NERVE.

FRAZIER DEFEATS TUBBS IN CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DEL MONTE, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All the events in the men's competitions were advanced a further stage today and have now reached the finals.

In the Del Monte championship Frazier created surprise by beating Chapin Tubbs, the hero of yesterday's record, by 3 up and 2 to play. Tubbs was a little unsteady on the outward half of the journey and allowed his opponent to gain the comfortable lead of three at the turn. Though he steadied down after starting the last nine holes he could make no impression on Frazier, who maintained his lead and finally won.

The other match in the championship was won by F. C. Newton, who beat Douglas Grant comfortably by 4 up and 3. Newton has always had the reputation of being a great match player as his nerve never deserts him. He played much steadier golf than Grant, who is generally a good and some times brilliant player. He was never pressed.

These results leave the championship to be fought out between the North and the South, Newton representing the Claremont Club of Oakland, and Frazier the Santa Barbara Country Club, which adds an additional interest to the match.

In the contest for the Del Monte Cup for men, Vincent Whitney was beaten after a close match by Parker of Riverside, 2 to 1. Whitney, though not playing such consistent golf as when he won the cup in May of this year, was yet considered a probable winner.

The other match in the Del Monte Cup, between Millar and Cosby, both from Southern California, was won by Millar, 2 up and 1. This cup therefore must go south this time.

In the semi-finals for the defeated eight in the first round of the championship, C. D. Whyte easily disposed of J. Spens Black, 6 up and 5. Black, who has been playing in something like his old form, found, however, that the Ingleside man was too much for him. The other semi-finals in this event resulted in a win for F. H. O'Keefe, who beat J. S. Oyster, 2 up and 1.

The qualifying round of eighteen holes for the Del Monte cup for women was also played this morning. Miss Mellus, of the Los Angeles Country Club, returned the best score of 92. This hardly represents her true form, as she was unlucky in getting a string of sixes at the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh holes. Miss Havemeyer of Burlingame, after an almost disastrous start, recovered and returned 94.

Mrs. Day of Sacramento played well, her card reading 97. Mrs. Munn and Miss Hager were not in form and returned 98 and 99, respectively. The order and scores follow:

Miss Mellus 92, Miss Havemeyer 94, Mrs. Day 97, Mrs. Balch 97, Mrs. Munn 98, Miss Pillans 98, Miss Hager 99, Mrs. Bishop 101.

The above will play off bymatches for the cup. The remaining sixteen will play off similarly in two flights of eight for special prizes. Miss Knowles 101, Mrs. Griffith 102, Mrs. Pattee, 104, Mrs. Garritt 105, Mrs. Field 105, Mrs. Cochran 105, Mrs. George 106, Mrs. Warner 107, Mrs. Sample 108, Mrs. Hewitt 108, Miss James 109, Miss Tobey 111, Mrs. Kearne 111, Mrs. Porter 111, Miss Alkire 111, Mrs. Dunn 111.

The only tournament match played in the afternoon was the final in the defeated eight division, where C. D. Whyte beat F. H. O'Keefe by 5 up and 4 to play. Though O'Keefe has been showing good form in the tournament generally, he was no match for the San Francisco man, who played a strong game and practically won as he liked.

Tomorrow the first match play rounds in the women's events will be played over eighteen holes and the men's championship and Del Monte cup finals over thirty-six holes.

PUGS KEEP BUSY.

Boys Do Hard Work in Preparation for the Naud Junction Bouts Next Tuesday.

Many of the fans from the Vernon baseball park remained after the game to witness the exercising of Frank Picato, who is training for his battle with Phil Brock at McCarey's pavilion next Tuesday evening. Picato already had gone eight miles on the road with Herb White in the morning, and the afternoon work put him in fine fettle.

Picato is fast taking off all the weight necessary to get down to the 133-pound mark at 3 o'clock of the day of the contest, and his training yesterday showed him rounding to in great shape. He boxed with Charlie Picato and White and was fresh at the finish.

At the pavilion Phil Brock was equally busy. He went on the road in the forenoon and in the afternoon punched the bag, skipped the rope and boxed with Dick Given and Gene Sullivan. Brock is well in sight of the figure agreed upon and should be strong at 133 pounds.

Much interest centers in the ten-round contest between Curley O'Connell and Frankie Sullivan, and the fans are equally divided as to the outcome. Both of the boys are fast fighters and will not let the time slip away while they are in the ring. Each is anxious to win the battle, as a future career opens up to the one who is decisively victorious. O'Connell is using the pavilion to work in, and Frankie Sullivan is at Venice with Sam Coulter and Young Solomon. Each of the boys worked hard yesterday.

Gene Sullivan is confident that he will floor Herb White for the count, and as Herb is engaged to fight at Venice two nights after this fracas he might not be in shape to go on with Coulter if Sullivan carries out his predictions. It may be that in this case Gene may be substituted and the contest go to the winner of Tuesday's bout. Sullivan is training carefully with his big brother, Dan, and he is showing all kinds of improvement over the form displayed when he defeated Billy Walsh.

Sam Coulter of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who has turned professional fighter, will make his first real professional debut at Venice on the night of September 9, when he will meet Herb White, the weight to be 133 pounds at 6 o'clock.

Jack Miles, a pug now in this city, says he is willing to box any one on the Coast at 122 pounds.

Kline Beats Mackey.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Patsy Kline of Newark easily defeated Biz Mackey of Cleveland, in the wind-up at the Douglas Athletic Club tonight. Kline scored several knockdowns during the six rounds, but Mackey's gameness came in handy and he managed to live to the finish.

REMARKABLE SCORE.

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FLOSSMORE (Ill.) Aug. 31.—Miss Isabella Smith of the Evanston Golf Club, Chicago, played remarkable golf, and led the field of eighty in the qualifying competition of the annual championship of the Women's Western Golf Association here today, with a card of 90.

The score broke the woman's record for the Homewood course, formerly held by Miss Myra Helmer, of the Midlothian Country Club.

The winner of the gold medal for qualifying honors played the last 9 holes in 42, and negotiated the thirteenth hole in 4, considered remarkable.

Wise Talks By The "Office Boy"

In his last annual report President Eliot of Harvard made a strong appeal to parents to get their children into the practical world of life as soon as possible, and not into a college degree, to insure success. The greatest blunder of the college is that they have lifted men out of life in order to educate them for life. All educated college men know this and acknowledge it. Those who want to grow and evolve should not give too much time to the daily paper and the latest novel. Don't spread yourself out thin. Concentrate on a few things—the very best educated men do not know everything. Choose what [illegible] and then get at it. You will win. If you quit, it simply shows you did not want an education; you only thought you did. You are not willing to pay the price. Education is a matter of desire; it cannot be imported—it has to be won and you win by working. "If I had my way, I would set all young folks at work and send the old ones to school," said Socrates, 420 B. C. What Socrates meant was that after you had battled a bit with actual life and had begun to feel your need for education, you are, for the first time, ready to take advantage of your opportunities and learn. The best educated men are those who get their brain development out of their daily work, or at the time they are doing their work. You may often wonder why our salesmen are so much better posted on how goods are made, etc. The Old Man will not have a man in one of our stores unless he knows his business, also unless he is a gentleman. He says, "A gentleman is always gentle, and I want our patrons treated just the same whether they are looking or buying." It is an education for a man to trade at our stores. It shows what a poor boy can accomplish in a few years with energy, perseverance and honesty. Your opportunities are just as great as those of the Old Man's twenty years ago. Try to come in today. Either store.

FUTURE OF KLING.

MAY LEAD EASTERN TEAM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 31.—John Kling, the baseball catcher, former member of the Chicago Nationals, will manage an eastern team in either the National or American league next year. A statement was made by Kling to-day after he had wired Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Nationals, declining Griffith's offer to join the Reds next year.

"I have two propositions now before me," said Kling, "and I surely expect to accept one of them. Anyway, you may say I'll be back in baseball next year as the leader of an eastern club."

BRACKENRIDGE IN GOOD FORM.

Keeps Beavers Guessing from Start to Finish.

Chenault Strong in All But Fourth Inning.

Bill Devereaux Proves to Be the Life of the Game.

Vernon, 6; Portland, 3.

Some of the local fans thought a year or two ago that old Wild Bill Devereaux was all in and that about all that he was good for was to be a ticket-taker or a ground-keeper, but those who saw him play ball yesterday realized that he had come back and was a better Devereaux than ever.

He certainly showed it in several ways, for he not only played beautiful ball against the Beavers, but kept players and fans grinning from start to finish by his remarks and actions on the coaching line. He is a great card for the tail-enders, and it is a safe bet that if he remains on the team until the end of the season it will not finish in last place by a jug full. A man would have to drink a lot of Peruna to be dopey enough to even imagine that Bill was a dead one.

He was after the Portland players from the tap of the first gong to the end of the last inning, and his coaching probably had much to do with the Beavers missing so many that Brackenridge handed them. Brack had them guessing up to the ninth inning, and then they fell on him for enough runs to escape a shut-out, but their grandstand finish was too late, for the Vernons had trimmed Chenault in the fourth inning, and it was a lancing he will not forget for some time.

In the first three innings Martinke was the only one of the Vernons to get on the bases, and in the second he singled, stole second, and went to third on a balk. In the fourth, however, Chenault began to wobble in giving Devereaux a pass. Then Bernard hit to right and Chenault soaked Brashear with a ball. Martinke flew to Olson and Coy singled to left, scoring Devereaux. Mott followed with a sacrifice squeeze play that scored Bernard and advanced Brashear and Coy, and both of these raced in on Hogan's double to left. Hogan got to third on Brackenridge's shot to right and scored when McCredie booted this.

In the seventh Hogan struck out, but Catcher Fisher let the ball get away from him, and a moment later Brackenridge forced Hogan at second; Brackenridge stole second and finally scored on Bernard's drive to center.

McCredie opened the ninth for Portland with a double to left and Fisher was hit by the pitcher. Johnson bounced to Devereaux, who caught Big Mac with a throw to Mott at third base. Spess hit to center scoring Fisher, and when Stovall let the ball get away from him, Johnson scored. Spess reached third on the error and scored when Ort hit over Devereaux's head.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Even though the Vernons were ahead in the fourth and fifth innings Roy Hitt could not stop himself from yelling from the bench and after being warned by Van Haltren was sent to the clubhouse in the fifth to cool off.

Brashear robbed Chenault of a hit in the fifth in being lucky enough to have the chance to force Ort at second on a grounder that was easily a base hit.

With two men on bases in the fourth, two men out and the fans yelling for Hap Hogan to lace the ball out, the grand stand almost toppled over when he responded with a hard two-bagger to the left fence. He really acts like a pinch hitter sometimes.

Stovall made a star catch of Graney's long hit to the clubhouse in the sixth. Jess being forced to back up against a sign and stick up his hands to get the ball. Devereaux also made a pretty running catch in the fifth.

Hogan's bunch played like real pennant winners and the amount of ginger they showed would preserve all the watermelon in the State. They have played few more interesting games here. Hogan, Stovall and Devereaux coaching at once is a strong combination. Can you beat it? Olson and Ort had no trouble in hitting the ball, each one cracking out two nice singles.

FUTURE OF KLING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 31.—John Kling, the baseball catcher, former member of the Chicago Nationals, will manage an eastern team in either the National or American league next year. This statement was made by Kling today, after he had wired Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Nationals declining Griffith's offer to join the Reds next year.

"I have two propositions now before me," said Kling, "and I surely will accept one of them. Anyway, you can say I'll be back in baseball next year as the leader of an eastern club."

SEALS OVERWHELMED.

MYERS HAS REAL CLASS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Sacramento outclassed the league leaders this afternoon in every department of the game, winning by a score of 10 to 1. Timely hits, lightning work on the bases, and five errors by the visitors were responsible for the locals' victory.

San Francisco scored in the first on a freak error, but after that they were unable to find Brown, or break through the Sacramento infield. Every Sacramento man played fast ball, but Myers, the ex-outlaw first baseman, produced sensation after sensation by his opportune hitting and fine fielding. Score:

NELSON KEEPS ANGELS DOWN.

TALL HEAVER FLINGS SHUT-OUT BALL FROM START.

Few Hits Off Thorsen Were Good for Runs—Errors by Delmas Responsible for the Scoring—Beall and Howard Unable to Hit With the Bases Full.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bill Reidy's Oaks took the first game of the series from the Angels over at Freeman's Park today, 3 to 0. "Slim" Nelson on the mound for the Commuters held the visitors safe at all times when hits meant runs. He was inclined to be a trifle wild, as he walked eight men during the game, but held the hard-hitting Angels down with four hits. Thorsen was touched up for only six hits, but they came at times when men were on the bags and meant runs.

The Oaks put two over in the first inning. Carroll, the first man up walked and was immediately sacrificed to second by Duffy Lewis. Maggart, the Oaks new center fielder shot one to Delmas, which the latter allowed to get away from him and both runners were safe. Cameron placed a single over second and Carroll scored. Cutshaw walked, filling the bags. Christian forced Maggart at the plate with a hit to the pitcher but McKune placed a single to right, which scored Cameron. Cutshaw also attempted to score on the play but was put out.

The Angels were dangerous in the third, when with one out they had the bags full. The mighty Beall popped a fly to second and Nelson fanned Howard. Oakland put over the final run of the game in the seventh. Carroll reached first on Delmas's second error of the day and stole second. He went to third on Maggart's single to left and when Cameron flew to left he beat the throw to the plate.

In the eighth Los Angeles appeared to have a good chance to get in the run column, but Nelson steadied down and prevented any scoring. With two down Daley was occupying third from a walk, Wheeler was on second and Beall was walked. Smith hit one which looked to be good for three bags, but Maggart, after a long run, got under it and retired the side.

The game was replete with fast plays by both teams and the fans were kept on the anxious seat throughout. The Oaks pulled off three fast double plays, which kept the Angels from scoring on at least one occasion. But for Delmas's two costly errors the game might have been going yet.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified Rates. The rate for inserting Want ads in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge, 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 50 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," Church Notices, Miscellaneous," and "Bath and Massage."

"Liner" (Classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rates 1½c per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment; for "Liners," as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

SPECIAL NOTICES—Business.

SUNDAY REAL ESTATE LINERS—Classified real estate advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday nights. Other "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion will be taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m.

The great volume of liners printed in The Sunday Times, numbering regularly over 3000 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the big Sunday issue out on time.

$1. READINGS TO ALL. $1.

Always consult the best; it is the cheapest in the end.

Without your writing or even speaking, he tells you all.

Call and he will guide you with certainty higher than human power; tells you the truth, good or bad.

It is true that his fee is more than some others charge. However, he believes that he has passed the experimental stages and finds no one who is not willing to pay this small fee of $1, providing they receive reliable advice. If after the reading is over and you are not perfectly satisfied, he will not accept one penny of your money.

Before you go into anything of importance—or undertake anything serious—in business or love, or marriage, or before you make any change, you should consult the master mind of psychic.

PROF. STANLEY IS THE OLDEST PSYCHIC in experience, the richest in knowledge and skill, crowned with years of unparalleled success. His advice has brought thousands happy. It will benefit you.

Readings daily and Sunday, 10 to 8.

Conveniently located.

BETWEEN SECOND AND THIRD STS. NEAR ANGELS' FLIGHT.

WANTED—A FEW YEARS SPENT IN THE Navy are years of valuable experience. Habits of regularity are formed; healthy exercise, regular drills and growing responsibility develop quickness and self-reliance; many large employers prefer men who have had naval training; because more capable and efficient.

Young men with mechanical knowledge have greater opportunities. They may begin their trade. Go to any recruiting office and learn about the fine chances in the different branches of the service to save money, the hours of duty, cruises, sports, promotion, etc. You are not urged to enlist; individuality will be developed, not suppressed, in the Navy. Ask any one in the service about it.

The Navy banner in postoffice and Navy posters will give you an idea of the appearance of a bluejacket. Apply at NAVY RECRUITING OFFICE, 239, Pantages Bldg., 4th and Main sts., Los Angeles, Cal. x7

BUILD YOUR HOME ON LARGE AND STATELY CORNER
GROUNDS.
RAMONA ACRES presents the most desirable home spot around Los Angeles. It adjoins Alhambra, connecting by wide, stately boulevards with Pasadena, Oneonta Park and all that beautiful section at the entrance to San Gabriel Valley. Electric cars reach the Pacific Electric Depot, Sixth and Main, in twenty minutes. Every modern improvement renders Ramona Acres beautiful and desirable. Gas installed. Residents enjoy the glories of suburban surroundings, the beauty of mountain scenery and the scent of the orange blossoms. Restrictions forever preclude undesirable features.
Small cash payments and easy terms if desired, or we will build.
We submit plans, build just as you wish and sell to you on similar reasonable terms if you are not ready to start building yourself.
A few handsome acre homes ready to show now.

By a gain of 26,060 points out of a total of 66,370 registered yesterday, "Queen Constance" Hood has clinched her hold on the contest crown, so far as outward appearances go, at least. She now has a plurality of about 65,000 over her nearest rival, Mary Pearl Pottol, and nearly 100,000 over the erstwhile "queen," Dorothy Scherer.

Miss Pottol usually reports but once a week, but when she does report her score takes a big jump. Miss Scherer gave Miss Hood a pretty good race until about two weeks ago when she resorted to Fabian tactics by holding back her subscriptions with the evident intent of throwing Miss Hood and Miss Pottol off their guard by making believe she was not trying to regain first place any more.

Miss Hood does not propose to be caught napping, however, but keeps right on increasing her score by leaps and bounds, just the same as if Miss Scherer and Miss Pottol were making daily reports and giving her a close race. She does not know how many points her rivals may have in reserve, nor does she care. Her policy is to keep right on increasing her score as much as she can, for her ambition is to win first prize ($500 cash) by so large a plurality that her victory will be overwhelming.

It is big game that Miss Hood is hunting, and like the famous hunter, Mr. R., she does not believe in gunning for an elephant with a pea-shooter or pop-gun. It takes a gun of high power and large caliber to drop an elephant, and on the same principle, the grand capital prize in this school-girl hunt is not to be brought down with subscriptions of small voting power. Long-term subscriptions, especially new ones, are the weapons Miss Hood is using to win the $500 purse. It is seldom that she secures any for less than one year, and the proportion of new ones she gets is very large, hence the large gains she makes in her score.

Stanley Carnahan, ambitious Buckeye boy, who has been set back by Miss Blortz.

Miss Emma Blortz,
popular East Side girl, who made notable gain in contest yesterday.

TIME TO PLAY TRUMPS.

Card players have a standard rule to the effect that "when in doubt play trumps." "Clubs" are trumps in the scholarship contest game. The rule about playing trumps may be paraphrased to suit the contest, thus: "When in need of more points, play trumps." That is, get up a club of five new subscriptions to The Times and receive a big bonus of extra points.

According to the voting schedule adopted for the contest, a new subscription for a term of five years counts for 25,000 points, or 5000 points for each year prepaid. A single new subscription for one year counts for 3000 points. Five new subscriptions for one year each at this rate amount to 15,000 points. But since five new subscriptions for one year are preferable to one new subscription for five years, an extra credit of 10,000 points is given to each contestant on his or her completion of a club of five new subscriptions for one year each.

Miss Hood has already completed twelve such clubs, thereby gaining 120,000 extra points. Miss Pottol has completed ten clubs of five years each, netting her 100,000 extra points. Miss Scherer has completed seven clubs, giving her a gain of 70,000 extra points.

On a club of five new subscriptions for six months, a bonus of 3000 extra points is allowed, and on a club of five new subscriptions for three months a bonus of 1000 points is given.

The time is past when renewals of old subscriptions for terms of less than one year are of much avail in making a winning score. The wise and thrifty contestants will bend all their energies from now on until the end of the contest to getting yearly subscriptions, especially new ones. New ones for three months and upward also help considerably.

Miss Hood and other leading contestants owe their success in keeping so well up in the score list to the large number of new subscriptions they secure. There is no reason why a few diligent contestants should have a monopoly of the new subscriptions. They get them by finding out the people who are not already taking The Times and persuading them to become subscribers. All can get more new subscribers if they will try harder. To make sure and rapid progress, "play trumps" and remember that "clubs" are trumps in this game.

COLBORN DOWNS MAINE.

After a long, stern chase, Amos Colborn, the Upland hustler, has captured sixth place from Frank Maine by a gain of 10,975 yesterday. The Latin-American candidate will have to go some from now on if he expects to get ahead of the speedy Uplander again. Colborn will now devote himself to the task of overtaking Raymond Austin of Pasadena, who is the only boy remaining above him. Austin still has about 36,000 the best of it, but "Old Faithful" of Upland has "Excelsior" for his motto and there is no obstacle that he will not try to surmount in order to prove himself the best man in the contest. Keep your eye on Colborn as a coming "High Flyer."

MISS BLORTZ PLAYS TRUMPS.

Miss Emma Blortz played a trump yesterday by completing a club of five new yearlies and gaining a bonus of 10,000 points in addition to 2050 others she turned in, making a total gain of 13,050 for the day and taking her ahead of Stanley Carnahan, who drops back to eighteenth place. Miss Blortz is a poor working girl, but she is bright and ambitious and eager to improve her education. She deserves high praise for the excellent record she has made in the contest thus far, considering the handicap she has labored under. Stanley Carnahan, whom she has just displaced, is a very deserving and exemplary youth, but he need feel no humiliation at being overtaken by so worthy a competitor as Miss Blortz.

SCOROGRAMS.

Edwina Lloyd registered a gain of 4200 yesterday and came very near overtaking Grace Wagner, who saved her position, fourteenth place, by a timely gain of 3890.

Murrey Royar made a gain of 2285 and remains in ninth place.

David Boardman registered a gain of 1715 and remains in seventeenth place.

Ruth Ferguson, Hattie Sargent and John Keble Thursby gained 1000 points each without altering their positions.

Other gains were as follows: Alice Capron, 975; Caryl B. Runkel, 325; Elizabeth Glasscock, 125; Florence Peterson, 100; Sterling N. Scheck, 60.

DOORS OPEN TODAY.

New Polytechnic Business College Begins Its Career With Bright Outlook for the Future.

Today marks the opening of a new educational institution in Los Angeles. Kennard's Polytechnic Business College swings wide its doors this morning under circumstances which augur well for a prosperous and successful career. Much time and money have been spent in remodeling and equipping the picturesque C. White Mortimer mansion and grounds at No. 1929 South Grand avenue, as a model home for the new institution of learning. A lease of the premises for the purposes of the school has been secured.

The new college is admirably located, in close proximity to the Polytechnic High School, St. Vincent's College and other schools. The surroundings—lawns, shrubbery, shade trees, gymnasium, etc.—make the place most attractive, and no expense has been spared in the equipment. The rooms are all large, lofty, well lighted and ventilated, and on the hottest days are cool and pleasant.

The principal, Prof. W. J. Kennard, is a born instructor, loves his work and his pupils, and has the name of being able to interest a boy when all other teachers have failed. He makes the dryest subjects interesting, and many of his lessons are made quite fascinating, as all of his old pupils agree.

The accommodations in the new school are limited, "Quality not Quantity," being the aim of the founder, and as nearly fifty have already signified their intention of entering, those who have not yet made arrangements to do so must hurry up, for the principal asserts that ere the close of October every seat will be taken.

The rates are considerably below those of other business colleges, but this may be but temporary, and all who wish to take advantage of the reduction should lose no time.

One scholarship worth $100 or two worth $50 in this new school are at the disposal of The Times as prizes to be awarded to successful contestants.

DIAZ ACCEPTS INVITATION.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Mayor Sweeney of El Paso, Tex., was received today by President Diaz at the palace at Chapultepec. The President, through Ambassador Thompson, was tendered a formal invitation by the people of El Paso to visit that city to meet President Taft in October, and he accepted.

CLOSING DATE.

Tuesday, September 7, is the date upon which The Times' ninth annual scholarship contest will positively come to a close. All subscriptions to be voted in favor of any contestant must be cashed in at The Times office before midnight of that day.

It was originally contemplated to close on Saturday night, September 4, but a postponement until the first of the week following is deemed expedient on account of the congested condition of The Times' office on Saturday nights incident to getting out the big Sunday paper.

Monday, September 6, will be a legal holiday. Therefore, Tuesday, September 7, has been selected as the day for the last grand rally.

Contestants should try to get in the bulk of their subscriptions before next Saturday night. They will then have two days (Sunday and Monday) to rest up in for the final rally. Two days will intervene between the close of voting and the awarding of the prizes which will be celebrated in the usual joyous manner, on Friday, September 10.

GOSSIP OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Within three weeks from today we shall be in the thick of the autumn theatrical campaign. This, as at present arranged, starts on Monday, the 30th inst., with Charles Frohman's production of "Arsène Lupin" at the Duke of York's, Gerald du Maurier appearing as Maurice Leblanc's famous gentleman burglar. As regards that piece it looks as if New York playgoers were to be ahead of us, as I notice that the 28th inst. has been chosen for its first appearance at the Lyceum.

Just twenty-four hours after "Arsène Lupin" comes "La Femme X" at the Globe, with Lena Ashwell in the title role. Then, in rapid succession, we have Pinero's new piece, "Mid-Channel," at the St. James, Alfred Sutro's "Making a Gentleman," which Arthur Bourchier presents at the Garrick, and at the Lyceum Justin Huntley McCarthy's "The Proud Prince," in which E. H. Southern starred on your side some years ago.

This, however, by no means exhausts the list. To it have to be added W. Somerset Maugham's new comedy "Smith," to be presented by Charles Frohman and Arthur Chudleigh at the Comedy Theater, F. Anstey's "The Brass Bottle" at the Vaudeville, "The Great Divide" at the Adelphi and, last but not least, Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton's big spectacular drama at Drury Lane. Then, again, we are awaiting with no little curiosity Herbert Trench's first experiment in management at the Haymarket, where he promises a revival of "King Lear" and with even greater interest the production of Eugene Brieux's Egyptian drama "La Foi," named in the English version "False Gods," at His Majesty's.

The necessity of resuming rehearsals of this last brought Tree back from Marienbad quite a fortnight before, under ordinary conditions, he would have thought of returning. Like King Edward and other notable personages Tree pays a visit to that health resort every year with the view of undergoing the orthodox cure. The result of his having to interrupt that midway is that he returned with a serious attack of gout in the foot. "Poor man's gout," he said to me two days ago, smiling through his pain. Poor or rich man's, it is pretty much the same so far as the consequences are concerned, a fact of which Tree seemed grievously conscious as he lay trying to direct proceedings from his place on the couch on the stage. Happily, things have improved since and there is every hope that the enemy will be routed within a very brief time.

Beside him was seated Brieux himself, who has been persuaded to cross the channel from Paris for a couple of days in order to assist at rehearsals. The celebrated French dramatist is a most interesting personality. Although 51, he looks quite ten years younger. His eyes are of a light blue, his hair crisp and thick, his expression of the pleasantest and cheeriest description. In short, he is the last man, to judge from appearances, whom one would suspect of writing serious plays or, as he himself describes them, stage sermons.

After four hours' work we all adjourned for lunch to the big room beneath the vaulted dome, where Tree is wont to entertain his friends. There the conversation ranged over many points. Brieux only speaks half a dozen words of English, but in his own language he is particularly fluent and emphatic. In his early days he was something of an anarchist and his opinions, social and political, are still rather revolutionary. He considers the theater quite as good a platform as even if not better than, the pulpit or the enunciation of contro- In discussing the censorship, which versial ideas. Many of his are, I need hardly say, terribly advanced. at the present moment is the principal subject of debate in London theatrical circles, the name of Bernard Shaw cropped up.

"When Shaw stands on his head," declared Tree, "to win the applause of the English public, I can just tolerate him for five minutes. After that his performance begins to weary me." I am bound to say there are many who share Tree's views in this relation.

By the bye, I noticed there has been a vast amount of paragraphing in American papers to the effect that Tree has settled to visit the United States early next year under the direction of W. A. Brady. It may be remembered that in a previous letter I gave the real facts of Brady's negotiations for Cyril Maude's theater, the Playhouse, which it was asserted he had secured for the appearance of his wife, Grace George, in the autumn of 1910. There is just about as much foundation for the statement that he has secured Tree for America. Certainly the matter was broached in conversation between the two, but it never got beyond the stage of a casual chat, and Tree himself assures me it is in the highest degree improbable he will cross the Atlantic for a long time to come.

Tonight the incomparable Genee says "good-by," or rather "au revoir," to her innumerable admirers in this country. Her brief stay at the Empire has resulted in crowded houses, although the phenomenally hot weather during the past week has served, just a little perhaps, to cool their enthusiasm. Still, the big house is sure to be thronged to overflowing this evening and there will be all sorts of vocal and floral manifestations of the esteem in which our première dansuese is held. Walter Dickson, managing director of the Empire, has arranged to give her a send-off dinner at the Cafe Royal on the 23d inst. and you may be sure the company invited to meet her will be of a most distinguished and representative kind.

From George Edwardes I have just received an advance copy of the Gaiety Theater balance-sheet for the past twelvemonth. The year has been quite exceptionally prosperous and the shareholders have the best possible reasons for congratulating themselves upon the results obtained. A 20 per cent. dividend is declared, £35,000 set aside as a reserve fund, while the balance carried forward amounts to just on £35,000. Another satisfactory feature is that the present attraction, "Our Miss Gibbs," remains as popular as ever and I should not be in the least surprised if it retained its place in the bill not merely until the end of this, but well into the middle of next year.

By way of postscript I may add that Mrs. Patrick Campbell has just been engaged by Tree for the production of His Majesty's. She is to play the part of Mieris, a blind woman, for which Miss Mona Lemerick was at one time chosen. When first approached Mrs. Campbell demanded such conditions in the matter of starring her name and so forth that all hopes of securing her had to be abandoned. Happily, she has, to some extent at any rate, now seen the error of her ways and so qualified herself to become a member of Tree's company.

Will Gowns, This Winter, Be Hipless?

Where will the waist line be—what will be the much-worn materials and colors—will skirts be scant or full—all this, and the full trend of the styles, is most interestingly told in the Fashion Forecast from Paris in the October Paris Modes.

An Athlete at Three

Mrs. S. C. Jackson—a woman of original ideas in the rearing of children—tells in this number "How I Made My Baby Strong." This article breathes a wholesomeness of the big outdoors and the simple life which carries its own conviction.

An Architect's Views on Women's Clothes

It would be a brave bricklayer who'd attempt to describe a bodice—or a foolhardy carpenter to try to hang a petticoat—yet here a mere man professes to have solved the problem of "Why is a Directoire Gown."

Traveling Around the World in a Rocking Chair

Do you enjoy journeys in your imagination? Here's a bit of sunny going that will carry you momentarily away from pots and pans and the servant question and drop you down in one of those charming old spots of medieval Italy. The Siena Patio—by Cara Van Cott Burch.

Are There Any Perfect Husbands

No husband is a hero in his own home—but your neighbor has one.

That's the opinion in some homes. Plain Mary Brown finds it difficult to commend even her neighbors on their selection. "Husbands I'm glad I didn't marry" isn't prying. She sees what every women sees.

Joan of Arc Comes Into Her Own

Never has there been a pageant more impressively beautiful than that for the peasant Maid of Orleans just canonized in the great St. Peter's Cathedral, Rome.

Never has her life been portrayed with such charming characterization as that rendered by Maud Adams in the Stadium Amphitheatre at Harvard. Mary Hoffman Spencer gives a vivid description of these two memorable scenes.

You will find the October "Paris Modes" an interesting addition to your reading table. The stories are clever and well told. There are some novel amusements for the children Hallowe'en stunts that will keep old and young folks hilarious with the fun of them. These and many other features make a bookful that is a treat.

Don't miss this list of good things.

Club Woman Dies.

Friends in this city have been informed by cable of the death of Mrs. Alfred A. Ackerman, at Marlow-on-the-Thames. She was a charter member of the Friday Morning Club, and lived for a number of years in St. James Park, this city.

Bruised by Automobile.

J. C. Popple, No. 287 India street, Pasadena, was severely bruised yesterday when knocked down by an automobile driven by G. H. Reed, of No. 612 San Pedro street. The accident occurred at Fifth and Spring streets. The police attach no blame to the driver of the machine.

Make Small Hauls.

J. A. MacLeod, No. 648 East Twenty-ninth street; A. Cramer, No. 2513 San Pedro street, and J. M. Tanzi, No. 782 Alpine street, reported to the police yesterday that thieves visited them Monday night. Small amounts of money and jewelry of little value were taken at each place.

Improvement Associations.

The Federated Improvement Associations will meet tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce, when an address will be delivered by William M. Bowen. A report will also be made by the committee having in hand the scheme for the improvement of the Los Angeles River.

See Wheels Go 'Round.

Richard Aspberry and Thomas Thurman, boys, were arrested yesterday for turning in false fire alarms. They are said to have pulled the box at First street and Burlington avenue twice to see the engine go speeding down the street. They were placed in the Detention Home and will be arraigned in the Juvenile Court.

Precinct Meeting

The Twenty-first Precinct Republican Club met at No. 536 Sunset boulevard last night and indorsed George A. Smith for Mayor and Dr. F. A. Austin for Councilman-at-Large. About a hundred members were present. The officers of the club are Dr. F. A. Austin, president, and I. Finkenstein, secretary.

Y.M.I. Ladies' Night.

Los Angeles Council of the Young Men's Institute will hold its first "ladies' night" tomorrow evening. The new club rooms, on the sixth floor of the Exchange building, will be thrown open for the visitors, and a programme of music will be given. The same council is planning an entertainment on larger scale to be given at Cumnock Hall early next month.

Doheny Sends Relief Check.

E. L. Doheny of Los Angeles, president of the American and Mexican Petroleum companies, was one of the first to respond to the call from Consul-General Hanna of Monterey for aid for the flood sufferers. Mr. Doheny sent a check for $3000 to Manuel Calero, in charge of the relief fund distribution, to be used for immediate relief of the helpless and homeless.

Y.M.C.A. Anniversary.

The first anniversary of the occupancy of the new building of the Y.M.C.A. will be celebrated today. Open house will be kept from 10 o'clock this morning until 11 o'clock tonight and the public has a cordial invitation to visit the building. There will be plenty of entertainment at all hours, with service of refreshment at various times during the day. In the evening an attractive programme will be given in the auditorium.

Time on Burbank Extension.

The proposition of raising the necessary bonus for the extension of the Pacific Electric line from Casa Verdugo to Burbank would have expired today, but yesterday the time was continued to September 15, on account of the sickness of one of the principal workers, and the absence of land owners who would be greatly benefited by the trolley line, and are expected to contribute their share. Subscribers are bound until February 1, 1910.

N. E. CORNER BROADWAY AND NINTH

The new purchasers, The Times-Mirror Company, contemplate the early erection of a handsome one-story building on the premises, the Broadway front to be leased for stores or other business uses, and the remainder, about 65x97 feet, to be arranged for some special purpose. The owners offer to build to suit the particular requirements of long-term tenants, and may be communicated with by prospective lessees.

WORK IS HIS CURE.

Doctor Will Set the Hardest Kind of Tasks for His Consumptive Patients.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Following an inspection of sanitariums in Switzerland and England, Dr. H. M. Biggs, chief medical adviser to the Department of Health, has planned a vigorous and perhaps sensational course of treatment for the city's consumptive patients.

Heretofore the course of treatment has been limited to plenty of fresh air and lots of nourishment. But now the patients will have to go to work and the harder the work, the more certain, it is believed, will be their cure. The hospital at Otisville is in need of an addition, and the men patients will be put to work as hod carriers and brick masons, being compelled to labor as long and hard as possible. Women patients must also do manual labor of the hardest kind, plowing if able, and all other kinds of agricultural work. They also will be asked to do the carpentering work on the new structure at Otisville. Hereafter all patients must sleep out of doors, even if the temperature is 10 degs. below zero.

STATE'S APPRAISERS ON THE FIRING LINE.

Closing Session of Board of Equalization Sensational, With Denunciation of Methods Used to Reach Local Values of Real Property.

APPRAISEMENTS under orders of the State Board of Equalization were denounced by real estate dealers and County Assessor Hopkins at the meeting of the board yesterday, while one of the appraisers in a sensational affidavit rejected his compromise figures.

Strong words were spoken by county and State officers regarding valuations in Los Angeles county, while members of the State Board joined in acrimonious debate.

Appraisers Varcoe and Harpham were grilled by members of the Los Angeles Realty Board present, and the County Assessor spoke plainly to the State Equalizers.

Some instances of State appraisements show them to be almost twice as much as the property involved is held for sale by the owners, all of which was pointed out to members of the board.

According to the present assessment by the State, Los Angeles county must pay 21 per cent. of the entire States taxes. The poll tax for the county is as large as that of any other five counties in the State.

Los Angeles' assessed valuations have increased over $255,000,000 in seven years, while San Francisco valuations have decreased $53,000,000, as was reported to the board.

Los Angeles realty men, who take pride in their city and who are equally proud of the manner in which the business men of the municipality pay their way, and stand not upon the number of "plunks" called for, failed to take kindly to the imputation that they are trying to dodge State taxes.

The State Board of Equalization, in an effort to show that the County Assessor had not valued properties at their full worth, appointed W. A. Varcoe, Elmer Harpham and Henry Hart to appraise a number of pieces of real estate for comparison. They also asked the Los Angeles Realty Board to submit figures on the same properties.

When they got the figures from their three appraisers, they were so at variance, and so much above those of the Realty Board, that the sought and secured a compromise between the three appraisers. The representatives of the Realty board were angered at this, because the figures of Hart, who is appraiser for the Security Savings Bank, were lowest of the three, and were close to those of the Realty Board.

Mr. Hart is sick and could not attend the meeting of the Board of Equalization yesterday, and the first sensation was sprung by W. M. Garland, who, after telling the members that they seemed anxious to accept the figures of inexperienced men who knew nothing whatever of the values of business property, while paying no attention to the just appraisement of the Realty Board, read the following affidavit from Henry Hart, having secured it during the noon recess:

PRACTICAL REVOCATION.

"I hereby, of my own free will and choice, do affirm and maintain that the first figures in my appraisement of the present market value of the several properties submitted to me by the State Board of Equalization, all such properties being situate in the city and county of Los Angeles, are as near true and correct, in my own opinion, as it is possible for me to render, and are made and based upon a thorough knowledge as a bank appraiser of such properties in Los Angeles county for twenty years, and further, that any compromise or raise in those figures was prompted solely by an earnest request from the members of the State Board of Equalization in the parlor of the Hollenbeck Hotel the evening of Friday, August 27, at 8 o'clock, that I compromise, get

SAVED BY A LAUGH.

Curious to See What Baby Is Pleased With Mother Finds House on Fire.

The fact that the infant son of Mrs. H. Jilson, who lived in a little cottage in the rear of No. 1112 East Eleventh street, was delighted and laughed when he had set fire to his mother's home yesterday, saved him from being cremated.

Mrs. Jilson was in another room and heard the childish laughter. She wondered what amused him so much and went to see. She found the child clapping his hands at the flames which surrounded him. She picked up the baby and ran out of the house. The building was destroyed, entailing a loss of $250.

Mrs. Jilson says the child had obtained a box of matches and in playing with them ignited the lucifers.

CHANGE THEIR MINDS.

Those Who Originally Wanted Lighting District in South Hollywood, Vote Against It.

Two in favor of and sixty-eight against the establishment of a lighting district is the result of the special election held in South Hollywood yesterday.

A peculiar feature of the election was that every one who petitioned the Supervisors to call it, voted against the proposed district. The reason for this was twofold. Those who originally wanted the district changed their minds because the Supervisors deferred action on the petition so long that even if the measure had carried, the appropriation could not have been made for another year, and in the interim the district expected to be annexed to Los Angeles.

Again, the signers of the petition wanted lights on Santa Monica avenue only. Subsequently they learned that twenty-five petitioners might get lights in any other part of the district.

EXPLANATIONS.

ON RACK OF INQUISITION.

Broadhead and Harper Reply to Examiners.

Ex-Chief of Police Denies Receiving Bribes.

Former Mayor Weeps on the Witness Stand.

Thomas H. Broadhead, ex-Chief of Police, defendant in the bribery case which has occupied the attention of a judge and jury in Department Twelve of the Superior Court for the past month, went on the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday afternoon. He denied having ever received any money from Oswald, and accounted for the money he had paid to the land company for a ranch near Corcoran.

When the cross-examination is completed today, it is possible that additional testimony may be introduced by Dr. S. J. Quint, who is said to have loaned the defendant $1500 on the day the Commercial-street "cribs" were finally closed, August 20, 1908.

Broadhead made a much better witness than A. C. Harper, who wept as he testified yesterday, in regard to his reasons for resigning his position as Mayor. Mrs. Broadhead was in attendance at the afternoon session and was an interested spectator of the proceedings.

After briefly referring to his life as a Kansas farmer boy, Broadhead told of securing a place on the police force, and mentioned his various promotions.

IS STILL CAPTAIN.

"What is your position at the present time?" inquired Attorney Appel.

"I am still captain of police," said the defendant with some emphasis.

The attorney then took up the various bits of testimony given by Nick Oswald, in which the defendant's name was connected with the alleged graft conspiracy. Broadhead denied that he ever met Oswald at the Police Station on any occasion when Harper or Ed Kern were present.

"Did Oswald meet you in front of the City Jail and tell you he was about to open the Ballerino cribs?"

"He did not."

"During May, 1908, did you work days or nights?"

"I worked nights up to the time Chief Kern went east; from then on I was on duty days, until Capt. Auble returned from his vacation."

"Did you have any conversation with Oswald before the chief want away, in which Oswald told you he would pay you any money?"

"No, sir, I never did."

DENIES RECEIVING MONEY.

"Did he ever t—" you he would pay you so much a week; was there any such a conversation?"

"There was no such conversation."

"And did Oswald come to the Police Station the following Monday to pay you $250 in gold?"

"No, sir. He never paid me a dollar in his life."

The witness was asked about his deal with the Security Land and Loan Company for the purchase of a ranch in Kern county. He said he bought 240 acres about March, 1907, and paid $2500 when the agreement of sale was signed. According to the terms, $500 was to be paid each year until the full purchase price, $6000, and interest was paid.

The witness said he mortgaged his house for the first payment of $2500, and borrowed $500 from F. S. Bisset, his brother-in-law, in order to make the next payment in March, 1908.

"About August 31, 1908, you made another payment of $1500, did you not?"

"Yes, sir. I borrowed $1500 from Dr. S. J. Quint. I gave him a note as security."

"When did you pay this note?"

"A short time after the note became due. I paid it by giving a cashier's check for $1600, August 24, 1909."

MONEY FOR RANCH.

The witness stated that Dr. Quint came into his office at the Police Station August 20, 1908, and paid him the $1500, as the result of a talk the night before. Four hundred dollars was in gold and the rest in greenbacks, said the defendant.

He said Alex. Aikman, a saloonkeeper on East First street, came into the office a little later, and that he asked his visitor to give him a check for the $400 in gold.

"I put the check in an envelope with the $1100 in currency," continued the witness, "and went to my safe de-

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS.

CHILDREN WILL GIVE PRESIDENT WELCOME.

THE programme for the entertainment of President Taft during his visit to Los Angeles was decided upon last night, at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Southern Pacific train bearing the President from the Yosemite Valley is scheduled to arrive at 7:30 a.m., October 11. At Arcade station a committee of not less than fifty members of the chamber will be on hand to receive him. After an exchange of greetings, he will enter an open carriage, drawn by four horses. Troop D, N.G.C., will act as escort. The Chief Executive will be driven slowly through the streets of the downtown district and then to a number of the public schools. The children will be grouped in front of each building and will probably make a brilliant display of colors with flags and Japanese umbrellas.

"It is the desire of the members of the committee that as many school children as possible shall see the President. It means a great deal more to them than it does to most grown-ups and it is an occasion which they will never forget as long as they live," said President Willis H. Booth of the Chamber of Commerce, last night.

The distinguished visitor will be taken to the harbor on a special car and all that has been done and projected will be explained by Lieut. Leeds, Corps of Engineers, U.S.A.

From the harbor, the President will go in a launch to Long Beach, where he will be the guest of the Los Angeles committee at luncheon at the Hotel Virginia. After the luncheon, the party will board a special Pacific Electric car and return to Los Angeles.

An automobile will be in waiting here and the guest will be driven through many streets of the fashionable residence quarters, again through the business district and then to the home of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Edwards, of No. 2800 West Adams street. He will remain there until 8 o'clock, when he will be driven to the Shrine Auditorium, where there will be a banquet. Seven hundred citizens will be invited to the feast and it is planned to admit 2000 spectators to the gallery.

After the banquet the President will spend the night at the home of Mrs. Edwards.

On the morning of the 12th, Mr. Taft will be taken in an auto to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. He will remain there half an hour and then will go to Pasadena, where he will be entertained at luncheon, probably by the Board of Trade.

At 2:30 p.m. he will leave Pasadena on a special train for the citrus belt. Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino and Colton will be visited.

At Colton he will make connection with a regular train and go to Phoenix, Ariz.

A meeting of the local Committee on entertainment will be held today and a number of subcommittees appointed.

GUARDSMEN'S NEEDS.

PUT NO DANCING HALL IN CALL.

MILITIA OFFICERS DISCUSS ARMORY PLANS.

Features Which They Agree Are Needed Embodied in a Statement Forwarded to Sacramento—State Architect Is to "Draw a Building Around Them."

Gen. Wankowski called a meeting of militia officers, which was held yesterday, to consider plans for the new armory to be built by the State at Agricultural Park.

It was decided with scorn to sacrifice the dancing feature of National Guard life for strictly military duty. It is possible that the drill hall, which from time immemorial has served militiamen as a ballroom, will not have a floor at all. In the interests of economy, the companies will very likely drill on plain dirt.

The plans, as agreed upon yesterday, were forwarded last night to Sacramento, where the State architect will draw a building around them.

The principal features agreed upon as necessary for an armory are:

That, in view of the rapid growth of Los Angeles, there shall be quarters provided for at least four companies more than at present exist.

That there shall be a drill hall at least 200x300 feet, preferably on the ground floor. As the appropriation for the armory building was somewhat scanty, this drill hall need not necessarily have a floor.

That there shall be an indoor rifle range, company parlors and locker rooms for each company and headquarters for the brigade and regimental staffs.

If possible, a swimming tank.

The rifle range will only be suitable for rifles of very small caliber.

The plan calls for one practical innovation; an armory kitchen where the men can be provided with meals when sleeping "under arms," as they have more than once in times of public danger.

"We did not try to arrange these plans in the form of a building. We did not even indicate how many stories high we wanted it. We are leaving that to the architect," said Gen. Wankowski. "We merely indicated what features should be included to meet our needs.

"We have not included any social features. If the men want to give dances they can hire halls. Giving dances is not our job."

FEVERISH.

DEMOCRATS TOSS IN BED OF PAIN.

STRICKEN BY RUMOR THAT HAT IS TO BE PASSED.

Bryan's Supporters No Longer Rest Secure in Knowledge That Court Has Ordered Norton to Pay for "Ratification" Brass Bands—Other Bills for Premature Joy.

A fresh shudder trickled down the spinal columns of local Democrats, yesterday, when it was announced that the unpaid bills for the premature "ratification" of the election of Willyum Jennings Bryan now amount to $800. More bills are on the way.

The only trouble with this "ratification" was that Bryan wasn't elected and the Democrats incautiously neglected to find out who was to pay the bills for the enthusiasm.

Democrats never bother about these mercenary details. When they decided that Bryan was to be President, they didn't bother about the votes; they just went ahead and ratified—they engaged four union bands and a hall for oratory and waved aside vulgar financial details.

Until yesterday they were resting secure in the knowledge that the court had assessed the bill for the bands against that peerless young leader, Albert M. Norton, on the ground that he was the only Democrat that could be found.

Norton had declared his intention of appealing the case, "on principle," to a higher court and "fighting to the bitter end." Other Democrats were urging him complacently to go ahead and fight the bills and the band, and to die for principle, if necessary.

Yesterday, however, it became known that Norton had not filed his appeal. The terrible rumor was that the hat was to be passed to all the Democrats.

One of the most prominent and most alarmed supporters of Bryan, when interviewed, said:

"Gee, we are not going to pay for the band! The court said Norton has to pay. The court ought to know. Norton is a man of means; he can stand it. Anyhow, he was secretary of the Central Committee and he hired the bands. I didn't hire any bands. They were bum bands, anyhow. You bet I'm not going to pay for any ratification of a man who wasn't elected—even Bryan."

Mr. Norton's attitude was one of intense indignation.

"If paying the four brass bands were all," he said. "But that was just the beginning. Bills have been steadily pouring in. The last time I had the nerve to count, they amounted to more than $800.

"I don't know what to do. I sup-

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The recall Health Board united against Dr. Sherwin Gibbons yesterday, even the Mayor abandoning the heavy member.

Threats were uttered against a negro janitor in Justice Frederickson's court yesterday when he admitted he had attempted to induce a white girl to go with him "for a good time."

Justice Frederickson released an ice man, who had driven on a newly paved street to deliver the frozen water to sweltering customers, because of the relief resulting from the infraction of the law.

HEALTH BOARD HAS BREACH.

AJAX GIBBONS FACES A NEW SOLID FOUR ALONE.

Mayor Casts His Lot With the Insurgents, and the Strenuous Doctor Is Left Solitary in Antagonizing Nurses Commission — Chambers Evades Committee Duty.

The Ajax of the recall administration, Dr. Sherwin Gibbons, who has not quailed before a "solid three" against him on the Board of Health, did quail just a little yesterday when Uncle Aleck, with frigidity, joined the other members, and made it a "solid four."

The ante-climax scene found Dr. Gibbons glaring at the others, Uncle Aleck looking down his nose, Dr. Chambers staring at the table in front of him with stiff-necked rigidity, and Dr. Clarke calmly smoking at the side of Dr. Gibbons. Prof. Stabler was not there.

Ajax quailed when the question of indorsing the District Nursing Commission came up. Everybody seemed to be irritated when the clerk read the ordinance which the board ordered prepared while Ajax was in Bear Valley in primitive living. Dr. Gibbons intimated that it would be absurd for a commission of five to be named to handle five trained nurses and that such a proceeding was violating the charter, and was disapproved by the Los Angeles County Medical Society and the Anti-Tuberculosis League.

"A majority of this board disagrees with them," said Uncle Aleck, tartly.

Ajax didn't exactly gasp, but he winced at this, for he has believed the Mayor was with him. The discussion that followed was hot. Gibbons was alone in opposition and several times interrupted other members.

"I object to being interrupted," said Dr. Clarke, firmly.

Uncle Aleck beat his knuckles on the table.

Health Officer Powers objected to the ordinance because it gave the new commission regulation of all nursing and dispensaries. When he made this clear the other members (other pot including Ajax) voted to have the City Attorney change the scope provided, and Dr. Clarke was made the committee to attend to this.

Dr. Gibbons believes the Health Board should supervise the district nursing. If it doesn't, it will be because he doesn't fight for it. And if he doesn't succeed in the Health Board he will appeal to the Council, which must pass the ordinance. And if he does this, will Uncle Aleck hurl a thunderbolt at the impetuous recall member? Uncle Aleck was rather hot under the collar yesterday in spite of the fact that Dr. Gibbons is vice-president of the G.O.O.

But he was hotter when he found that the feeling of Dr. Chambers was such that he would not serve on a committee with Dr. Gibbons. The milk situation was brought up by the latter, who said he did not doubt but that the count of bacteria and other nice work in the laboratory was developing plenty of statistics, but he did not see where anything practical was being done to improve the quality of milk.

"If we can't make any progress with this method," said he, "for heaven's sake let's try something that will."

"What would you suggest?" said Uncle Aleck, icily, in spite of his torrid collar.

"A conference with the milk men and the Los Angeles County Medical Society."

This did not enthuse the others. Dr. Clarke suggested that the holders of permits be brought in for a heart-to-heart talk. Clammy silence followed. Uncle Aleck looked solemnly at Milk Inspector Hood.

He rose like a blessing and reported that the Pacific Electric Railroad had put in milk loading stations along the Santa Ana line, and that he needed two new tires for his motorcycle.

These important matters were discussed with some geniality until Dr. Gibbons alluded again to the uselessness of the Health Department in bringing up the milk standard. It was suggested that the transportation companies could help a whole lot by adding refrigerator cars, and a committee of three was authorized to visit the railroad officials.

Uncle Aleck blinked once or twice, decided to be a Solomon, and named Health Officer Powers, Dr. Gibbons and Dr. Chambers as the committee.

"I wish to be excused from THAT committee," said Dr. Chambers.

"Then I'll name Dr. Clarke," said the Mayor quickly.

"Oh, Dr. Chambers, you must serve; I insist," said Dr. Clarke.

"I will not."

After this the recall Board of Health left the building singly, Dr. Chambers hurrying out ahead of the others.

And Uncle Aleck seemed in a real peeve, too.

HELPS PITZEL.

BOARD WORSTS BREWERY.

Because today is September 1, Fred Kroeger, who has held the permit for the saloon at No. 301 East First street, is without it and Dan Pitzel, the proprietor, has it. The Police Commission met in special session last night to hear what Kroeger had to say as to why his permit should not be revoked. At Monday night's session the hearing was continued until next Tuesday, but the commission afterwards changed its hearing when it found that if action was not taken before September 1 Pitzel might lose his business because of inability to hold a permit.

The saloon has been owned by Pitzel under various brewery contracts and obligations for nine years. For five years Kroeger, an employé of the Maier brewery, held the permit, but did not own the place. Two weeks ago Pitzel applied for the permit in his own name and this necessarily required the revocation of Kroeger's permit.

If Kroeger had nothing to do with the saloon more than to hold the permit, Pitzel, the owner, was violating the law and must be closed at once. If he was unable to conduct the business he forfeited his lease, under its terms, to the brewery. In such a dilemma the commission, after a hearing, revoked Kroeger's permit and granted it to Pitzel.

The hearing developed that Pitzel is paying $60 a month bonus to the brewery for the permit in Kroeger's name, and in addition is paying $10 a barrel for beer. He once sold this saloon to the brewery for $12,500, but bought it back for $8000. Now he owes the brewery $6000 under a contract.

WORK FOR NOTHING.

MONTE VISTA-STREET DRAIN.

By abandoning proceedings for the construction of a storm drain on Monte Vista street yesterday, the Council abruptly brushed aside work that had cost the city nearly $1000. By a similar decision last week in the case of Dayton avenue, the Council made useless work that had cost nearly as much. And no acts of the Council have so seriously offended the Board of Public Works and the City Engineer.

The Council has a habit of answering every petition that is filed with it by a reference to the City Engineer, and an order to prepare plans. This means that the engineering force must perform, in cases like Dayton avenue and the Monte Vista-street drain, a large amount of special work, and the cost usually runs into the hundreds. In the case of the storm drain, the district had been posted, and the action of the Council was based on a protest filed with it by property owners representing 58,853 feet frontage, which was 3000 feet less than a majority of the whole district.

A crowd of protestants filled the Council chamber, and the members seemed more influenced by numbers than by engineering necessities. The drain was intended to receive and dispose of a large area, and was the beginning of a general plan to relieve the city of storm water by such means. Abandonment of proceedings mean that not only the money invested in the work, but also months of progress in the preliminary steps were wasted. And in disposing of it the Council did not ask for the advice of the Board of Public Works, which has believed it to be one of the most needed improvements in that section.

Taking it as a text yesterday, officials of the engineer's department declared that it was utter disregard for the effectiveness of the engineer's force if work is ordered of that character and then abandoned so hastily. It is assumed that when the Council undertakes such an improvement it has exercised its discretion, and intends to complete it, unless stopped by the operation of law. In this case the protest, even if a majority, would not require the abandonment of proceedings. It is likely the Board of Public Works will try to find a way to have the action reconsidered.

NEW COMMISSION.

TO HANDLE DOG POUND.

The Mayor named his Humane Animal Commission yesterday. It would not have been confirmed by the Council if Clampitt had not changed his mind. The Chief Executive picked Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company; Walter A. Schmidt, a chemical engineer, and Francis G. Haley, retired real estate man, as the commissioners. He announced that he had carefully avoided selecting any one involved in the old factions over the dog pound, or who had been indorsed by either faction. When the Council received the names Healy objected to confirmation at this time and the first vote showed a lack of a majority, but Clampitt changed his mind and made the majority. If the commission had not been confirmed a number of employés of the Humane Animal League would have brought attachment suits against the pound property for wages.

The first duty of the new commission will be to find out if it can get the pound back from the Humane Animal League. The organization has a contract with the city running until November. The faction opposing the league has tied up all the license money due the league in court. If the league will surrender its contract the situation may be cleared at once and all debts paid.

Vaccination Days.

This is the day when school vaccination begins, and for the convenience of those who expect to send children to school on the 13th inst. the Board of Health will be prepared this morning and for the remainder of the week to administer the virus to all who apply at the office in the City Hall. Vaccination is required before children may be admitted to the schools.

Adams-Street Pavement.

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for the improvement of Adams street, from Vermont avenue to the west city limits, to the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company. The price is $96,901.20 for a distance of 3960 feet. The roadway is to be of asphalt, sixty feet, and is one of the principal improvements of the year.

Consolidation Branches.

Ordinances were passed yesterday making the City Halls and jails at San Pedro and Wilmington branches of the main hall and jail and also fixing the fire limits of San Pedro. These limits are the same as before except that both sides of Sixth street are included.

Bears, Not Lions.

Grizzly bears, not lions, will ornament the abutment pillars of the Buena Vista-street bridge. Councilman Lyon introduced the resolution yesterday that did the work because, as he explained, the Native Sons believe the California bear should be the proper statuary. The resolution was passed unanimously and the City Engineer says it is a good change, and will be made at once.

Council at Pesce.

With a big patrolman at the entrance to the floor of the Council chamber yesterday, and all other means of access locked, the city legislators were able to pursue their duties without the usual interruption. But most of the members were not used to the new arrangement and forgot themselves, and several were called down by the president for infractions. No one was admitted inside the railing except protestants or those having business with the Council, and the quiet and progress were regarded as remarkable. President Pease says he will insist on the observance of the new custom at all meetings in the future.

For Poor Widows.

Mayor Alexander asked the Council yesterday to amend the license ordinance so that persons whose gross income from serving meals or keeping boarders is less than $200 a quarter should be exempt from license. He said there were many widows in factory districts who were burdened by the license requirement. The recommendation was referred to the City Attorney for ordinance.

Wants Higher Rate.

If the Council makes a new contract with S. McClure for garbage wagons temporarily during the months that must elapse before the new contract goes into effect, it must pay a premium. McClure has been receiving $40 monthly for thirty wagons. He notified the Council that he must have $50 or discontinue the contract. This was referred to the Board of Public Works.

City Hall Brevities.

The Council has directed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance granting the application of M. H. Hellman for a spur rack on Commercial street and other streets.

The recommendation of the Police Commission that the wholesale liquor permit ordinance be amended so that groceries could not receive permits was postponed until September 23 by the Council yesterday.

The protest against the improvement of Union avenue from Eleventh to Washington streets, was denied by the Council yesterday.

Councilman Wren received a three weeks' leave of absence yesterday, which he will divide between his home in the city, his ranch and San Francisco.

A request from Building Inspector Backus that his salary be increased $50 a month was not warmly received by the Council yesterday and went over until September 23 for further discussion.

MEN OF AFFAIRS IN LOS ANGELES.

Frank C. Collier, attorney.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

DEBT ADMITTED BY PROMOTER.

JUDGMENT IS CONFESSED BY PRISONER.

Defendant in County Jail on Charge of Fraud in Connection With Alaska Mine Proposition Acknowledges Validity of Claim Made by Alleged Victims.

Lionel R. Hare, an Alaska mine promoter, who has been in the County Jail since June 18, confessed judgment in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday to the amount of $82,500. This is in full the sum charged in the complaint filed against him on the day of his arrest.

The accusation against Hare was fraud and deceit in connection with an Alaska mine proposition. Upon his failure to give $50,000 bond he was committed to jail. He has been there ever since.

Yesterday his attorneys, Davis and Rush, stated in open court that their client could not possibly give the bond and the validity of the claim against him was confessed. The entry on the clerk's books, reads: "It is ordered that the defendant have leave to withdraw his demurrer, and that the plaintiff prepare a judgment as prayed for upon filing a stipulation on the part of the defendant's counsel that the facts set forth in the complaint may be taken as proven and deemed to be true."

Attorney Davis, on the part of Hare, stated after the entry was made that his client had turned over all of his property in the action against him, and that it was hoped to secure enough money to pay the claim. He had hopes also of being able to get Hare out of the County Jail in a short time.

The plaintiff in the case at bar is F. E. Powers, but there are about a half dozen others, who allege that they have been victimized by the tricks of Hare. At the time of his arrest, Hare was living at Pasadena.

The suit prepared by Stoney, Rouleau & Stoney, J. C. McKinstry, Orville C. Pratt, Jr., and Roy V. Reppy of San Francisco, was the result of mining speculations indulged in by Hare and covering a period of more than three years. He visited New York in 1905, met a number of well-known business men and interested them in a mining proposition located on the Kougarock River, Seward Peninsula, Alaska. It is alleged on the part of those who invested their money, that John D. Barrett lost $3000; William R. Coe, a son-in-law of the late H. H. Rogers, $10,000, and Herbert Appleton, William Brockie Douglas F. Cox, James B. Dickson and William H. Davidge, various amounts. They are the complaining witnesses, with Powers, who purchased the claim of John A. H. Hopkins.

It was charged that Hare sold to the purchasers six claims at $5000 each, and that he went to Alaska with orders to work them. He returned with $2000, which he said had been taken out of the claims in a short time. It was afterward shown that not a cent had been taken out of the ground, but that the money was paid over to the six by Hare, with a view to securing more money from them, and in this he was successful. After this showing Hare sold other claims to the New Yorkers, and secured about $70,000, it is said.

Then came an investigation and the discovery that the whole thing was a sham; that the properties were not located as described; and that Hare had turned back a part of the money secured merely as a "bait."

RUNS FOR MAYOR.

FORMER CHEF COMMITTED.

A broken-down English chef, who in his prime had quite a reputation as a caterer, was examined on an insanity charge in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday and was ordered committed to Patton. In earlier days he was employed by some of the best families of London. He had the documents to prove his claims.

He gave the name of J. P. Waller. For some time he has been an object of care on the part of the Episcopalian people of Los Angeles. His mental idiosyncrasy was that he was a candidate for Mayor. He said he had been asked by the voters in the Second Ward to stand as a candidate for the City Council, but that he had made up his mind to run for Mayor. When taken to the County Hospital he insisted upon going around and getting signatures to an imaginary petition asking him to allow the use of his name.

Waller, although mentally weak, gave evidence of good breeding. No more polite patient was ever in the courtroom. He spent much of his time before his arrest carrying flowers, that he raised in his own garden, around to the various public offices in the city. Asked why he did it, he straightened up and exclaimed:

"If it pleases your honor, it was because I have always believed that it is better to give my fellow-man flowers while he lives rather than to wait until he is dead."

And the remark was so trite and so well put that those who heard it wondered whether Waller was so insane after all. But the court and commission decided against him, and Waller acquiesced in the judgment rendered. Waller is 70 years old.

RYAN PLEADS.

TRIAL TO BE SET TODAY.

Albert Ryan, charged with a double murder at the United States Hotel July 16, pleaded not guilty yesterday. The date of the trial will be fixed by the court today. It is alleged that Ryan killed Harry Snyder and Otto Miller.

Leon C. Posey, charged with forgery, will plead today.

Harry Gensenleiter, charged with having stolen twenty cowhides from Mrs. Thowstan at Newhall, pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

The two remaining cases against George Thompson, the "actor-burglar" who left last night for the North to begin a term at San Quentin, will be disposed of Saturday morning. It is more than probable that the informations will be dismissed.

R. G. Hensley pleaded guilty to disposing of a forged check for $7.50 on the First National Bank at Covina, June 11. He will be up for judgment tomorrow morning.

PAY FINES.

PENALTIES FOR CONTEMPT.

Another scene from the Bottiler case was put on the stage in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. The action charging contempt of court against Joseph Reyes, Francisco Reyes, his wife, and Oscar Chavez, was disposed of, fines of $100 each being levied on each of the defendants. It is probable that the trinity would have been sent to jail, but for the fact that Mrs. Reyes is in a delicate condition.

It was intended that the cases should be taken up to the District Court of Appeal on the question of jurisdiction, but the plan was spoiled by Joseph Reyes and his wife voluntarily paying the amount of the fine to the clerk of the court without any stipulation. As to whether a writ of certiorari will be employed in the higher court as to Chavez, is uncertain, for he sent out to a friend and soon had the money in the hands of the court official. He, too, neglected to accompany the payment with the declaration that it was given under protest. The money used by Reyes and his wife to settle the fine was a part of the $500 cash bail paid over to the County Clerk about a month ago, when they gave a bond for their appearance to answer the charge of contempt.

In passing upon the case, Judge Wilbur took occasion to remark that in his opinion the statute fixing the limit to which a court may go in passing judgment in contempt cases, is unconstitutional, and that the effort of the Legislature to curtail the powers of the court in this regard is clearly wrong. The court said that it is time for a proper regard for the courts to be emphasized, not to the individual members of the court, but to the order of rule of law.

The defendants, he said, had been clearly guilty of contempt in frightening and intimidating little Rafella Bottiller, and he had in mind at one time that he would give each of the accused the full limit of the law, which is a fine of $500 and a jail sentence. Witnesses, he said, must be protected in giving testimony before the courts, and the present occasion was just the time to enforce that view.

The complaint against Oscar Chavez, charging perjury, as requested by Judge Wilbur, has been prepared by the District Attorney, and will be filed today. Chavez is now at liberty, having furnished $3000 bail.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

SAWTELLE MAN EXAMINED.

Ernest Grinton, whose case has been before the Lunacy Commission in one form or another the past month, was adjudged insane by Judge Wilbur and a commission yesterday, and he was ordered sent to the State Hospital at Patton.

The principal witness against the accused was his father, James C. Grinton, who alleged that on two occasions the son had tried to administer strychnine poison to him, once in his coffee and the second time by placing the stuff in his butter.

Grinton admitted that he had purchased strychnine about the time of the offense charged, but said that he had secured it to kill skunks about a mining property in the northern part of the State. Grinton was very bitter toward his father, and several times declared that he was a liar.

The order of the court will not be executed for several days, as Grinton, through his attorney, gave notice that he will apply for a trial of the question of his sanity by a jury. Jury trials to prove insanity have become quite a fad among the mentally unbalanced.

For some time previous to last July, Grinton was engaged in business in Sawtelle and he enjoyed a good reputation.

HAD BRAIN STORM.

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT.

A tall, sallow youth, who said he had at one time taught history somewhere, and who answered to the name of Albert Van Houtte, was in Judge Davis's court yesterday for judgment. He pleaded guilty to a charge of entering the rooms of Mrs. M. Hershey, at the Fremont Hotel, July 31, and taking therefrom a number of articles.

Van Houtte insisted upon making a statement to the court, following which he was allowed to go on probation two years. He said that at the time he committed the daylight burglary he was laboring under great mental stress, a sort of brain-storm, and that he had been drugged by a young man who he had thought was his friend. He said that after a matinée at a local theater he went with his friend to a neighboring saloon, where they drank beer.

"I never drink, judge," he said, "but as a sort of courtesy to my friend I did manage to get away with a half-glass of beer. I immediately began to feel strange sensations. When I reached the hotel I saw Miss Hershey drop her keys in the hall, and in my semi-conscious condition I followed her, I picked up the keys and entered her room. I was then suffering acutely from the brain-storm. No sooner had I realized what I had done, after the effect of the beer or something else had passed away, than I returned all of the goods and the money, with the exception of $5.

The court was not evidently impressed with the sincerity of the appeal, but Van Houtte was allowed to go under probation. He promised to report faithfully.

OCCULISTS INTERESTED.

AWAIT SMITH WILL DECISION.

The long-drawn-out contest in the Probate Court, involving the mental capacity of Robert Crawford Smith, and the alleged influence exerted upon him by certain Spiritualistic mediums, is to be decided by Judge Rives, Friday morning.

The devotees of the occult in Los Angeles are looking upon the matter with much interest, for the decision will doubtless indicate how far, in the opinion of the court, Smith was influenced by the practice of Spiritualism to give his money away.

Robert Crawford Smith died February 6, 1907. His will is dated July 24, 1906. It disposes of an estate valued at $86,917.97, thus: One-fourth each to his brothers, William E., and A. Denniston Smith, and one-fourth each to his sisters, Anna K. Smith and Martha C. Smith. A codicil bequeaths $10,000 to Mrs. Dora, wife of E. Z. Barnett, and a second codicil gives $5000 to Lottie Livington, of Pasadena, where she was employed at the time as a school teacher, and $2000 to Mrs. Lola Swilling, whose husband was in Cuba at the time the will was written.

It was around the bequest to Mrs. Barnett that the greatest interest centered, for it was shown in the testimony that Smith was dominated by Mrs. Barnett, although it was alleged in her defense that she had been very kind to Smith and he gave her the money to show his appreciation of many acts of friendliness such as had been denied him by his blood relatives. William G. Bradshaw and J. W. Cunningham were nominated as executors of the estate.

In the codicils giving bequests to Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Swilling and Miss Livingston, the testator says he gives them the money to "do with it as they please and for their own use." The parties behind the contest are the heirs at law of Smith, one of whom, William F. Smith, of Cincinnati, O., has died since the will was executed.

CHILDREN GET ESTATE.

FRASER WILL PROVISIONS.

By the terms of the will of Edward Fraser, offered for probate yesterday, the property of the testator, valued at $50,750, goes to two children, W. W. Fraser and Ella C. Fraser. It is stated by the testator that he does not leave anything to his grand-children, children of Edward L. Fraser and James Leroy Fraser, for the reason that the sons have already received their share of the estate.

To Ella C. Fraser is given the home at No. 2484 West Washington street, with all of its furnishings, and to W. W. Fraser is given all of the other personal property. The executors are ordered to pay off the mortgages that remain on the property. All the balance of the estate is divided thus: Two-thirds to W. W. Fraser and one-third to Ella C. Fraser.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ALL TO HIS WIDOW.—The will of Senior Capt. William H. Cushing, late of the United States revenue cutter service, who died in Long Beach about two weeks ago, was filed for probate yesterday. It disposes of an estate estimated to be worth $10,000. All the property goes to the widow, Hannah Cushing, who is nominated as execu-

MINES AND MINING.

NEW MINING TOWNSITE

Local People Interested in Parker Country.

Engineers and Johnson Request Johnnie Proxies.

A new mining center is to be created at Calsona, near the California-Arizona border. Carl F. Schader, a mining engineer of this city, is laying out the townsite, that will be connected with Needles and Parker by an automobile road.

Calsona will be located on south half of Section 36, Township 1, Range 22 East S.B.M.

The Santa Fé cut-off, contract for which has been let between Parker and Bengal, will pass through the town. A depot and freight shed will be established about the center. Calsona is a mile and a quarter from the Colorado River, nine miles from Parker, and will be the first California town after leaving Parker, Ariz., and following the river, and the first outside of the Indian reservation. This is from the Riverside Mountains, Tippie Mountain, D. and W., American Eagle, and Copper Basin mines, from Needles and the Blythe-Ehrenberg center at Calsona.

An attempt will be made to make the trading point for these mines and the great Blythe agricultural section, in the valleys along the California side of the Colorado.

Calsona will be in the center of the Riverside Valley agricultural lands of the 230,000 acres of the Parker Indian reservation soon to be opened by the government.

The general understanding is that the arrangements exist whereby the Santa Fé cut-off will be used jointly by the Santa Fé and the Southern Pacific as the Mojave-Keeler branch is present.

According to those promoting the townsite, a line of steamers will be put in commission, plying between Calsona, Blythe ranch and the Laguna Dam. The town will have a country, rivaling the great Imperial Valley, to draw from. B. L. Waughn of Needles, and Tom Breen, president of the Colorado River Supply Company, is interested in the townsite company.

In Death Valley.

The active operation has been temporarily suspended in Death Valley, pending a return of cooler weather, several deals of importance are under way and will probably be consummated shortly.

The Chambers properties, in the Lee Kobis district, have been sold within the past few days for $5000 cash. A twenty-stamp mill is to be erected and in operation within ninety days. These claims were optioned at one time to A. D. Myers of this city, but blocked a considerable tonnage, and did not ship and later forfeited his option. The ore is silver copper, with some gold and galena.

The J. C. & E. has been bonded by Prence Barber and E. A. Stockton of Pennsylvania people. Stockton is a Ballarat citizen closing the deal.

The Harrisburg, near the Skiddoo, carrying about the same value that well-known property, has been bonded to easterners for $50,000, and examination is under way to determine the kind of a mill needed.

Ask Proxies.

D. Meyers and T. A. Johnson have issued a circular to the stockholders of the Johnnie Mining and Milling Company asking for proxies and a petition is being circulated, according to signers of the circular, to be presented to directors asking a special stockholders' meeting, at which time the effort will be made to remove the present directors and officers and install new ones from the ranks of the Johnnie Consolidated shareholders, those who exchanged stock in the company for that in the present mine.

The circular charges the recent change in management was brought about by directors "ambitious to be officers and managers of a successful mine," the minority because the death of one director having a temporary majority on the board, the resignation of Meyers and Johnson in May, so the circular states, was voluntary. It was demanded by dissenting directors.

It is asserted that some of the directors have never visited the mine, possess no mining experience.

It is alleged that in the recent sale of 9,000 shares of treasury stock none was offered to stockholders, whose shares stand them anywhere from 10 cents to $1 a share, they having exchanged Johnnie Consolidated costing from 1 to 13 cents a share, at the rate of two shares of the old for one of the new. These stockholders, the circular asserts, would have been glad to have evened up by purchasing at the 10-cent price, particularly as the money was to go into the treasury for mill improvement.

The argument is made that the time was propitious for sale of stock in view of the general bad management is suggested.

Nine of the present directors are charged with selling their stock while urging shareholders not to sell, and that it is asserted, has caused the market to tumble.

New Deal on.

The Pan-American Smelting and Mining Company, that had an option on the old Sonora smelter at the New Cornelio town of that name, has thrown up the option and the deal is declared off. The price involved was in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Missouri capitalists have formed a syndicate, the St. Louis Smelting and Refining Company, that has been granted an option on this plant in the same amount, it is asserted, and experts representing this company are making over conditions with a view to enlarging the smelter from its present 300-ton capacity to 500 tons daily and converting it from a lead to a lead-copper-zinc plant. The recent raising of duty upon zinc ores shipped into this country has curtailed Mexican shipments and has helped New Mexican miners a great deal; many of the mines will be opened shortly in the Magdalena or Kelly district, particularly, according to A. D. Coon, a smelterman who is staying in Los Angeles for a few days.

The Socorca smelter will be made a custom plant and will draw a large tonnage from this district, as well as from all over New Mexico and some ore from Old Mexico.

Good tonnage is assured from the Kelly Range and the Oro Mountain district.

NEW MINING TOWNSITE.

Local People Interested in Parker Country.

Myers and Johnson Request Johnnie Proxies.

A new mining center is to be created at Calzona, near the California-Arizona border. Carl F. Schader, a mining engineer of this city, is laying out the townsite, that will be connected with Parker and Parker by an automobile road.

Calzona will be located on south half of Section 36, Township 1, Range 20 East S.B.M. The Santa Fé cut-off, contract for which has been let between Parker and Bengal, will pass through the town. A depot and freight shed will be established about the center. Calzona is a mile and a quarter from the Colorado River, nine miles from Parker, and will be the first California town after leaving Parker, Ariz., and following the river, and the first outside of the Indian reservation. The road is from the Riverside Mountain, Whipple Mountain, D. and W., American Eagle, and Copper Basin mines, and from Needles and the Blythe trading center at Calzona.

An attempt will be made to make Calzona the trading point for these mines and the great Blythe agricultural section in the valleys along the California side of the Colorado. Calzona will be in the center of the Colorado Valley agricultural lands and the 280,000 acres of the Parker Indian reservation soon to be opened by the government.

The general understanding is that the arrangements exist whereby the Parker cut-off will be used jointly by the Santa Fé and the Southern Pacific as the Mojave-Keeler branch is at present.

According to those promoting the townsite, a line of steamers will be put in commission, plying between Calzona, Blythe ranch and the Laguna Dam. The town will have a large country, rivaling the great Imperial Valley, to draw from. B. L. Waughop of Needles, and Tom Drennan, president of the Colorado River Land Company, is interested in the townsite company.

In Death Valley.

The active operation has been temporarily suspended in Death Valley, pending a return of cooler weather. Several deals of importance are under way and will probably be consummated shortly.

The Chambers properties, in the Lee Moon district, have been sold within the past few days for $5000 cash. A twenty-stamp mill is to be erected and in operation within ninety days. These claims were optioned at one time by A. D. Myers of this city, who blocked a considerable tonnage, but did not ship and later forfeited his option. The ore is silver copper, with some gold and galena.

W. J. C. & E. has been bonded by Clarence Barber and E. A. Stockton of Pennsylvania people. Stockton is at Ballarat closing the deal.

The Harrisburg, near the Skiddoo, carrying about the same values that well-known property, has been sold to easterners for $50,000, and examination is under way to determine the kind of a mill needed.

Ask Proxies.

D. Meyers and T. A. Johnson have sent a circular to the stockholders of the Johnnie Mining and Milling company asking for proxies and a petition is being circulated, according to signers of the circular, to be presented to directors asking a special stockholders' meeting, at which time effort will be made to remove the present directors and officers and install new ones from the ranks of the Johnnie Consolidated shareholders, those who exchanged stock in the new company for that in the present company.

The circular charges the recent change in management was brought about by directors "ambitious to be officers and managers of a successful mine," the minority because the death of one director having a majority on the board.

The resignation of Meyers and Johnson in May, so the circular states, was involuntary. It was demanded by the ruling directors.

It is asserted that some of the directors have never visited the mine and possess no mining experience.

It is alleged that in the recent sale of shares of treasury stock none was offered to stockholders, whose wish it stand them anywhere from 10 cents to $1 a share, they having exchanged Johnnie Consolidated costing from 1 to 12 cents a share, at the rate of 10 shares of the old for one of the new.

These stockholders, the circular asserts, would have been glad to have evened up by purchasing at the recent price, particularly as the money was to go into the treasury for improvement.

The argument is made that the time is propitious for sale of stock as several bad management is suggested.

Some of the present directors are charged with selling their stock while the shareholders not to sell, and which, it is asserted, has caused the stock to tumble.

New Deal on.

The Pan-American Smelting and Refining Company, that had an option on the Sonora smelter at the New Town of that name, has thrown up the option and the deal is declared off. The price involved was in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Eastern capitalists have formed a syndicate, the St. Louis Smelting and Refining Company, that has been given an option on this plant in the same amount, it is asserted, and experts representing this company are going over conditions with a view to putting the smelter from its present production capacity to 500 tons daily and converting it from a lead to a copper-zinc plant. The recent shipping of dusty upon zinc ores shipped into this country has curtailed Mexican shipments and has helped New Mexico miners a great deal; many mines will be opened shortly in the Magdalena or Kelly district, particularly, according to A. D. Coon, a smelterman who is staying in Los Angeles for a few days.

The Pan-American smelter will be made a custom plant and will draw a large tonnage from this district, as well as from all over New Mexico and some ores from Old Mexico.

The tonnage is assured from the Tonopah Range and the Oro Mountain districts.

Movements of Mining Men.

Russell F. Wright of the Certus-Annexus, a gold property in Inyo, and a well-known mining man of Los Angeles, has returned from an extended business trip to Seattle and San Francisco. Mr. Wright is also interested in a Mexican tropical land company of merit.

A. S. Munson, a Death Valley miner, is among the visitors in the city.

Carl F. Schader will leave in a few days for Calzona, Cal., to begin the surveys of the townsite at that place.

Bob Montgomery of the Skiddoo Mine Company, is spending some time in Siskiyou county, looking over some properties he recently obtained an option on.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

THIRTY-SEVEN DIVIDENDS PAY.

EIGHTY THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR STOCKHOLDERS.

Mexican Petroleum Has Disbursed Nearly Three Million Dollars in Cash from Sales of Ebano Petroleum—Huesteca Product Will Be on Market in Thirty Days.

President E. L. Doheny of the Mexican Petroleum was busy yesterday signing dividend checks for the thirty-seventh regular monthly profits distribution. Today is coupon day and $80,000 will be paid shareholders. Mr. Doheny found time, between affixing his signature to the checks, to say the Mexican Petroleum expected to be marketing oil from its Huesteca properties within thirty days. The first fifteen miles of pipe for the Mexican pipe line is being received at Tampico and will be laid and in operation by October 1, when oil will be moved through this section to navigable rivers whence it will be transported in shallow draft barges to Tampico. The remaining eighty-five miles of the system will be laid as rapidly as possible; the company expects to have oil flowing through the whole line before the first of March. It is looking daily to bring in some good wells in the Huesteca field.

A large portion of the material for the gas plant in the City of Mexico has been received, and, with the distributing system, is being installed as rapidly as contracts will permit.

The interest aroused in the erection of the plant has become such that officials feel the building of the plant has been justified and from a theoretical plan has become a business success.

It is possible that the first mains laid will be for distribution through the business section of the city rather than the residence portion, as originally intended. December 1 should see the gas plant completed, January 1 gas will be turned into the city mains.

DEVIL'S DEN OIL?

THIRTY-FIVE GRAVITY TALK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HANFORD, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Butts, a prominent stockholder of the Devil's Den Consolidated Oil Company, today announced that the well in the Devil's Den region that the company recently capped, and whose productiveness was not given out, is a good producer of 35-gravity oil at a depth of 1400 feet. Announcement was made after the company had decided to pump the well and deliver the product to companies operating near by.

A large storage tank is on the way to the property. This is the first producing well between Coalinga and McKittrick fields, and the strike is taken as substantiation of the belief of many oil men that the territory between the Coalinga and McKittrick fields will be a vast oil belt. The well is located on 27-25-18.

The above advice contradicts previous reports of the status of the well, which said there was merely a gas blowout with insignificant amount of oil, although practically all oil men are thoroughly convinced of the presence of oil in the Devil's Den district. The only differences of opinion have been as to the value of this particular spot. The owners are Visalians, who have been at work for years with unconquerable perseverance. If authentic, the importance of this strike can hardly be overestimated.

Rice Ranch.

The Rice Ranch has started drilling its seventh well at Santa Maria and is down 125 feet. Officials say production of the other six wells keeps up and conditions generally favorable.

There has been considerable talk that Rice Ranch shares will pay 2 cents a month dividend instead of one, as for the past few months. This is not an immediate probability. If conditions remain as at present, and no bad luck is encountered, dividends may be increased somewhat next year, say officials, but it is unlikely there will be any increase prior to January.

At the same time it is asserted ample funds are in the treasury and the earning would justify a 2 per cent. monthly distribution, but this is not deemed good business policy by the management, which claims to be acting with conservatism.

Mt. Nebo Oil.

Salt Lake employés and a few of their railroad friends interested in hte Mt. Nebo Oil Company, are greatly encouraged by reports of operation that come from Mt. Nebo, Utah, where the company is sinking a well.

The property is operated as a close corporation, the shares held mainly by local employés of the Salt Lake and the hole is down 1800 feet. Good oil indications have been encountered and, while not flowing, a big seepage keeps oil pushed over the top of the casing, say those interested. Drilling has been going on for nine months. A well was sunk on this property to some 600 feet, it is esserted, but was abandoned when the present hole was started. The Mt. Nebo people have had a fishing job on hand for quite a while but have finished it and are going down rapidly.

Will Increase Strings.

The American Petroleum will increase the number of strings running continuously in the Coalinga field from six to ten. Six wells are drilling at present and six more will be started in the next few days. Two of the present strings have practically finished, the water has been cemented off and the wells should be completed this week at a depth of 1700 feet. One of these is on 18-20-15 and is expected to flow about 250 barrels a day. The other on 30-20-15 ought to do around 500.

The American has nine wells in Coalinga, aggregating better than 5000, and with the two, just finishing, will have an output of close to 6000 daily.

At Sherman.

The seven wells on the Niles lease of the American Petroleum, at Sherman, west of the city, are producing on an average about 1000 barrels a day. These are consistent and steady producers, notwithstanding the American, in common with other operators in this field, has had considerable sand trouble. The holes become sanded occasionally causing production to dwindle to something like 600 or 700 barrels. When cleansed they go better than usual and do about 1200 to 1500 a day, maintaining an average around 1000.

The American has one string running in the Sherman field.

MORE DAMAGES.—Laura Broads and her husband, Bernard Broads, brought an action in the Superior Court yesterday, asking for an injunction against and damages from Mead & Cook. The latter conduct a trunk store on the lower floor of No. 416 South Spring street, under a Hungarian and German restaurant owned by the plaintiffs. It is alleged that the firm below have persistently placed a number of signs in such a way as to interfere with the orderly conduct of the restaurant business, and $5000 are asked.

IN DEPARTMENT ELEVEN.—Judge Crow of Santa Barbara held court in Department Eleven yesterday, the regular opening of the fall term. Judge Willis, who presided for Judge Crow yesterday, will return this evening and resume his place in his own department. The most important criminal case on the calendar of Judge Willis is the Harper Bennett murder trial that is fixed for next Tuesday.

INCORPORATIONS.—Papers for the following incorporations were filed in the office of the County Clerk yesterday: Interstate Identification Company, capital stock, $10,000, by Emil H. Rosenblatt, J. H. Philbrook, Ed Brundig, H. F. Minton and Z. D. Bradley; Congregation Agudas Achim Anshi Sfard, by Louis Sneider, M. Holzman, A. Singerman, Joe Hirshovits and Simon Burk; Southern California Edison Company, capital stock, $30,000,000, by E. M. Kennedy, O. P. Schoonmaker, J. A. Lighthipe, E. W. Sax, A. A. Maxwell, William Dieterle, F. W. Balfour, A. E. Morphy and John Otto.

PLEADS GUILTY.—Philip Rastetter, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Lulu Murray and Ethel Mitchell, pleaded guilty in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. He will be up for sentence this morning. His alleged partner in the work, Clee Miller, will also plead guilty today. Both will file applications for parols.

MAKING A RECORD. There was an inexplicable lull in the divorce industry yesterday. Not a single case was filed in the office of the clerk of the court, A condition the counterpart of which has not been noted by the employés of that department for more than a year. Just why the fettered who desire to be free did not commence actions yesterday is not known, but there is likely to be a rush today to make up the average of five cases a day, which was the run during August.

INJUNCTION ASKED. G. A. Jones brought suit against the South Los Angeles Water Company in the Superior Court yesterday asking for an injunction restraining the defendant corporation from turning off his water supply, and also asking damages amounting to $1000. Jones lives at Huntington Park. He alleges that on account of delayed payment of a water bill for $1.92, which he afterward settled, the company has refused to give him water, and he is compelled to depend upon the neighbors for his supply.

SOME STATISTICS. In August there was 153 divorce suits started in the Superior courts, or an average of about five a day. There were 555 suits of every character filed. The receipts of the County Clerk's office for the period will amount to $6200, which will be paid into the county treasury today. The divorce cases alone contributed $918 to the coffers of the county.

Judge Wilbur yesterday fined Oscar Chavez, Joseph Reyes and Francesca Reyes, his wife, $100 each for contempt of court, in connection with the hearing of the Susana Bottiller case.

Judge Rives is to decide the locally celebrated Smith "spook" case in Department Two, Friday morning. Spiritualists of Los Angeles are much interested in the outcome.

Lionel R. Hare, sued for $62,500 on account of alleged fraud in an Alaska mining deal, confessed judgment through his attorneys in Judge Wilbur's court yesterday. Hare is still in jail, unable to furnish $50,000 bond.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

SPECTATORS IN WRATHFUL MOOD.

THREATS MUTTERED AGAINST NEGRO ON TRIAL.

Admits Having Invited White Girl to Go With Him for "Good Time." Angry Couple Hurl Beer Bottles at Each Other—Iceman Indebted to Hot Weather.

Spectators muttered threats against Henry Weaver, a negro janitor, in Justice Frederickson's court yesterday when he admitted he had suggested to a young white girl, a telephone operator, that she go with him for a good time.

Weaver was on trial on a charge of battery. He was accused of having held the hand of another girl, who gave him a dime to purchase tobacco.

Weaver has attempted to be unduly familiar with white women on several occasions. He was arrested about a year ago for trying to flirt with them, but was released on his promise to leave the city.

According to the testimony yesterday, the janitor had brushed against telephone operators in a newspaper office when he was sweeping in their room. They were frightened and left the place every time he came to sweep.

About a week ago, it was stated, he made insulting remarks to one girl and attempted to hold another's hand.

"You admit you invited this girl to go out with you?" demanded Arthur Keetch, deputy district attorney, when Weaver declared he had been given an opportunity to extend the invitation.

"It doesn't matter how you came to make these remarks to a white girl, but the fact that you made them should be sufficient to send you to jail for six months."

Justice Frederickson took the case under consideration until Thursday.

Beer Bottles Weapons.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Abeytia engaged in a battle royal in their apartments at No. 498 California street yesterday over the possession of a suit of clothes. They hurled empty beer bottles at each other, but as both were poor marksmen, the bottles broke against the walls.

Alonso Baker, the landlord, attempted to quell the disturbance, but found it necessary to call in a policeman. The officer took the couple to the deputy district Attorney at the Central Police Station.

"He was going to leave me and I objected to him wearing away the suit of clothes I had bought for him," declared Mrs. Abeytia. "He struck me several times, but I love him still."

"I'm afraid that woman will kill me," Abeytia interposed.

"He's struck on a waitress at the place where he works, and is just looking for an opportunity to get rid of me," said the wife.

As both promised to behave in future, no complaints were issued.

Heat Saves Iceman.

"'Tis an ill wind that blows no man good," quoth Frank Frazijer, an iceman, as he left Justice Frederickson's court yesterday. The warmth of the weather had saved him from being fined for having driven on a newly-paved street.

"I admit breaking down the barriers across the street, but the people were crying for ice, and I wanted to give it to them," the iceman told the magistrate.

"Taking into consideration the relief given citizens by this man, I think I will let him go this time," the justice remarked. "But, Frazier, don't try this again."

Book-keeper Needed.

Justice Chambers yesterday advised Louis Epstein, a kosher butcher, that he needed the service of a bookkeeper instead of a magistrate, when he appeared to prosecute Harry Hirshfield on a charge of having embezzled $3.

The prosecutor sought to show by the books of the butcher that Hirshfield had misappropriated money. The justice footed up the various columns and found that the figures on no page had been properly added.

The case was dismissed. Efforts are now being made by Epstein to obtain a new complaint against his former clerk.

Negro Assaulted.

Samuel Reed and L. W. McArthur, ice men, were taken before Justice Chambers yesterday for having assaulted W. L. Peters, a negro. McArthur pleaded guilty to a charge of battery and will be sentenced today. Reed was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and the date for his examination will be set today.

The ice man and Peters got in a discussion over a cake of the frozen liquid Monday night. McArthur is accused of having struck the negro and Reed of having stabbed him in the abdomen.

Accuses Husband.

Declaring she had borne abuse from her husband for months, Mrs. Frank J. Wilson, keeper of a rooming-house at No. 200 Sotello street, asked the city prosecutor to issue a battery complaint against him yesterday. Wilson will be given an opportunity to tell his side of the story.

Horses Abused.

Louie You and R. Cheatham were fined $10 and $5, respectively, by Justice Frederickson yesterday for having driven horses unfit for work.

Jury Acquits Barber.

Thomas H. Ingles, a barber, was acquitted of a charge of battery on his wife by a jury in Justice Williams's court yesterday.

SOUGHT.

FEAR HE WAS LURED TO DEATH.

FRUIT MAN AND HIS MONEY BOTH ARE GONE.

With More Than Five Hundred Dollars on His Person He Was Last Seen Sunday With Two Strangers. Relatives Offer Reward for Information as to His Whereabouts.

Tony Blandini, an Italian fruit dealer, is eagerly sought by his friends and the police. He had $650 on his person Sunday evening, when he was last seen, walking with two strangers. Members of his family fear that he has been murdered and robbed. A reward of $100 has been offered for information as to his whereabouts.

The case was reported to the police Monday, when he failed to return home. He was advertised as "missing" in the Police Bulletin that Monday evening under the number, 1593. His description was given: Age, 27; heighth, 5 feet and 5 inches; weight, 150 pounds; hair and eyes, black; complexion, dark; smooth shaven. He wore a dark suit, a soft black hat and black shoes.

Tony Blandini.

Sunday evening, Blandini was playing pool with friends at the Italian Club, No. 1523 Lemon street, but left early. Between 5 and 6 o'clock that evening his little niece saw him walking west along Ninth street with two strangers. That was the last seen of the man. Before going out to the club he had loaded his wagon with fruit, to be delivered Monday to various customers. The family does not know who the customers are, but the wagon is still in the yard, just as Blandini left it before he walked away with the two men.

Blandini came here from New Orleans about six years ago, and embarked in the fruit business, having a fair measure of success. He purchased a little home at No. 2208 East Eighth street, where he lived with his four sisters and their husbands. His mother accompanied him here from New Orleans, and also lived at his home until she died, about a month ago. Some time since, Blandini mortgaged his home, and a payment of $800 was to be made on the mortgage on the 15th of this month. The money he carried with him was to be used for this purpose. Blandini, like many of the men of his race, had little faith in banks.

H. M. Morris of No. 1368 Ellwood street called at the detectives' office last night and asked that the notice in the Police Bulletin be amended by the addition of an offer of a reward of $100, which he said the members of the family had asked him to put up for information that would lead to the location of the missing man.

TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGHWAYS.

We have from time to time dwelt upon the desirability of having from one to three lines of good roads stretching all the way across the continent from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific. We have urged Federal action in encouraging and promoting such a system or systems of highways.

The movement is not local. It is one which engages the attention of men in all parts of the country. It is very generally discussed and practical steps are being taken toward the bringing about of something in this direction.

The International League for Highway Improvement is an expansion of what was formerly known as the National Roads Association. It is incorporated under the laws of the State of Florida and has headquarters in that State at St. Augustine, with offices of scarcely less importance at Washington and New York.

Just as this movement is not local, neither is it of today. The letter-heads of the league quote from Abraham Lincoln as follows: "I am in favor of an internal improvement system and believe that the poorest and most thinly populated countries will be greatly benefited by the opening of good roads and in the clearing of navigable streams." Away back in 1816 John C. Calhoun, speaking in the House of Representatives, pleading for the setting aside of a fund for internal improvements, said: "What can add more to the wealth, strength and political prosperity of our country than cheapness of intercourse? Let us then bind the republic together with roads."

The first national convention of the Republican party was very emphatic in pronouncing for internal improvements of streams and highways, and the party has stood by this programme throughout history.

The League for Highway Improvement here referred to will introduce at the next session of Congress a bill and seek to have it enacted into law. This bill contemplates the creation of a national commission on highway improvements composed of nine commissioners. It provides specifically for the way of appointing these. One of them must be a road engineer. The bill will carry with it an appropriation for the support of the commission in all proper ways.

It is not thought advisable at the present time to agitate the construction of a system of roads at the expense of the Federal government. But the cost of this commission would not be very great. It would be intrusted with the task of surveying four systems of roads all the way across the continent, of experimenting in the way of building short stretches with different material and in different ways in order to get at the best way. The commission would be charged with the duty of cooperating with State and county highway officials in all parts of the Union, with the idea of so laying out the proposed systems of highways as to bring them into closest harmony possible with State and county systems now built or soon to be undertaken.

In the main the bill appears to be wisely drawn, and in our opinion its passage would be a long step in the direction of securing what intelligent persons in all parts of the Union see to be so very desirable, the construction of roads which will practically connect all parts of the continent from ocean to ocean. By cooperation between the contemplated commission and road commissions of various States and counties in the several States across the continent a great deal can be done in the way of securing more or less harmonious action and the building of roads which will form links in a continuous chain. It matters very little how this work is accomplished. The main thing is to make aspirations and plans concrete facts.

There are new conditions in the way of locomotion and transportation which make such development vastly more desirable than under different conditions in the past. In fact, these roads of an interstate scope, reaching from ocean to ocean, are becoming a necessity. The automobile for passenger traffic and the auto truck for freight traffic are putting in our hands the most effective method for regulating railroads. A system of good roads reaching from State to State, with branches north and south from the main trunks, would be more effective than all the laws that Congress will ever pass, even if backed by a dozen commissions to put them in force. Competition has been the great regulator at all times, and will be for all time to come.

With such systems of good roads in actual existence and with our waterways improved as they may be, the railroads would find themselves confronted with a rivalry which would compel absolutely fair dealing with all the people in all parts of the country. The possibilities of water transportation in the United States are almost limitless. With the clearing of the streams as contemplated by Mr. Lincoln half a century ago, and with connecting canals between them as is found so effective in all parts of Europe, no railroad system could practice extortion on the farmers, manufacturers or merchants of any part of the country. With four systems of good roads reaching across the continent on which the automobile would be available for passenger traffic and the auto truck for freight traffic, we would have an ally of the waterways of inestimable value.

We hope to see the newspapers of the country take up this subject, and it is entirely competent and proper for all citizens to appeal to their representatives in Congress with a view of urging the passage of the bill by which this work may be entered upon. Let us all give it a boost. It is worthy of our encouragement and of the best effort we can put into it.

A SURPRISING CHURCH GROWTH.

From the statistics published in The Times a few days ago it appears that there are now sixteen States of the American Union in which the Roman Catholic denomination of the Christian religion predominates. Ten years ago when the last census was taken there was not a single State in which Roman Catholics predominated. The growth of this church in America during the past decade will surprise those who have not followed the trend of religious belief in this country.

A great deal of attention has been directed toward the spread of the Christian Science sect and also toward the growth of the Mormon church, but the increase of these two institutions combined is small when compared to the growth of the Roman Catholic church. For instance, the Mormons lead in only one State of the Union and the Christian Scientists in none, while, as has been pointed out, the Catholics predominate in sixteen States.

The situation is easily explained. In the first place, Catholics are not given to race suicide in this or in any other country. The church distinctly frowns on the practice—in fact, it will not tolerate it. As a consequence Catholic families are generally large families. In the next place, the enormous tide of immigration flowing into this country is largely Catholic—the Italians, the Slavs, many of the Germans and, in fact, the bulk of all the Southern Europeans who come here now are attached to the Church of Rome.

There was a time when this wonderful increase of Catholics in America would have caused intense uneasiness. But happily the American people have passed all that. Our Catholic fellow-citizens are good Americans, and the nation has not only nothing to fear, but much to expect from them. The Catholic church in America stands like a stone wall against anarchy and socialism and the divorce evil, and it always upholds law and order. For these reasons alone no right-minded American can find cause for alarm in the growth of the Catholic church in this country, no matter what church he may belong to himself.

HARRIMAN "TAKING THE REST?"

BANDITS AND "SUPERBANDITS."

After digesting the news of the hold-up of a railroad train on the "Pennsy" by one masked highwayman who terrified the whole crew and all the passengers, the effete East may plume itself on getting wild and woolly. Such dispatches usually have come with a Colorado or Idaho date line, and the bold deed in Pennsylvania gave a new thrill to the easterners, who have heretofore depended upon such excitements as "Salome" and "The Girl from Rector's." But there is more foolhardiness than viciousness, after all, in a train robbery of this sort. It is the product of the worst sort of brainstorm. Any reckless fool can do the trick. We have seen boys do it in Los Angeles. A calculating criminal would not attempt it. The proceeds generally amount to something like a bag of pennies—and the bandit's own little gloat over the sensation that he produced. The great egoistic war lords that have overrun provinces and sacked cities, all for "la gloire," were only "superbandits," as George Bernard Shaw might call them.

GOOD INVESTMENT.

It is just a little more than forty years since Gen. Grant's administration closed a deal by which Russia ceded Alaska to the United States. The price was $7,000,000 and the Czar took about half the amount in old gunboats, of which we had a surplus left over from the war.

Since then we have taken out of the Territory products amounting to about $327,000,000, or $8,175,000 a year, a good bit over 100 per cent. per annum on the cost. As we got little profit during the first twenty years, we are now taking out something like 200 per cent. of the original cost. But as Alaska contains a timber supply to last us for centuries if properly taken care of, and coal to last for years to come, the bargain was a good one. The fisheries and other wealth-producing resources of Alaska may be made perpetual.

Yet a great cry was raised against the government for the purchase, and the general bore most of it.

CONDEMN DIRECT PRIMARY.

The New York Legislature sent a special committee to Indianapolis to learn how the direct primary is regarded in the light of experience. The New York Sun's correspondent wired his journal that the committee was learning things that opened its eyes. "Not one of the several persons who appeared before the committee gave such primaries unqualified approval, and the majority condemned them unreservedly."

The burden of complaint was that the new device made it difficult to get candidates, and that it made hard campaigning necessary to win. The man who wins must make a great noise, and a modest man who campaigns in a dignified manner has no chance. The present Governor of Indiana is giving general satisfaction, but could never have been elected had the direct primary been in vogue. This kind of primary destroyed all party organization, a good thing for unpopular parties, discredited parties, which have no chance excepting in chaotic conditions. This device makes it easier for any "interests" to combine on a candidate, or set of candidates, and elect men subservient to them. It operated in the way of preventing independent voting, whereas it was claimed that it would aid such voting. The "Our Set" can work the new law to their taste. The new law engenders bitter factional feeling. The old convention way of nominating is preferred by thoughtful citizens to the new way, after trial.

An advocate of the direct primary said he had to admit it did not meet expectations, and that he would prefer a perfected system which would enable honest delegates to make a ticket. He held that the old convention system gave power to the lower elements. How far from clear thought this reformer is! He admits there are vital faults in the new fad, but prefers it to the old, which might be made to work right. Why does the old convention plan sometimes not work well? Not because it is organically defective, but because the intelligent voters do not attend to their duties.

Here we get back to what The Times has held all along, that the direct primary is radically defective and cannot be made work right, that the old system worked right when the people used it right, by all taking part in the caucus deliberations and in the primary election. Now after trying the new way even its friends in effect declare we were right. Participation in politics is the duty of every citizen. We shall never have good government until the people perform their duties well. The old way gives the opportunity to all to participate; the new plan does not. The open caucus, party primary and party convention are the people's way, and when it disappoints the people it is because they neglected their duties. The new fad is the clique's way, the best tool the boss ever had in his hands, the way for "Our Set" to get into star chamber and shut the people out.

Note, too, the declaration that the direct primary operates to prevent independent voting. The Times has at all times advocated independent voting. It advises now the holding of a convention to give all a chance to express their views, to vote independently. Our abhorrence of the new device is that it makes partisanship more hidebound than ever. We abhor it because it gives a clique of half a dozen men, hungry for control of city affairs for sinister purposes, a chance to gather 100 of their political tools into a back office and foist a ticket on the city which every member of their party will vote for blindly.

If the Republican caucuses are attended by the members of the party in large numbers, if each acts independently and conscientiously, we shall have a great convention of fair, honest, open-minded citizens who will select a ticket that will win, and we shall have good government. If the people neglect their duties and do not participate, it will not be our fault nor the fault of the system. In such case it will be impossible to forecast what sort of a ticket we shall have, but the fault will rest on those who did not attend to their duties.

THE VINDICATION OF PIE.

That greatness cannot be put down, or virtue strangled, has been demonstrated by the recent and triumphant vindication of the American pie.

For lo, these many generations, scientists have stormed and doctors have warned against pie. Between the crusts lurked death, disease and despair and the mince meat—as to the pie crusts, they were pizen and chain lightning, mixed. They gave us to understand that pie was but a long and agonizing road to suicide.

Some of us were frightened by these alarming words into enduring life without pie. We can now look back with mental anguish to those dreary, empty, pieless years. Now we know that we might safely have eaten that heavenly concoction and become statesmen or poets or great aviators.

Some scientists in Omaha have been looking into this pie question. They have decided that pie is not only an amiable and inoffensive dish, but it has such virtue as brain food that it is actually needed in the public schools. It is to be added to the menu of the school lunch room, thus immensely increasing the thirst for knowledge in young Omaha.

Consider the joy of learning when it comes with pie!

Probably this defense will not pass without challenge; the anti-pie scientists will return to the attack and the contest will rage. But we will continue pie eating with a new placidity of mind.

Pie eating is beyond any mere man-made dictum of man-made science. Pie is an instinct—an inspiration. One of the first sounds that an innocent babe sends forth is like unto this: "P-p-p-p-p." Fond mothers like to imagine that the darling is trying to say "Papa, papa." Far be it from us to destroy one moment of a young mother's happiness, but of course the child is really trying to say "Pie, pie."

He has no thought for his paternal ancestor.

He is too young to think at that tender age, but some memory of heaven clinging to him makes him reach out his feeble arms and declare his first soul yearnings: "P-p-p-p"—or, interpreted, "Pie-pie-pie."

UNCLE WALT, WARBLER.

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF EMPORIA.
Where Grows the Sunflower.

My country, beauteous land! I'll sing, if you will stand, a song to thee! My harp is rather coarse, my voice is somewhat hoarse, yet will I try to force some melody. Fair land that saw my birth, gem of the whole blamed earth, hark to my screeds! Tell me, O tell me why prices have soared so high that man can scarcely buy things that he needs. Things that a man must eat—lemons and prunes and meat—cost like Sam Hill; carpets and rugs and mats, neckties and shoes and hats, shirting to hide his slats, empty his till. All through the week I work, like an unlaundered Turk, for a few bucks; no odds how hard I try, of wealth I'm always shy, and when I travel I ride on the trucks. They say that half a plunk bought more and better junk in the old days than will two bones or more in the big modern store since prices learned to soar five hundred ways. My country, hear my word! You are a humming-bird, also a peach! Splendid in peace and war, thou most effulgent star—tell me why prices are clear out of reach!

HOROSCOPE.

Wednesday, September 1, 1909.
BY COZETTE.

Now Mars ascends to long, angry reign
And frowning auguries are in his train.

This 244th day of the year is marked by the ecliptic conjunction of Mars with the moon and its occultation by that planet. This unusual configuration presages a day of importance for the keen-minded and vigorous, for the planet inspires boldness and decisive action in this aspect. It tends to make men resourceful and unquailing in the face of unexpected difficulties.

Optimistic persons must avoid speculation in these twenty-four hours. Persons inclined to surrender their opinions or rights through weakness of will or through submission to superiors should postpone action in important measures till tomorrow.

There is danger this day in heedless handling of things "fiery or keen."

The ailing should consult physicians and surgeons during the day and evening, as the stars will be in position that is always read by astronomers as potent for the healing arts.

Mars now comes into a position of menace. During the month he will oppose the sun on its entrance into Libra, a configuration presaging evil conditions in many parts of the world, omening epidemics, earthquakes, storms, and the death and transmigration of rulers. Warlike spirit will prevail in many lands.

There is likely to be an outbreak of religious fanaticism both in Mohammedan lands and a great Christian center of worship.

The day is good for baking, preserving and brewing. It is good for all trades or business connected with liquids. There is also a good sign for fashion.

Persons born between now and September 23 are subjects of Virgo and often are unusually fastidious about dress, manners, birth and breeding. They gravitate instinctively toward great and distinguished people and are happiest when they move in high society. They are prone to expect too much perfection in others.

Children born today are under signs promising long life and ample success, but they will be inclined to lay the blame on others for everything that goes wrong.

EDUCATIONAL DRIFT.

Bavaria has established agricultural schools almost every town in the kingdom, which have been placed in charge of teachers who, in addition to academic education, must be versed in botany, geology, chemistry, physics, zoology and natural history. At a time when nothing is doing in the fields, from November to March, these schools are open, and the peasants for a nominal fee can attend courses on cultivation and fertilization of the soil, the proper rotation of crops on the same land, the best sources for good seeds, irrigation and the raising of stock. They are made acquainted with improvements and new inventions in agricultural implements, the adoption of which can be recommended. They are taught the rudiments of bee-keeping and other commercial knowledge essential for the up-to-date farmer. In the spring, after these farmers have returned to their work in the fields, it becomes the duty of the teachers who instructed them during the winter to travel from county to county and to act as advisers to the farmers. Much good results from the travels of the teachers. By practical suggestion to the farmers they induce them to make valuable improvements in the cultivation of their farms.

The University of Maine has determined to stop all hazing, and students presenting themselves for registration at the opening of the coming fall term will be requested to sign a card reading: "I, the undersigned, hereby agree as long as I am a student at the University of Maine, to take no part in hazing." About ten or twelve years ago in the university there were several hazing outrages. Good order was finally restored only by the students signing an agreement not to engage in hazing. This method of requiring a pledge from each student was continued for several years. Within the last four or five years, however, the practice of hazing has been on the increase.

Dr. Madison C. Peters, in discussing the question whether a college education pays, says: "A college training, or its equivalent, self-culture, helps one to make the most of his talents. Such an education stands for an investment of power—it not only creates power, but increases it and promotes the demands of modern life—the power to think and the power to will. The men of great enterprises are eagerly seeking those who are able to think clearly and those who are able to will promptly, or in other words, those whose assets consist in a thorough education. All other things being equal, a college education prepares a man for big things in life—it strengthens the mind, brings the will under control, disciplines the faculties, gives a larger clearer vision and stronger confidence in one's self and apart from the broadening and developing of character and the expansion of the mental endowments, there is the pleasure and the happiness that brings into one's life, the delightful association and the satisfaction which comes from the feeling that the power to reach out and know that we can and be of help to others."

Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, commander of the Department of the Lakes, expresses himself decidedly in favor of the military schools, which he says are not only helpful in the teaching of patriotism, but in better fitting young men for all the walks of life. Military education means the installation of proper discipline. The young man is better equipped for business who understands the value of proper discipline. The employers' instructions or directions to such a man are carried out as far as they can be. "You see," continued Gen. Grant, "the practice in discipline one has received fits him in mind and body. The disciplining of the mind and body of the student gives him a better control over himself. The very fact that he has received this training enables those that employ him to have more confidence in him, because he can be relied on to carry out the orders that are given to him. Such a man absorbs the best thoughts and ideas of the men who may be over him and benefits accordingly.

We are likely to receive some shocks when we come to study cold-bloodedly the results obtained by the various public schools throughout the country, says M. D. Brattan in the Van Norden Magazine. The majority of children in the public schools are going to turn their backs on education at the age of 14 and go to work. Wherever they may be on the school ladder, they will not stay beyond the fated hour. Already they have barely time to squeeze through if they are bright; if they are anywhere they are lost—they will never get a lower school education. They do stick. Investigation shows that the average length of time required to pass through eight grades is not eight years, as it should be, but nine and a half. Nine and a half years—and the law requires less than eight. Throughout the United States generally children between the ages of 6 and 14 are required to attend the public schools. Investigation shows that the courses of study arranged cannot be completed in the time limit. It may be said, on pretty accurate figures, that, taking one city with another, about half (probably less) of the children who enter the lower schools complete the course.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"Going Some," a Rex Beach story with the guiding dramatic hand of Paul Armstrong, gave a pleasant summer evening to many people present last night at the Shubert reopening of the Auditorium.

The piece is announced upon the programme as "the chronicle of a certain lot of college men and girls, with a tragic strain of phonograph and cowboys." And that describes it. The farce is a jolly bit of merriment, without any special attempt at verity, but with a large and successful endeavor at light humor.

The authors have taken—not the West, but that West which the public has expressed a desire to see, the West of romance, in which cowboys always carry half a hundredweight of artillery, Mexicans herd cattle in fiesta sombreros, and things are as laid down exactly as in the early romances. They have taken this sort of thing for a groundwork, and have given it a modern glossing absolutely funny.

The scene is the Flying Heart ranch, New Mexico, and the cause for the excitement a challenge to a foot race, issued by the Centipede ranch. The race feud between the two ranches is a matter of bullet rivalry, and the Centipede ranch has not only skinned Flying Heart out of its money, but as well out of a precious talking-machine, prized more than gold. And when a four-flushing "head yeller," from an eastern college, comes in and announces—for queening purposes—that he is a champion runner, he is seized upon, and a new race is declared on. He accepts, proudly, and only when he and his mature trainer learn that the men of the ranch will not be a matter for jokery, does the fun become furious. Speed, the yeller, has one hope, the coming of a real runner, one Covington, of Yale. But at a critical moment, in response to desperate messages, Covington telegraphs that he cannot come inside of ten days. Despair. Later, another telegram saying that he is on his way is received by the distracted fake sportsmen with whoops of joy—and at the end of the third act he does really arrive—on crutches!

This leaves the play absolutely problematical at this point, and the denouement is briskly and merrily worked out.

As may be seen, there are opportunities for the introduction of many good characters, and they are worked with great effectiveness.

The company presenting the play here is not an especially strong one, but there are no bad lapses, and at least two of the people, Eugene Rourke, playing the coach, and Frank Wunderlee, playing a satanically humorous Stanford man, are decidedly clever. Salvatore Zito gives a good touch of verity to the Mexican, even if he does get several thousand miles from Mexico by interpolating "O Sole Mio"—allegedly a Mexican folk-song.

The scenic equipment is creditable, the company has a numerous total, and there is no halt or hesitancy in the presentation.

"Going Some" will be found a breezy summer entertainment.

Mlle. Loretta and the posing dog "Bess," the Dammann Troupe and Carla Day and her Dancing Boys are the particularly good features of the new bill at the Los Angeles Theater this week. Mlle. Loretta and the posing dog offer one of the most picturesque acts that have appeared on a vaudeville stage in Los Angeles in many months. They present a series of poses reproducing many of the famous hunting pictures. The Dammann Troupe present a number of new and clever acrobatic feats and work in a lighting-like manner. Carita Day and her dancing boys furnish much good, live-ly dancing, and are one of the brightest spots on the bill. John P. Reid is one of the droll type of monologists who tells funny stories and sings funny songs in a unique and amusing way. "The Advance Agent" is the offering of John J. Black and company, and proves a sketch of more than ordinary merit. The sketch is well written, well acted and the story is interesting with many bright bits of comedy sprinkled throughout. An exceedingly clever juggling act is presented by Rados, who does some decidedly difficult juggling while his assistant furnishes the comedy of the act. Two new reels of motion pictures complete the bill.

The special feature act at the Unique theater this week is "Huntress," who, after making his entrance in male attire, changes for his female impersonations, his first being of Miss Blanche Ring, which is cleverly done. The gowns worn by "Huntress" are pretty and scenically the act is beautiful. His dances are executed with ease and grace. DeVerne and Mack have a singing and musical act in which the singing of the woman is the feature. She has a deep voice, which she knows how to use. The act, as a whole, met with favor from the Monday night audience. "Johnnie On the Spot," is a little comedy presented by the unique players and gives Edwin Emery and the other members of the company excellent chances for fun-making. Denton Vane is a red-headed "cut-up," and his song receives many encores. Al Franks is very good as an all rounder. Herbert Cramer as an eccentric old gentleman is well cast and got many laughs. Miss Douvee, as well as the chorus lady and Miss Constance as the wife, a part similar to last week's, is very effective. The illustrated song is sung by Al Franks. Motion pictures complete the programme.

FATALITY ON THE ASSOCIATED PIPE LINE.

Drum of the Coloring Matter Explodes and the Contents Are Scattered on Errand of Death and Pain. Bits of the Rended Iron Fly in All Directions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One man was killed and another probably fatally hurt in an explosion on the pipe line of the Associated Oil Company at the camp one mile above Jewett, a station, this morning.

Walter S. Griffin, a pipe painter, is dead. Otto Kraft, a laborer, is the injured one. He has a broken arm and leg, and is severely burned, and probably will die. The explosion was the result of an attempt to heat a can of paint used in covering the bottom of the pipe.

It is supposed that the two men forgot to remove the plug from the drum, and the explosion followed as soon as the paint became hot. Bits of the iron flew in every direction, as well as the scalding paint, and the bodies of the two men took fire. Several of pipe layers was working in the immediate vicinity, and one or two of these received minor injuries in the fall. They rushed to the assistance of the two less fortunate ones and put out the flames. Two minutes after the explosion, Griffin died. Kraft was conscious up to the last, and calmly gave instructions as to the disposition of his body. He has a brother, William R. Griffin, living in Winsted, Ct.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

This certainly is a jewel, jet and bangle season. Not in years has jewelry played so important a part in one's dress belongings. The semi-precious stones and lovely enameled pendants and brooches are very much in vogue. Yesterday I saw, at a well-known manufacturing jeweler's, a line of the exquisite Liberty enamel jewelry imported from the London firm whose odd combinations and designs in old blues and greens, in pinks and purples have made famous the art nouveau. There are beautiful lavallieres and pendants and brooches which charm by their odd and original design. Nothing like it is ever turned out by any firm except the London Liberty house.

At this same local shop where I discovered the London treasures, I saw on the table of exquisite designs in the window, which always attracts lovers of original hand-wrought jewels, a wonderful chain. It lies, coiled like a serpent on the antique Chantilly lace, which was artistically draped over the gilt table. It is as big around as a large-sized lead pencil and formed of an infinite number of tiny links of hand-spun pure gold wire, which makes it so flexible that it can be twisted and turned in any fashion. It is fully a yard and a half long and is designed to wear as a girdle. On the clasp which joins the two ends there is etched the head of Napoleon, which indicates that this girdle originally belonged to the imperial family, for only royalty can wear a piece of jewelry bearing this crest. It is a relic which was secured by this firm from a collection brought to this country by an old Frenchman. By using a magnifying glass the profile of Napoleon, delicately etched, can be distinctly seen.

Your Birthstone.

September ushers in the sapphire which is the birthstone of this first fall month. The largest and finest sapphires come from Siam, and Ceylon is famous for its rubies and sapphires. In the placer ground about the Missouri River some sapphires of inferior quality have been found and in Macon county, N. C., about 100 good sapphires and rubies were found in 1879-80, but the mining of those corundum gems is nowhere in the United States carried on systematically. Sapphire is sometimes colorless and these white sapphires are sometimes sold as diamonds, but the beautiful blue is the color most often exhibited in this precious stone, the most admired tone being an intense corn-flower blue, with a beautiful velvety luster.

The figure of Confucius preserved in the museum at Gotha is carved from a parti-colored sapphire in such a way that the head is colorless, the body pale blue and the legs yellow. The most magnificent sapphire known is one of 951 carats, seen in 1837 in the treasury of the King of Ava, ruined by earthquake some twelve years later, and described by the English Ambassador to the court of that monarch. The Duke of Devonshire has a beautiful sapphire weighing over 100 carats. The sapphire is a gem excelled in value by no precious stone except the diamond.

A certain local firm, which makes a specialty of birthstones, has a magnificent line of sapphires set in rings and other forms which would appeal unerringly to the girl whose birthday comes during the present month. It is a pretty fashion—this adopting the stone peculiar to the month of your birth for a talisman, for it holds a fascinating sentiment.

Porch and Bungalow Rugs.

One of the big stores is just now exhibiting a line of East Indian porch and bungalow rugs which are very attractive and exceedingly inexpensive. One beauty of these rugs is that they literally last forever, and another is that when you want to clean them it is simply a matter of spreading them on the lawn and turning the hose on. They are made of cocoa fiber, which defies wear and hard usage, and takes most kindly to hose baths. "Our chief objection to them," said the salesman soberly, "is that they never wear out."

Some of them are in the natural color, with red or green borders, and others come in beautiful shades of green, blue or red. A big 6x9 rug may be had for $12.

In the carpet department yesterday I encountered a dear old lady. She was, I venture to say, the most interested visitor who has been in that department in many and many a day.

"Just think of it," she exclaimed in amazement, "that 'hit or miss' rag carpet there is priced at $15. My! My! but I've wove a sight of those in my younger days. Had my whole house carpeted with 'em back in Vermont and I used to pay my little girls 3 cents a ball for sewing carpet rags. Just to think—$15 for that carpet—and the colors ain't half so gay as mine was. I believe I'll go home and begin to tear up rags," and the old lady's eyes brightened with the sudden inspiration. "Why, at that rate, I could make money hand over fist—fifteen dollars for that carpet which wouldn't cover a 10x12 room. My! My!"

A Little Polar Lad.

Have you noticed that beautiful bisque boy in the window of a certain shop which always shows the latest in juvenile belongings? He looks like a little Polar boy and on a hot day it fairly makes you perspire just to see him. He is clad from the top of his head, over which is drawn a white knitted cap, to the soles of his feet in a knit Jersey suit—all of white. The little trousers extend to his ankles and fit literally skin-tight. Any mother could learn to knit such a suit for her youngster, but one wonders when in the world he would require such a suit in this climate. For automobiling in January mornings it might be just the thing and, anyway, it is so cute it is well worth seeing.

For an All-Around Coat.

A correspondent whose letters are always welcome to this department, writes to ask what material is suitable for a semi-fitting, three-quarter, general utility coat to be made without lining. Something in a dark, lightweight wool goods.

I know of nothing more suitable for this purpose than broadcloth or Venetian cloth, which makes up beautifully and may be had in any color one likes. The covert cloth is heavier and, for winter coats, makes up nicely. The semi-fitting coat, by the way, is very easily made, and if one is apt with her needle, may be gotten up very inexpensively. The broadcloth of good quality comes at from $2 to $2.50 per yard, but it is very wide, and quite inside the $10 limit, one may make herself a splendid coat. You can take it to a tailor for pressing if you wish, but the seams are few and may be quite easily pressed by oneself.

Seen and Heard.

The Teddy lions have evidently made as much of a hit as did the Teddy bears. I saw a small boy the other day carrying a tawny-maned lion whose color exactly matched the hair of the little lad. The combination was very esthetic.

During the jelly-making season it is well to remember that a few spoonfuls of carrot juice will make fruit juices jell with surprising promptness, and incidentally all the carrots you consume add to the clearness of your complexion.

A correspondent writes me of a method for preventing blue tub fabrics from fading. She says: "A friend who is a trained nurse and has often been complimented on the way the color of her blue uniform lasted, gave me the following method which I tested with great success. Mix a tablespoonful of turpentine in boiling water, then add enough warm water to cover goods. Allow goods to stand two hours in this turpentine water. Wring out and hang up to dry thoroughly. The goods can then be washed in the regular way without fear of fading."

Another correspondent suggests the use of borax in fine starch, adding a little after the starch has been made, first dissolving in water. A little lard, too, often helps make smooth the starch and prevent it from sticking.

The thermos bottles are coming into general use for keeping liquids hot or cold. Mothers especially appreciate the patented bottles in which baby's food can be kept warm for twenty-four hours or longer. These are invaluable for long railway journeys and are a wonderful convenience for keeping baby's milk warm at night. That accident, for instance, whereby the father, mother and house were burned up in Oregon a few nights ago by the alcohol lamp exploding while warming the baby's milk might have been averted had the thermos bottle been in use in that household.

REWARD FOR DAUGHTER.

Mother Puts Up Money for Arrest of Man Who Ran Away With Young Girl.

Mrs. Nellie George, mother of the 17-year-old girl who was enticed away from home by means of a mock marriage by David H. McMullin, a street car motorman, yesterday offered $200 reward for his arrest and the restoration of her daughter.

The police were notified of the reward by Attorney Frank Pratt, in whose hands the money has been placed. The lawyer has been retained to assist in the search.

The police hold warrants for the arrest of McMullen on charge of wife abandonment and abduction. When he ran away with the young girl he deserted a wife and family.

HIGHER EDUCATION OF PIG.

Queer Task Undertaken With Satisfactory Results by the Circus "Barnyard Pedagogue."

Those who believe the pig was built for commerce have made a mistake, it appears. The pork chop is delectable, to be sure, but how much more lofty is the work of educating the brute mind than cutting steaks off its hind quarters!

Lil Kerslake, who is styled the barnyard pedagogue, has accomplished the seemingly impossible task of teaching a common pig to climb a ladder and shoot the chutes. He taught its companions to ride velocipedes and skip the rope, and then organized what he calls his barnyard vaudeville company. This company of wonderful pigs is on the programme of Ringling Brothers' circus, which will be here September 21 and 22.

There are some wonderful headliners with Ringling Brothers this season. Among the features are the Arthur Saxon trio of strong men, the Schumann performing horses, Robiidello the wire king, the telephoning elephants and the automobile double-somersault. Principal among the acrobats are the Patty brothers, who walk on their heads; the Manello-Marnitz upside-down bell-ringers; the Pacheco, Burton, Belford, Corelli, Montrose and Lorch families; Horton and Linder, the Prosit trio, the Mardos and the Livingstons.

KindHearts--Good Deeds

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

While Ambassador Reid and his wife were in Paris the attention of Mrs. Reid was called to the condition of the young American girls who were in that city for the purpose of study. The girls, she discovered, lacked a circle of proper sociability. They lacked association with young women of their own ideas and ideals. She must get them together.

As wife of a prominent American diplomat, as a woman of means and social distinction, it was not hard for Mrs. Reid to accomplish almost anything she desired. In fact, no one better equipped for the work could have been found.

Mrs. Reid interested Mrs. William Newhall in the project, and the two women quickly found a suitable building on the Rue de Chevreuse, between the Boulevard Montparnasse and the Rue Norte Dame des Champs. This was leased for a term of years, overhauled, put in a thoroughly sanitary condition and opened, not only to students, but to all American women residing in Paris, as a club.

The response showed how much such a reform had been needed.

American girls welcomed its many advantages. Leaving the protection of stuffy garrets and draughty studios, it meant a whole lot to come into the comfort of the handsome new clubhouse.

Unpretentious externally, the building stood as the very last word in comfort inside.

Built in the usual form of French houses, with three sides forming a hollow square about a large court, the fourth side opens into a delightful garden at one end of which has been built the chapel of St. Luke's Church of the Holy Trinity, the American Church of the Avenue Alma.

Dr. J. Blair Spencer, a Washington physician, has inaugurated a movement for the equipment of a floating hospital for sick babies of the poor of the national capital. Several persons who are charitably inclined have expressed their interest in the project and their willingness to aid the movement, and it is the hope of the prime mover and his associates that so much progress will have been made by fall that the floating baby hospital will be assured for next summer.

The operation of a floating hospital, which would make daily trips down the Potomac River, is believed to be one of the best ways of preserving the lives of babies of the poor during the hot months of the year.

Frank Lotcon, a German hermit living alone on the Panjab River in the Blue Mountains of Oregon, is looked upon as the kindest man known. He lives in the woods where bear, deer and cougar actually interfere with his farming operations, and yet he believes it is wrong to kill the wild animals, and allows them to bully him unmercifully. A few days ago he awakened in the morning to see two large cougars glaring at him through the windows of his cabin. The mountaineer could easily have killed both of them, but he said he had no objection to have them inspect the interior of his house. After watching him for several minutes, the wild cats slunk away into the timber.

A field of corn, planted and cultivated by Locton with great care, was destroyed recently by a herd of deer. Several acres of the corn was eaten to the ground. Mr. Locton could easily have killed the deer the morning after the animals devoured the corn, but he did not molest them. A big deer recently created havoc with the irrigation scheme Mr. Locton has carried out on his farm. Wallowing in the spring from which the water is drawn, the deer squeezed mud into the outlet pipe, stopping it up, and the crops suffered before the cause of the trouble was discovered.

Taking all of these things into account, Oregon may claim to have the kindest man.

GOES TO NEW FIELD.

James Nolan, who for the past two years has been editor and manager of the Catholic Tidings, has severed his connection with the publication to return East. He has purchased the Catholic Record, a weekly, of Toledo, O., and will leave on Saturday for his new field.

Random Rambles in Fashion's Realm

FROM our buyers returning from the East and abroad come tidings of the newest style ideas to be launched in the fashionable world for the coming season. Many entirely new and altogether charming modes are represented in the costumes, frocks and suits now making their debut in our Suit Section and French Salon. One-piece frocks will be formidable rivals of the tailored suits this coming season. These "Trotteur Frocks," or "Coat Dresses," are now shown in the cleverest autumn effects at very moderate prices.

Drop in as often as possible and see the "latest." New arrivals each day.

TO OFFSET the tide of popularity in favor of the smart new one-piece frocks the Fall Suits have appeared in many stunning new effects, most refreshing to the fashionable woman in search of attire that is correct and distinguished. Never before was such skill employed in their designing, such infinite care in tailoring, while the odd and beautiful new autumn shades add to their list of attractions.

TRIES TRADE DISPUTES.

WOMAN JUDGE OF FRANCE TAKES DUTIES SERIOUSLY.

First Female Judge in France.
Mme. Clemence Jusselin, who has been invested with judicial honors and will try disputes between employers and employees.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Aug. 5.—"The Procureur of the Republic invites Mme. Jusselin to be at the Palace of Justice, on 6th January, 1909, at 11:45 a.m.

"Object: To take the oath."

This prosaic notice is quite epoch-making in its way. It may be stated without fear of contradiction that no woman—in France, at least—ever received such a message before, and unpretentious as it is, it is yet a proof that French democracy is steadily moving along the path of social progress and reform. The femme-juge (the woman-judge) is now a reality. True, she may not don the ermine or the scarlet robe of a judge of the civil or criminal court, she may not hear herself addressed by budding counsel as "Your Honor," but she may don a silk sash with a medal pinned thereon and call herself a conseiller prud'homme or, if she prefers it, conseillère prud'femme.

The Conseil des Prud'hommes, or Council of good men and true, is a court which sits to try trade disputes between masters and workers. Its headquarters in Paris are at the Tribunal de Commerce, a handsome dome-shaped building opposite the Palais de Justice. The court consists of three "patrons" or employers, and three workers, who are to all intents and purposes experts in their several vocations. Five categories of workers are represented: those employed in the building trade, tissues (including seamstresses, dressmakers, milliners, etc.,) chemical products, metal workers, and, lastly, those employed in trade and commerce generally.

The questions which come before the Conseil des Prud'hommes deal solely with disputes as to wages or for dismissal without the customary week's notice. Up to three hundred francs ($60) the decisions of the council are final. Otherwise there are two higher authorities to whom an appeal may be carried: firstly, the Tribunal de Commerce and secondly, and in the last instance, the Juge de Paix.

No more satisfactory or expeditious mode of bringing justice to the doors of those who are not blessed with this world's riches can well be conceived than this court of experts in which employers and employed have an equal voice and are assured of an equal hearing. Before the case is heard, a board of conciliation endeavors to settle the dispute amicably. If it is found that the parties cannot agree, then the affair goes before the experts entitled to deal with it. The court sits at least once a month, but generally twice. Each prud'homme receives a remuneration of $30 a month.

The first step towards the admission of women to a voice in the settlement of trade disputes was taken in 1907, when they were placed on the voting register for the election of conseillers prud'hommes, but the rubicon was not entirely crossed until last autumn, when they became eligible as councilloresses themselves. Thus it came about that Madame Clémence Jusselin was the first to have this honor thrust upon her by the almost unanimous voice of her peers.

Madame Clémence Jusselin is quite a remarkable woman in her way. She started life as a couturière, or dressmaker, and for the last dozen years she has been unremitting in her efforts to serve the toiling but only too often cruelly oppressed class of workers to which she belongs. By dint of argument and persuasion she succeeded in organizing the dressmakers into a syndicate, of which she holds the proud position of secretary. Her headquarters are at the Bourse du Travail, or Labor Exchange, where she is to be found every morning with clock-like regularity, quiet, energetic and business-like, watching over the interests of the needle workers.

Such is the woman, who, though barely 30 years of age, has been singled out for judicial honors, the first of her sex to sit on the "bench" in France. The other day, dressed in black, with a fur toque and aigrette of feathers on her head, she walked into the first chamber of the Civil Court and took the oath with uplifted hand at the bar:

"I swear to fulfill my duties zealously and with integrity and to keep our deliberations secret."

President Ditte, in his imposing red robe, unbent and smiled approvingly on the business-like young woman who, after uttering the formula in a clear and steady voice, bowed to him respectfully and passed on out of the court.

The following incident related of Madame Clémence Jusselin is worth recording. Just before Christmas, when other women were busy preparing their goose with chestnut stuffing, Mme. Jusselin stole into the court of the prud'hommes to watch the proceedings. The case that was being heard was that of a poor seamstress who was suing her employer for two francs (40 cents). The award was made in her favor but the court refused to allow her an indemnity for the time lost in having to attend. Mme. Jusselin was indignant. "Do you think," she said afterwards to her friends, "that I would have refused to grant the poor woman a few sous for her loss of time? No, indeed. I swear I will apply myself with all my heart to deserve the trust placed in me. If work-women do not obtain justice at my hands, from whom will they obtain it?"

The new woman-judge takes her mission in dead earnest.

FIXING FOR SHOW.

Preparations for Carnival to Take Place at Ocean Park—Riding to Be Feature.

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 31.—Capt. Hendricks of the Out West Riding Club has spent the past two days in making a reconnaissance of the beach as preliminary to arranging the riding features to be conducted daily in connection with the carnival, which is to open here September 6, and will be on until the 12th, inclusive.

One of the attractions definitely decided upon is an old-time stage robbery, with its accompanying gun fighting and rifling of the United States mail and express treasure box. There is to be the kidnaping of the blonde maiden from her rich papa, who is counted upon to ransom the fair daughter with a million silver dollars. For this affair a historic old mountain coach is to be provided, and the Out West equestrians will supply actors to take the leading parts of the robbery scene, which will be staged in the open during each day of the carnival's progress.

Negotiations have been completed whereby a hundred members of the riding club will be in constant attendance throughout the carnival to take part in the exciting programme. Capt. Hendricks has issued an invitation for all expert riders and rangemen about Los Angeles and throughout Southern California to affiliate with the club on the dates of the carnival and participate in the feats of equestrianship, which are to be made a brilliant part of the affair.

The work of fencing the arena has been commenced. Sawdust has been provided, and this is being distributed over the sand. The vacant lots between Pier avenue and Navy street and Trolleyway and the speedway will be the show grounds. There is abundant room for the accommodation of many thousand visitors, and a variety of concessionaires. The several committees of the Chamber of Commerce have the management of the affair well in hand, and all are laboring assiduously for the success of the undertaking.

The City Trustees have given permission to the Riding Club to give a Wild West exhibition next Sunday afternoon, on the ocean front, between Marine street and Windward avenue.

ONE SALOON EXCEPTED.

The City Trustees at their meeting last night granted a renewal of all liquor licenses, with the exception of that of the St. Mark's saloon. This place has been operated for several years by the creditors of the Cabrillo Company, which failed for a number of thousand dollars. No reason was given by the Trustees for the denial of the renewal of the license.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS.

Young Woman Victim of Auto Accident Near Fredericks Does Not Regain Senses.

VENICE, Aug. 31.—The automobile accident of last night, in which Miss Allie Webb, nurse-maid in the family of C. C. Martin of Los Angeles, sustained a fracture of the skull was the subject of police investigation this afternoon.

It was found the car, belonging to Martin, was being driven by Sheldon Schultz of No. 1026 Santee street when the accident occurred. Occupying the rear seats with Miss Webb were the wife and daughter of Martin.

Shultz said that he did not know, until he attempted to make the sharp turn in the road near Fredericks, that the steering gear of his machine was out of commission. He then found that he could not control the auto. The front wheels followed their own inclination. It was at this time that Miss Webb was thrown out of the car.

She fell on her head and was picked up just as soon as the automobile could be brought to a stop. She was then unconscious and it was supposed that she was dead. The Lankershim car was following close behind and in it the injured woman was placed and hurried to Venice, where she received surgical treatment.

Although she is still unconscious, it is stated at the Santa Monica Hospital that Miss Webb may recover. There is a slight improvement in her condition. Her injury is described as concussion of the brain.

DEMOCRATS TOSS.

pose I must appeal the case because if I submit to this judgment of the court, it will put me in the position of having to pay all the rest of the bills. Heaven knows how many there were, or are to be.

"I don't want to pay these bills. You know I wasn't running for President. It wasn't my election that was being ratified. I was just doing all the work and getting nothing for it. I didn't have any urgent personal need for the music of four brass bands.

"Passing around the hat? Well, the Jefferson Club appointed a committee to call upon me and see what could be done about meeting these bills. That was over a month ago. I have never seen the committee. After due consideration, I guess it doesn't care to meet the bills."

Unterrified by his appalling experience as Mr. Bryan's manager, Mr. Norton has once again entered the political lists.

He has undertaken the campaign of Richmond Plant, who is running for pretty near anything.

But the avalanche of bills has given Norton buck fever.

He started Mr. Plant for Mayor; but when the Bryan campaign bills crawled up to the $800 mark, he reduced Richmond's ambitions and shunted him for Tax Collector.

One morning a big bundle of "reminders" was heaved at him and made the total more than $800. Brother Plant was hurriedly pulled down to be a candidate for the City Council, along with the rest of the million candidates.

There are still other bills to be heard from, and there are still several other offices, down the scale, to which Mr. Plant may aspire.

Meanwhile, Democracy tosses in a bed of pain.

SUFFER AT SEA.

San Bernardino County Men, Becalmed Off San Diego, Finally Get Into Port.

RIALTO, Aug. 31.—Caught by a calm thirty miles off the coast in a small sailboat and kept on the sea fifty-four hours without food or protection against exposure, was the experience of Manager Harry Sceiple of the local Sunset telephone office.

Sceiple, with four other men of the Sunset company, G. S. Shields of San Bernardino, G. T. Padget of Los Angeles and a San Diego man, left San Diego Friday morning at 8 o'clock for the Coronado Islands. When well out they struck a stiff gale. The boat was carried south fifty miles down the Mexican coast, where a calm of twenty-four hours followed.

Saturday morning a light breeze carried the boat, a few knots at a time, north till they reached Coral Reefs, where another calm was struck, lasting till Sunday morning, when sufficient wind came up to carry them home.

They reached San Diego at 2 o'clock p.m. The men's faces were burned to a blister by the sun and they were weak from a three days's fast. They had only a jug of water and suffered from the severe cold nights and morning fogs, which drenched their light summer clothing. Sceiple says the sensations of hunger were only intermittent during the fast, being severe at intervals. The worst sensations were upon first tasting food after the fast.

SHE KNOWS.

DID SHE JUMP OR ONLY FALL?

AT ANY RATE HOLLYWOOD GIRL WAS SUBMERGED.

Wharfmen Who Helped Drag Her Out of Sea at Redondo Think She Attempted to Commit Suicide, But Friends Are Not So Harsh—Curious Incident.

Miss D. E. MacCollum of Hollywood jumped over the rail of a pier at Redondo Beach yesterday. She was pulled ashore by wharf employés.

The people who saw the affair believe the young woman attempted suicide. But that is not the explanation of her friends. They seem to incline to the view that she fell off the pier accidentally or jumped over the railing for fun. The Redondo Beach correspondent of The Times sends the following account of the affair:

"REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 31.—The employés of the wharf No. 2 and fishermen were startled this forenoon when a young woman, followed closely by a man and another woman, ran swiftly down the approach to the wharf, and leaping over the rail jumped into the water. The man immediately plunged into the ocean to rescue her, and wharf employés threw him ropes and then pulled the two to safety. The young woman is Miss D. E. MacCollum of Hollywood, and the gentleman who was with her is E. W. Elliot of Hollywood. Mrs. Elliot followed as the girl ran. As the girl leaped the man was heard to say: "Don't jump." Although the gentleman thanked the men, Homer Spencer and Andrew Dinsmore, who assisted him in saving the young woman, neither he nor the women would give their names or addresses.

"Later the young woman returned and said that 'he,' as she called Elliot, had lost a diamond stickpin in the water and asked that it be returned to the Hotel Redondo if found. No one at the hotel knew of the occurrence or the cause of the young woman's action. Mr. and Mrs. Elliot and Miss MacCollum left the hotel in the morning. They came Saturday."

A reporter called at the Elliot residence in Hollywood for an explanation of the action of Miss MacCollum. Mr. Elliot was spokesman. His very brief account does not quite tally with that from Redondo Beach.

He and his wife and Miss MacCollum were walking on the pier, he said. They had only gone a short distance when Miss MacCollum either jumped or fell off the pier. Elliot does not know what motive the young woman had.

Mr. Elliot is well known in Los Angeles. Mrs. Elliot was severely burned several months ago, and he took her East for a trip in the hope that the change might benefit her. They returned about a month ago.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

The railroads measure the national prosperity more definitely than any other medium. During the depressed business conditions of the past year and a half the railroad equipment companies were either closed down or were operating on short time. Since January 1st there has been a distinct and steady increase of orders for equipment by the railroads, until it is estimated that the total amount of such orders has reached $175,000,000. This is a large increase over last year. At the same time it is expected the year will be marked by a car shortage because of the phenomenally large crops, and the enormous tonnage of coal, coke, iron and steel that will have to be moved because of the industrial demand for these products.

The Tyson & Jones Buggy Company of Carthage, N. C., has filed a complaint against six railroads with the Interstate Commerce Commission for a claim of 20 cents. In the brief filed the company alleges that in December, 1907, it ordered a shipment of iron wagons axles from Wilkesbarre, Pa., and that the rate charged was 54 cents per 100 pounds, instead of 52 cents, which, it is claimed, was the published rate. The shipment weighed 1000 pounds, and the company claims the 20 cents which it alleges is coming to it. The six railroads named as defendants are the Central of Georgia, the Philadelphia and Reading, the Cumberland Valley, the Norfolk and Western, the Southern and the Aberdeen and Ashboro.

The brief covered six typewritten pages. Each of the railroads named as defendants will be required to file an answer setting forth why they should not pay the 3 1-3 cents which each is alleged to owe.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has established signal schools on the divisions of its line east of Pittsburgh to train men for the signal service of the system. This is due, says the Bookkeeper, to the rapid growth of block signaling which is in use along these lines. There are some 12,408 signals east of Pittsburgh, covering 7385 miles of road.

The railroad has appointed six signal apprentices who will be trained as engineers to direct and plan signal installations. Apprentices in these schools will serve a three years' course. The first year will be given to mechanical work with the repair and construction gangs, the second year will find them in the office of the Supervisor of Signals, and the third year will be devoted to outside work on electric and electro-pneumatic appliances.

Electric railroading is likely to have some effect in gradually moving population to higher levels, says the Boston Transcript. The topographic maps show the population masses on low lands, beside the ocean, the river and the lake. This natural tendency of the farmer and the factory operative has been accentuated by the steam railroad, which in its search for easy grades as well as for traffic has followed the water courses and the low lands, with the result that most of the high towns are off main lines or even unsupplied with railroad facilities altogether. Electricity is now tapping them. It has little objection to hill climbing. The parts of towns which were shunned by the locomotive are now getting help from an agency which holds the hill in no particular abhorrence. No trolley traveler of the vacation season can fail to perceive the new accessibility of the higher levels of suburban and rural regions. Its effect on the distribution of population remains to be worked out.

The greatest steel span bridge in the world is to be built across the East River, New York, by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, in order to make a complete railroad connection between New England and the south and west. Some of the other Brooklyn bridges are longer from station to station, but the new bridge of the New Haven road will be the largest as an arch. The span will be 1000 feet long and 220 feet high. The abutments will be of granite and the towers of concrete. In addition to the 1000 feet of steel arch there will be a steel viaduct of 1700 feet across Ward's Island, Randall's Island and the Bronx River.

Opportunity
may well be defined as "stenography" to the ambitious young person. Very plain is this to the Heald graduate. It means that the Heald training first fitted him to "make good" and that the Heald influence then brought him the opening. His rise then followed naturally; from his close relation to his employer and the satisfaction he gave. Or perhaps the chance came for him to become a boss himself. Today is a good day to enroll. STILL A MYSTERY.

SUSPECT HAS GOOD ALIBI.

Latest Prisoner in Poltera Case Set Free.

All Clews to Ghastly Crime Turn to Smoke.

Sheriff Keeping Up Search for Murderer.

William Beebe, who has been held for several days at the County Jail as a suspect in the Poltera murder case, was released yesterday after a thorough examination by Sheriff Hammel. The prisoner was able to prove a perfect alibi and showed that he was in the County Hospital at the time of the crime for which he was held.

The release of the youthful prisoner, whose peculiar mode of living classed him as the type of man sought, marks another era in the now celebrated murder mystery which has baffled county officials, police detectives and sleuths from all over the Pacific Slope, since May 21 of this year.

In spite of sensational stories which have been printed from time to time, the mystery is no nearer a solution than it was on the day when the whole country was startled by the horrible crime. Every possible clew has been sifted, the country has been scoured and rewards have been offered in vain.

Seventy-two men have been brought to the Sheriff's office and examined since the day of the murder, and more than 2000 miles have been traveled by Sheriff Hammel in an effort to capture the man who perpetrated the crime. Every man of known or possible degenerate tendencies is now the subject of inquiry, and any unknown person who fails to account for his whereabouts for the entire week in which the murder was committed is promptly arrested on suspicion.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS.

Pursuant to the vow which he took on the day when he discovered the ghastly remains of the little schoolgirl, Sheriff Hammel has followed every possible clew, and has used his utmost energies in tracking the murderer. A special detective, hired at the personal expense of the Sheriff, has been detailed to seek employment among the laborers in the neighborhood of the crime and trace all men who might possibly have been guilty of the offense, which has horrified all civilized communities.

No information from any source has been disregarded and even spiritualistic and other suggested adjuncts have been the subject of inquiry. Although the Sheriff says that he has no faith in any modes of solution other than those suggested by precedent, reason, observation and experience, he is unwilling that any one shall be able to say that he refused to consider any possibility.

Phillip Talamantes has been constantly detailed from the day on which the crime was discovered to the tracking of all who might be able to clear the mystery, and all Mexicans who were anywhere near the vicinity of the murder have been put through a thorough examination.

Several days ago a promising clew developed in the region back of Newhall and the Sheriff made a special trip in his automobile to that region and worked for two days on the new theory. Later a detective was detailed to that part of the country and is still working out a possible solution.

BUSY IDENTIFIERS.

Deputy Sheriff Moore and Albert Baumeister, who saw a suspicious Mexican in the vicinity of the crime, have been kept in constant service identifying men who correspond to the description of the supposed murderer.

From certain peculiar features of the crime and because of secret information, Sheriff Hammel was for some time inclined to the belief that the crime perpetrated was of Teutonic origin and probably the work of some degenerate of that race. However, the fact that the throat of the little girl was cut with a knife and the jugular vein and windpipe severed in such a manner as could only have been done by turning a knife after inserting it in the neck, stamps it as the work of some member of the Latin races.

In spite of the difficulties encountered in working on the Poltera mystery, due to the lack of tangible clews, many persons believe that the case will be solved within a short time. The old adage that "murder will out," has so many times proven its truth that few can bring themselves to believe that the fiend who killed the nine-year-old schoolgirl will escape paying the penalty of his crime on the gallows.

If the slayer of Annie Poltera is not captured it will be one of the very few cases on record where the criminal has avoided capture for more than six months and it will rank with the "Mr. Dove" mystery of Chicago as one of the great unsolved cases in the world of crime.

ROBBED OF HIS MONEY.

Family from Los Angeles Stranded in Portland Because of Theft. Second Victim.

Robbed of his savings while asleep on a Southern Pacific train, G. M. Gilbert of Huntington Beach, with his wife and three children, are stranded penniless in Portland, Or., Harry Alder of this city is locked up in the Portland City Jail, suspected of the theft.

Gilbert told the police of the northern city that the robbery occurred Sunday night, when the train left Sacramento. He is on his way to Grangeville, Idaho, but must now earn money to continue the journey.

Ernest Averson, who arrived in Portland from Los Angeles on Monday, also reported yesterday that he was robbed of $15 the night before in a disorderly house.

CONGRATULATES AMERICA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 31.—American diplomacy is congratulated today by the Novoe Vremya on its success in the Hankow-Sse Chuen Railroad loan of $30,000,000. The paper expresses the opinion that the advent of American capital in the Far East is welcomed to European diplomacy, which is unable to cope with the pretenses of Japan without American countenance.

Harper in the Sweatbox Yesterday.

The ex-Mayor fanned himself with his hat and mopped the perspiration from his face with a handkerchief while on the witness stand in the Broadhead trial.

BROADHEAD TRIAL.

posit box at the Security Savings Bank, to get my agreement of sale.

"I met Aikman again at Fourth and Spring streets and invited him to accompany me to the bank. When I opened my box, I counted the money that was on top—I should say there was about $500 or $600 in gold. I asked Aikman if he would give another check. I gave him gold and greenbacks to the amount of $1120 and he gave me the second check."

Broadhead said he met his wife at Levy's and handed her the two checks and the agreement of sale. He asked her to go to the office of the Security Land and Loan Company and make the payment. His wife went to Catalina that same afternoon, and the witness declared he did not know until her return some days later that he had failed to indorse the checks.

When he learned of the error, the witness said he immediately indorsed the checks and went to the land office in person to mage the payment.

EXPLAINS PAYMENT.

"Why did you make payments before they were due?" asked Appel.

"When I made the first payment, I had to mortgage the home. My wife did not like this, and so I promised to mortgage the ranch as soon as it was paid for and lift the mortgage on our residence in this city."

The witness said the last payment was made about February of this year and that a deed was soon after received. He said he borrowed $500 from his wife in addition to money he got for his crop of wheat and barley.

"During 1907 did Kern tell you he made an arrangement with Oswald whereby he (Oswald) would be permitted to open a 'redlight' district?"

"He never did."

"Did Oswald ever visit you?"

"Yes, he came to the station a number of times. He brought prize-fight tickets and generally asked for a detail of officers."

STIFF CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Capt. Fredericks subjected the witness to a stiff cross-examination.

"When did you see Dr. Quint last?" was the first question.

"I saw him today in the courtroom."

"When you gave Aikman $400 in gold in return for a check, why didn't you get a check for all the money you had then?"

"Well, I thought the check would be more convenient than the coin. The rest of the money was in greenbacks."

"Whose money was that in the safe deposit box?"

"It was mine."

"If you had $500 or $800 in money, why did you borrow $1500 from Dr. Quint?"

"I didn't want to get strapped."

"Did you ever pay your brother-in-law the money you borrowed from him?"

"I did."

"Where is he now?"

"I don't know."

CASH TRANSACTION.

"When, as you say, Dr. Quint gave you that $1800, do you know where he got it?"

"I do not."

"How did he carry it?"

"In his pocket."

"How much gold was there?"

"He had $400 in gold, but I do not recollect the denominations."

"What was the note for."

"It was a security for the loan in case anything happened to me."

"Why was it that you agreed verbally to pay interest when the note didn't call for any?"

NOTE AS SECURITY.

"I don't think I can answer that question, except by saying that the note was for security and that I agreed to pay interest after I made something from my crops."

"When was the loan first talked about?"

"I think it was on the evening before it was made. I told Dr. Quint I was anxious to get my land paid for as soon as possible."

"August 20, the day the note was given, was the day when the 'cribs' were closed, wasn't it?"

"Yes."

"Did you happen to have any special reason for wanting to make a payment on your ranch just then?"

"No."

"And you say you have paid the note?"

"Yes, I paid it out of a draft for $2500, which I received for part of my wheat and barley crop."

POLITICAL UNCERTAINTIES.

"If you needed money, why didn't you mortgage the ranch?"

"I couldn't until I got the deed. After that, there was so much uncertainty that I concluded to wait."

"You were not charged with anything then, were you."

"No, but I was Chief of Police, an appointive position."

"But you had your position as captain of police, didn't you?"

"Yes, but whoever came in as Mayor might get me out."

"You say you gave your wife two checks which were not indorsed, did you not?"

"Yes, but I thought I indorsed them before I gave them to her."

"And she took the checks to Catalina?"

"Well, she went first to find the land office, but it had been moved."

Broadhead explained he had an engagement and therefore asked his wife to transact the business. He did not enlighten the jury as to the reason for getting the agreement of sale and turning it over to her instead of going himself to the land office, two blocks away from the bank.

EX-MAYOR FLUSTERED.

Harper was given a searching cross-examination, similar to his inquisition at the previous session.

The ex-Mayor appeared flustered, and mopped his face repeatedly with his handkerchief, as he essayed to answer the rapid fire of questions.

He was asked if a statement regarding his interview with E. T. Earl, March 11, 1909, was substantially correct. He replied that it was, with the exception of a remark attributed to him to the effect that when he withdrew his libel suits he would see that the police commissioners did likewise.

The paper was not read to the jury. It contained the substance of an interview, in which Harper agreed to resign as Mayor for the sake of his family. The attorneys for the defense made every effort to exclude all testimony as to Harper's reasons for resigning, but the District Attorney, in a series of adroit questions, drew what he wanted from the nervous witness.

Harper said that he never admitted any wrong-doing to Earl, but that he did not want anything published which would tend to injure his reputation and harass his wife. He said:

REASON FOR RESIGNATION.

"During the recall campaign, my wife and I were subjected to much annoyance. In telephone messages and letters, I was accused of almost every crime in the decalogue. Many threats were made. My wife is practically an invalid. She only weighs about ninety pounds. I thought if I could secure peace by dropping out, I would do so."

Harper broke down and wept. Attorney Appel joining him out of sympathy.

In introducing this line of testimony, Capt. Fredericks explained that he had no wish to subject the witness to unnecessary pain, but that he deemed the evidence material.

"I want to show it was fear of the truth becoming known that made him turn his back in the midst of a fight," said the District Attorney. "If a soldier stops in the midst of battle and runs to the rear, it means he is afraid. He may say he went back to get a drink of water, but when the facts are placed before an intelligent body of men, there is no difficulty in passing upon the question."

In making numerous objections to this line of cross-examination, counsel for Broadhead repeatedly referred to Harper as "the defendant."

KNEW OF DISTRICT.

At the morning session the ex-Mayor was made very uncomfortable by probing questions as to his attitude to the "red-light" district.

Step by step Capt. Fredericks made the unwilling witness state what he remembered about his interview in a newspaper and what was his plan for the treatment of disorderly women.

"We have spent about nine-tenths of our time trying to prove the existence of the 'red-light' district," said Capt. Fredericks. "Oswald stated he paid money to Harper for allowing the district to exist. Harper says he did not get any money. We want to show that he did know of this district when he gave the interview."

"Did you say, in that interview, that you looked over the field for a good location, and decided upon the district east of Alameda as the most desirable?"

"I did not."

ORDERS TO WOMEN.

"Did you state that the Police Commission did not instruct the women to go to that particular district, but told them to keep north of First street?"

"I don't remember making such a statement."

"While the grand jury was in session during 1908, did you fear lest something might be uncovered about the district which would be detrimental to your administration?"

"I had no fear," said Harper.

"In February or March, 1909, you were a candidate for Mayor in the recall election?"

"Yes."

"And you resigned your office as Mayor?"

"Yes."

The witness would not admit he resigned because he feared lest any wrong-doing would be unveiled, but said it was on account of his family.

He gave an audible sigh of relief when he was finally excused.

FREMONT HOUSE THREATENED.

Historic Building in Plaza Near Destruction When Fire Rages in Hay Market.

The house in the Plaza which was once the home of Gen. John C. Fremont was in imminent danger of destruction for a little while last night, when fire raged in a large quantity of hay in the rear of the historic building.

Harold Lynn, a young man, was ordered to the top of the Fremont house by Police Sergeant Sebastian while flames were leaping through the roof of the old buildings next door, and, clambering up like a cat, he made his way to the flagpole and hauled down the American flag that was flying in the smoke.

The fire was extinguished before it had reached the structure which is so dear to all Angelenos and which so many tourists visit.

The blaze was discovered at 11:15 o'clock by employes of the Edison electric light plant, who saw great volumes of smoke issuing from the roof of the Los Angeles Hay Market, at the corner of Olivera and Marchessault streets, and the first alarm brought numerous engines to the scene. The flames spread to the rear of a junk store next door. From there it gained the rear of the El Rico restaurant, and several Mexicans sleeping there were roused only when policemen kicked in the door.

The total loss is estimated at about $3000, including the destruction by fire and water of about $2000 worth of hay which was in the warehouse of the hay market, of which J. R. Cate, now visiting in Massachusetts, is the proprietor. Sam Hill, Cate's manager, said last night that he thought the blaze had been started by a lighted cigarette dropped on the hay by some of the men who were sleeping in the building.

Fullerton Operation.

The Orange Oil Company is rigging for its third well in the Brea Cañon end of the Fullerton district. The hole will be sunk close to the No. 2 well that was brought in flowing 800 barrels about three months ago. It should spud this week.

No. 2 has had a good deal of trouble with sand and was put on the pump drawing about 250 barrels a day. While the well was brought in at 2900 feet, it has been tubed only to 2100. Six and five-eighths inch casing is to be put down to the bottom and an attempt made to shut off the sand. No. 1 is still producing 110 barrels daily.

The Fullerton is down 1200 feet on No. 5, started July 1. The Pico is down 400 with its first hole, some 1300 feet from the Orange No. 2.

The Puente has drilled the Scott well 1000 feet. This company has had a fishing job at No. 4 for several months. Recently it has been attempting to drill past tools and a part of the tubing but has met with little success, according to reports, and is still fishing.

A Young Mother's Discovery

The baby was plump and apparently healthy, but it was peevish and fretful and cried most of the night. The young mother couldn't understand it. To be sure, baby's skin was red and rough, but she thought all babies were that way.

Finally she went to see her mother about it, and that wise and experienced person simply said: "Use Hay's Harfina Soap for the baby's bath—always." Now the baby crows and chuckles all day, sleeps like a top, and its skin is white, clear, velvety and free from all roughness and irritation. Try this wonderful soap for your baby—and for your own bath. It is pure, healing, soothing and antiseptic.

It thoroughly cleanses the skin, and makes it soft, white and healthy. Ask your druggist or any of the following druggists for this splendid soap. 25c a cake, or sent by mail on receipt of 25c. Send for book "The Care of the Skin." PHILO HAY SPEC. CO., Newark, N. J.

CUTICURA CURED TWO BROTHERS

One had Face Covered with Itching Eruption—Eyesight was Affected—Raw, Itching Humor Spread Over the Other from Head to Feet in a Single Day—Dreadful

SKIN-TORTURES YIELD TO EASY TREATMENT

"In 1907 my face broke out in a mass of itching sores which finally affected my eyesight. I tried several highly recommended salves that cost one dollar an ounce, but to no avail. A friend of mine urged me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment as he was sure of good results from his own experience. I used the Cuticura Ointment for about six weeks, after washing thoroughly with the Cuticura Soap. My face is in perfect health now which I owe to the Cuticura Remedies, I shall always stand by them as one of the greatest blessings to the suffering thousands. Arthur D. Gridley, 532 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Apr. 9, 1909."

"In the middle of the night of March 30th I woke up with a burning itch in my two hands and I felt as if I could pull them apart. In the morning the itching had got to my chest and during that day it spread all over my body. I was red and raw from the top of my head to the soles of my feet and I was in continual agony from the itching. I could neither lie down nor sit up. I happened to see about Cuticura Remedies and I thought I would give them a trial. I took a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. I put it on from my head down to my feet and then went to bed. On the first of April I felt like a new man. The itching was almost gone. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and during that day the itching completely left me. Frank Gridley, 325 E. 43rd St., New York City, Apr. 27, '09."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (75c.) AMERICAN BOAT AGAIN WINNER.

ELLEN THIS TIME CROSSES THE LINE IN FRONT.

German Challengers Hopelessly Beaten and Seem to B eOut of the Contest—Woman Sails the Wolf for the First Time in History of Big Yachting Races.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MARBLEHEAD (Mass.) Aug. 31.—The honors in the second day's race of the international contests between the German and American sonderklasse boats, for the President Taft and Gov. Draper cups, fell to the American yacht Ellen, owned by Charles P. Curtis of Boston and sailed by his son, Charles P. Curtis, Jr.

The German challengers were hopelessly beaten. The Seehund II dropped out of the race when it was one-quarter over because she fouled a flag mark. The Wolf finished a close second, while the Joyette, winner of yesterday's contest, was third, forty-five seconds behind the Wolf.

It was a slashing race, end to end. The Ellen got away first and led until the outer turn on the second leg was reached, when in the freshening breeze the Wolf spurted and seized first place. Then came the final run back to the finish line, and the battle was decided only a quarter of a mile from the committee boat Orion.

The Ellen was forty-five seconds behind the Wolf when she turned the windward flag stake for the second time, but with all sails set she slowly crept up on the scudding Wolf. Near the finish line the wind canted slightly and, filling the Curtis boat's spinnaker, gave her a final push down the course, a winner over the Loring yacht by sixteen seconds, or perhaps three boat lengths.

The course was three miles out, back and repeat. When the start was signaled, the wind was eight miles an hour. Capt. Protzen sent his boat, the Revelle, across the line with marvelous accuracy in a windward berth, with the Joyette close under his lee, and the Margaretha just to the leeward of the New York boat.

The Wolf, sailed by a woman, had the worst start of the lot, but by only a few seconds. It was the first time that a woman had handled the tiller in an international yacht race.

REGULARS WIN AGAIN.

Capt. McDougall of California Wins Valuable Marine Corps Cup.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CAMP PERRY (O.) Aug. 31.—The National Guard marksmen got the worst of it again today at the National Rifle Association's tournament. Both of the matches concluded went to regulars.

The handsome $1500 cup, which officers of the United States Marine Corps gave to the National Rifle Association for annual competition to be given to the rifleman making the highest score in twenty shots at 600 and 1000 yards, was won by Capt. D. C. McDougall, U.S.M.C. of California, who scored 187.

Of the ten leaders only one was not a regular.

The service skirmishers in the inaugural team knocked out the crack team of the District of Columbia in the Evans skirmish match, which stirred up more genuine enthusiasm than anything that has happened here since the shoot started on August 9.

The final event of the tournament, the President's match, opened this afternoon.

IN TROUBLE OVER HATS.

Two Men Accused of Smuggling Will Be Taken Off Steamer at San Pedro Today.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 31.—When the German steamer Erna arrives here from Victoria, B. C., tomorrow two men accused of smuggling will be taken off her by Deputy United States Marshal W. C. Hait. The latter arrived here tonight. The men are said to have smuggled $40 Panama hats.

A dispatch from Seattle, Wash., says: "Through its secret-service agents the local customs officials were able to make a seizure two weeks ago of $40 Panama hats, valued at $2 each, which had been shipped here by express. When the hats were shipped from San Pedro they were consigned to 'J. Louis Anderson' of this city, who, however, did not call for them. The seizure brings to light the fact that the government has many secret-service agents working at San Pedro and the Mexican ports."

The padlocks remained on the doors of the offices of the Clerk and Tax Collector at the City Hall today and no one entered. Charles L. Wilde, Deputy City Clerk, and John W. Shenk, Deputy City Attorney, came over from Wilmington this afternoon after shipping the records from the City Hall there to Los Angeles. It is stated that they came here with the intention of taking the assessment rolls back with them to facilitate work in the Clerk's office, but decided, after a consultation, not to do so.

Mrs. Emily Wunderlich, the deputy clerk who was denied admission to the City Clerk's office yesterday, sat all day in a chair at the foot of the stairs while the custodian of the City Hall guarded the doors above. It is stated that efforts will be made tomorrow to secure permission from the Board of Public Works to allow Mrs. Wunderlich and Mr. Wilde to work on the books in the office, but that the expert accountants will be denied admission.

FATAL TO CHICKENS.

Twenty-four lives were lost in a fire caused, presumably, by a cigarette dropped in a lot of hay in the rear of the feed store at No. 719 North Alameda street last night. The fatalities were in two coops of chickens. The total loss was about $100.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Emery, No. 1223½ West Fifth street, will return tomorrow from an extended European tour.

SOMNANBULIST HURT.

Falls Asleep on Car, Steps Off and Falls and Breaks One of His Arms.

Francisco Traienna, a Mexican laborer riding on a University car last night, went to sleep on his way home. While the conductor was at the forward end of the car, Francisco walked to the rear end and stepped off. He awoke when he hit the pavement and his arm was broken. The injured member was dressed at the University Police Station, where Francisco said that he had often walked in his sleep, but that this was the first time he had begun a somnambulistic performance on a street car.

HURT BY RUNAWAY.

J. Henault, residing in Independent avenue, near the McKinley House, was knocked down yesterday evening by a runaway horse at First and Los Angeles streets and painfully injured about the head. The animal, with only a halter about its neck, was running along Los Angeles street. At First street a policeman tried to stop it and, in trying to avoid the officer, the horse bounced against a trolley car. It leaped against Henault near the curbstone and he fell like a log, narrowly escaping the frantic brute's hoofs. His injuries, a long laceration across the forehead and many bruises, were dressed at the Receiving Hospital.

Standard Gets Water.

The Standard is experiencing much trouble with water on 24-32-23, the old Talara lease at Midway, which it bought from Porter & Scribner. The water is understood to be mixed with the oil and separation has not been very successful. It is an excellent product but may be spoiled for refining by water. Prior to the transfer no such difficulty was reported to be experienced.

Beyond the bare fact that some oil has been struck at about 1900 feet there is very little to be learned as to the Standard's work on 26-31-23, not on the flat at Midway.

Judge Gray's Turn.

It is said that when Judge Wheaton A. Gray, one of the first Appellate Court judges of this State, was on the Superior Court bench in Tulare county he was called to Fresno to try a criminal case. The day was warm and some of the jurors fell asleep while the arguments were proceeding. Toward 4 o'clock in the afternoon Judge Gray roused the slumberers by saying in a loud tone: "Gentlemen of the jury, the District Attorney has finished his argument. Now wake up and hear the charge of the court."—[California Weekly.

APPRAISEMENTS.

together with, and stand with the distorted and extremely high appraisements on the same property by two other appraisers, viz.: Messrs. Harpham and Varcoe, and against my will, best judgment, and protest, I submitted to such a compromise and which I now regret."

Chairman Brown, Mr. Nye, Mr. Scott and Mr. Collins, in the order named, made quick denial as to the tenor of the interview at the hotel, the chairman saying that "it is absolutely false." He asked for the affidavit of Mr. Hart, and it was turned over to him.

The reason for this feeling on the part of the Realty Board will be best understood by giving a few illustrations.

APPRAISEMENT FIGURES.

The property occupied by a drug store, on the corner of Fifth and Main streets, belongs to A. C. Bilicke, and is on the market at $162,000, in round numbers. It was appraised by Assessor Hopkins at $165,000; by the Realty Board, at $167,500; by Harpham, at $257,300; Varcoe, at $300,000, and by Hart, at $150,000.

In the compromise effected by the Board of Equalization, Hart accepted the figures of Harpham, making the compromise valuation, without the buildings, $257,000, in the face of the fact that it is offered for sale at exactly $110,000 less, when you deduct the value of the buildings.

The International Bank property, Temple and Spring streets, is appraised by the County Assessor at $79,800; by the Realty Board, $65,000; Hart, $86,000; Harpham, $143,950; Varcoe, $142,000; compromise, $120,000, almost double the figure of the Realty Board. The building, of course, is not included in these figures.

The old Temple Block, at the junction of Spring, Main and Temple streets, is being offered to the city, buildings and all, for $250,000, to be used for building a City Hall. The assessor appraised the ground at $239,000, while Varcoe's figure is $348,000, or $118,000 more than the owners ask for it.

These are but samples, and might be multiplied many times from the list submitted by the State Board.

ASSESSOR OUTSPOKEN.

The contest on the part of the Realty Board was waged by George N. Black, W. M. Garland and O. E. Farish, while a large number of the members were in the audience. They all supported the County Assessor in maintaining that his appraisements were high, and when Harpham and Varcoe were placed on the witness stand, they were submitted to a hot grilling.

Harpham admitted that he was a civil engineer, and that he had devoted but little time to his work on property values, taking the estimates of others.

Varcoe admitted, that while he is a real estate agent, he has never bought or sold a piece of property on Main or Spring streets or Boardway.

Assessor Hopkins declared the appraisements by Varcoe and Harpham to be "unfair, inequitable, excessive, misleading and absolutely valueless; made without any basis or proper knowledge of value of property."

Mr. Hopkins put on witnesses from Pasadena, Hollywood and Long Beach, each of whom was asked to cite any property with which he was acquainted, and give his opinion of the value put on it by the Assessor. In every instance they declared the appraisements to be too high, in some cases as much as 50 per cent. too high.

NORTH VS. SOUTH.

As the hour of adjournment approached, Mr. Scott, the statistician of the Board of Equalization, said he wished to ask Mr. McIlvaine whether he was responsible for an interview published in a morning paper, criticising the San Francisco appraisements.

With considerable heat, Mr. McIlvaine said that he was, and that he got the facts from the figures made by Mr. Scott himself. He also chaffed Mr. Scott by intimating that there was a feeling of jealousy of the prosperous Southland.

Mr. Scott disavowed any feeling of the kind, but added that he wished to correct an impression that seems to be prevalent down here to the effect that San Francisco is not bearing her share of the burden. He took up in considerable detail the banks, hotels and street railways, to show that they paid more to the State than the same class of property in Los Angeles county.

He declared that Los Angeles has three and a half times as much street railway and three times as many cars as San Francisco, and yet the latter pays more taxes to the State than the former. Mr. Hopkins said the comparison was not a fair one, inasmuch as our interurban roads run through a sparsely settled country from the mountains to the sea, while those of San Francisco are entirely in a business district.

Mr. Nye took up the question briefly, stating that, taking the valuations of the Los Angeles Realty Board, the assessments of Mr. Hopkins were just 55 per cent., while in San Francisco the assessments are 66⅔ per cent. of the valuation.

STRAIGHT FROM SHOULDER.

County Assessor Hopkins, addressing the board before adjournment, brought out a number of interesting points. He said, in part:

"I know that your task is a difficult one and I do not expect that you will arrive at a truly equitable result. With the experience I have had in this line, I have made up my mind that equality in assessments cannot exist, and I have almost given up hope of writing a perfectly equitable assessment roll.

"Absolute equality in taxation is a result that has never been reached under any system that has been formulated. As far as California goes, one of the most flagrant sources of inequality is introduced by the State itself. Last year there was loaned in ten counties of the State $2,442,000 State money, and in Los Angeles county $705,000. These loans resulted in reducing the amount of taxable property in the counties by the amounts loaned.

"I had no knowledge of the findings of the appraisers appointed by your board until too late to check up their results. The only thing I could do was to refer them to the people of the different sections for their judgment. You have heard what they think of them.

"Prior to this year this county has not appeared before you for consideration since 1903, and in that year its assessment was not changed. What have we done since? Look at your own statistics and you will see that in that year we returned a total of $164,712,785. The next year, in round numbers, we gave you an increase of over $30,000,000; in 1905, $30,000,000; in 1906, $72,000,000; in 1907, $26,000,000; in 1908, $24,000,000; and 1909, $21,000,000 more; this year reporting $420,002,550—an increase in seven years of more than $225,000,000, or an increase alone of $68,000,000 more than the total assessment of any other county in the State except San Francisco. And bear in mind that the two years last past have been years of extreme financial depression. Look the State over and see if you can find anything even approaching this.

"Look at the only county that has a larger valuation than Los Angeles county. In 1903 San Francisco was before you. You fixed its value at $545,866,445. The next year it dropped forty-three millions, and this year it stands at $492,865,197, or $53,000,000 less than in 1903. However, we do not complain of San Francisco's value. We know through what it has passed, although the city as now rebuilt represents more value than ever before.

"I find that in 1903 the three counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda paid 55 per cent. of the entire State tax, and in 1909, if the present figures of these counties are left untouched, that they still will pay the same 55 per cent. But Los Angeles county, which in 1903 paid not quite 11 per cent. of the entire State tax, this year, on the present figures, will pay over 21 per cent. Surely this is going some, and should be satisfaction to the most enthusiastic booster.

"But, as I said before, we do not enter any complaint about the assessment of the two other counties mentioned, and refer to them only for the purpose of comparison, but we do ask to be allowed to grow in our normal manner without 'official assistance' from abroad.

"How have we increased the value of our property? By the untiring energy of our citizens, who have risked their private fortunes in assisting the building up of the county and State; by the issuing and sale of millions of dollars worth of bonds, expending the money thus obtained in building public improvements, water works, good roads and schools, mortgaging our future and investing the money in betterments, thereby creating new values and wealth for the present.

"These bonds are yet unpaid, but we will pay them out of our own resources, and are glad and willing that the State, at large, shall profit by these increased values, created by the money derived from our own bonded indebtedness, but in the meantime we do not want to be compelled to pay more than our just proportion of the expenses of the State.

"Do your wish to penalize a community for bringing millions of foreign money into the State to be expended on great public improvements, when by so doing we have increased the value of the State and created new wealth?

"Do you wish to drown a fruit rancher in taxes before he has paid for his water system, by aid of which he has transformed a blistering desert into an orchard?

"I desire to call your attention to the assessment of $69,634,580 of personal property, almost as much as any other two counties of the State, and to the assessment of 90,000 poll taxes—as many as are assessed in any other five counties of the State.

"The investigation by this State Board has been confined to realty, or to a total of about 56 per cent. of the entire assessment roll, leaving nearly one-half of the entire valuation without representation as to its taxation. This was cause for complaint in the days of the Revolution, and is equally cause for complaint now."

REFUSES REPARATION.

China Declines to Investigate Murder of British Surveyor—America May Take Hand.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PEKING, Aug. 31.—China has declined the proposal made by Sir John Jordan, the British Minister, for a joint investigation of the killing in Kansu Province last June of Hazrahall, an Indian surveyor attached to the meteorological expedition under Lieut. F. S. Clarke, a former officer of the American army.

Henry P. Fletcher, the American chargé d'affaires, concurred in the British demand.

China gives as her reason that it is impossible to bring witnesses from Kansu Province.

Minister Jordan holds that as the Clarke expedition was traveling under American passports it devolves upon the American government to press for reparation. Hazrahall was a British subject, and Sir John explains that it is impossible to permit his murderer to go unpunished.

War Veterans Try to Bottle Up the News.

Another Stormy Session Is Held at Pasadena.

Distinguished Geologist and Octogenarian Dies.

Office of The Times, No. 24 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Sept. 1.—After a stormy opening of the second day session of the sixth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans here yesterday morning, action was taken to bottle up all encampment matters and deny any reports of dissension.

A press committee composed of M. M. Moulton, San Diego; C. W. Davison, Mayor of San José, and W. H. Reeves, Pasadena, was appointed. The Pasadena man was appointed chairman, and at first refused to act, stating that he might be prejudiced in favor of Syverton, against whom court-martial papers have been filed. Senior Commander Nolan demanded he serve.

A resolution was presented by J. J. West, chairman of the Resolution Committee, censuring the camps of Vallejo, Oakland and Alameda, which had withdrawn their delegates. It classed their action as unpatriotic and lacking in fraternal spirit, and maintained that the negro question has never been an issue in the department.

Oakland and Vallejo are two of the oldest and largest camps of the State and take exception to the last statement. They say an attempt was made four years ago to organize a negro camp in Vallejo; that it was an issue at that time and that it was voted down. Also, that the negro question was an issue when it was desired to organize what is now the Harrison Gray Otis Camp in Los Angeles, whose four delegates have occasioned trouble here by their presence.

In the parade Monday night the Ensign Bagley Camp was placed in the line of march behind these four negro delegates. A number of the members withdrew and refused to march. It is also ascertained that the few who did go refused to salute Senior Commander Nolan at the reviewing stand because of the court-martial charges which he has preferred against Syverton, a member of the local camp.

While the encampment is making a strong effort to bottle up all these facts, it is nevertheless clear that the situation is critical. The local order has made public a statement in which a determination is expressed to carry Syverton's fight, if necessary, to the national encampment.

So critical are the conditions engendered by bitterness of feeling that it is believed that instead of there being no color line issue that this very matter will be taken to the national encampment and that the three camps of Northern California will present the case. It is known that two other members of Ensig. Bagley Camp were threatened with court-martial yesterday morning. Frank A. Foy and W. H. Reeves. Nolan is determined to punish any who have raised the color line issue.

When Chairman West presented his resolutions yesterday morning Mr. Schaffer, of the Resolution Committee, arose and opposed their acceptance on the ground that the committee had never convened. He openly accused West of running things in a high-handed manner, and of being boss of a machine. Schaffer's objection was upheld and the Committee on Resolutions was compelled to go to the antechamber, where the resolutions were ratified.

An attempt was made to reseat Syverton, but was beaten by a vote of 27 to 12. The matter was carried still further in an endeavor to force him from the hall, but Syverton was allowed to remain, although he has no representation.

Shortly after noon five special trains took members of the organization and of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Balboa Beach, where the afternoon was spent.

SEEK WATER OPTIONS.

Mayor Earley made a definite move toward municipal ownership of water yesterday by appointing a committee to secure an option for the purchase of the three local plants. He explained that he considered this the most important step to be taken as a beginning. He added that further investigation would follow, and that probably other committees would be appointed.

Councilman J. D. Mersereau was appointed to fill the position of the late Councilman Webster on the former committee which investigated the question a year ago, and which was reappointed. Others on the committee are the Mayor, City Attorney Wood, City Engineer Van Arnum and Councilman Hotaling.

STORE ROBBED.

The store of L. N. Merritt in the Chamber of Commerce Building was entered Thursday night and $427.90 in cash was taken from the register. Entrance was effected by removing the pins from the hinges of a basement door. A strange feature of the burglary is that cash in excess of what was taken was left behind in the drawer, although the robber must have known it was there. The news was kept secret by the police department, which follows the policy of bottling up news as much as possible when it is hot on a trail. Finger prints in the dust on the side of the door jamb are thought to be an excellent clew upon which the officers are working. Two young colored boys who are supposed to have done this job are reported to have been arrested at a late hour last night.

DELOS ARNOLD DIES.

Hon. Delos Arnold, who served eleven years on the Board of Education here, was an organizer of the local Masonic lodges and a resident of Pasadena off and on for thirty years, died yesterday morning, aged 80 years.

Delos Arnold was known all over the world for his research in geological and archaeological subjects, particularly fossils and shells. He gave to Stanford University one of the finest collections in the country.

He was a member of the United States Senate from Iowa in 1880-82 and was at that time appointed commissioner to audit the accounts of the Iowa State Capitol Building Commission.

He came to Pasadena to reside permanently in 1886 and was connected with a number of real estate syndicates about here and Riverside. He amassed a goodly fortune. All of his property was turned over to his only son in the form of a deed of trust some time ago. His son is Dr. Ralph Arnold, who was for six years connected with the Geological Department at Washington, D. C., and who returned to Pasadena with his wife not long ago to make his home here.

The only other immediate relative is a sister, Mrs. Joseph Holmes of Los Angeles. Mr. Arnold was born in Chenango county, New York, and most of his life, prior to coming to Pasadena, was spent in Marshaltown, Iowa.

The funeral is to take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Masonic chapel. Mr. Arnold was second eminent commander of the local commandery, the Corona Blue Lodge, and past eminent commanders will act as pallbearers. The body will be cremated and the ashes will be sent to Marshaltown.

Hon. Delos Arnold, pioneer of Pasadena, who died yesterday.

GAMBLERS FINED.

George Bentley and Ralph Cotton, who were found guilty of running gambling games at Catalina Island, were fined $500 each by Justice Klamroth yesterday.

PASADENA NEWS NOTES.

Dr. L. H. Medici de Biron, promoter of humane societies, who is charged with having overdriven and cruelly treated his big stallion, Rosewood, in Monrovia, is not to be tried until October 1. He will then ask for a change of venue.

President Cary of the Tournament of Roses Association, says that a meeting of the society will be called shortly to consider the proposition of mortgaging eight acres of the park to raise funds to enlarge the race track. He is not in favor of turning the property over to the city at this time.

Mrs. Annie Besant is to be given a public reception here Saturday afternoon.

It was decided yesterday that garbage collectors must pay a license of $25 per wagon.

Ben Dent, a colored man, who has resided for twelve years on Waverly Drive, has been charged with malicious mischief by his white neighbor, W. J. Hess. The trouble is over the removal of a gate in a fence.

A permit taken out yesterday for the Maryland Apartments amounting to $52,000, brought the total building permits for the month up to the $200,000 mark. This is the largest record for August in the city's history.

William D. Turner writes that an error was made in placing the temperature in Pasadena, Sunday, at 110 deg. It was obviously a misprint, for 101, but Mr. Turner is willing to go as high as 104. He says: "A number of the most reliable thermometers registered as the highest temperature 101, 102 and 104. Many people have their thermometers so placed that there is a great deal of reflected heat, which makes their readings very much too high. You also state that the Los Angeles temperature Sunday, 101, was the highest in ten years. My recollection is that the United States Weather Bureau of Los Angeles on July 4, 1906, or 1907, showed for Los Angeles 106. Our highest temperature Monday was 101. These readings are, of course, near the earth's surface."

SANTA MONICANS GUESTS.

Councilmen and Others Entertained by Redondo Beach Trustees—Ball Players Fish.

REDONDO BEACH, Aug. 31.—A party of Santa Monica officials were guests of the Trustees today. A barbecue was held in the grove on Pacific avenue and Councilman Chrisman presided as chef. Later the visitors were taken about the city in automobiles. In the party were Councilmen Snyder and Armstrong, Clerk J. C. Hemingway, Treasurer Ralph Bane, City Engineer Thomas H. James and E. P. Nittinger, Assistant Fire Chief.

The Portland ball team spent yesterday here and caught 1600 pounds of albicore.

Gen. Adna R. Chaffee and family will occupy the William B. Matthews cottage on Ninth street, Hermosa Beach, the coming month.

HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31.—Midshipman Theodore E. Hammond, U.S.N., is expected in the city next week for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. S. Hammond of No. 164 Orange avenue. He will return to the Naval Academy October 1.

THREE DUPED BY CLEVER WOMAN.

MEN ADVERTISE FOR WIVES AND ARE REPENTANT.

Easterners Ask Police to Locate Charmer Who Secured Their Cash. Pugilist Thrashed by Car Conductor. Ordinance Abolishing Police Chief Downed.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 31.—Realizing at last that he had been made the dupe of a designing woman, August Hoffbrauer of Sharon, Pa., wrote the police of this city, asking for information about Mary Ruth Martin.

Detective Phillips discovered that a woman of that name had been getting mail at the postoffice. Watch was kept for a week, but though letters rapidly accumulated, they were not called for, and it became evident that she had taken alarm and left the city. Yesterday the detective received a letter from Hoqbrauer, inclosing one written to him by the woman, who now gives her address as Fruitvale, Cal. She writes she was sick and friendless, and asked for more money.

Detective Phillips has come into possession of facts which indicate that "Mary Ruth Martin" has been wresting coin from various bachelors and widowers, who want a wife. At least three victims are anxious to locate Mary. Beside Hoffbrauer, there are Andrew Smith of Wassau, Wis., and C. I. Orwig of Forest Hill, Mich.

Mary had a different story for each. To Hoffbrauer she represented herself as a widow, whose husband had been killed in a railroad wreck. She earned her living by sewing, and wanted a good home and some one to love her. With Orwig she pursued another tack. She was a wealthy widow, fond of good company, but anxious for a home of her own and some one to call her "dearie."

With Smith she was a woman of modest tastes, who preferred married life to anything else, and professed herself as satisfied that he was the ideal man of whom she had dreamed.

Her victims had all advertised for wives in a Chicago matrimonial paper.

TIDES OF SERVICE.

Tests made today by the Western Dredging Company show that the tides have scoured out the harbor entrance an average of twelve inches since last Saturday. At this rate, the tides will not only maintain the entrance, but will admit ships of much deeper draught than had been expected.

Eugene Savage, who achieved local fame this year by making parachute jumps from a balloon as a novice, has taken up the study of aeroplanes, and has sent to Philadelphia for plans of models, intending to build a machine.

The quickness of his employer in stopping a lathe was all that saved Frank E. Johnson today from frightful mutilation, if not fatal injuries. Johnson, who is employed by R. B. Simpson, machinist and gunsmith, reached across the lathe to get some material, and the whirling cogs caught his left arm just above the elbow, and drew it into their jaws, chewing the flesh horribly. Simpson threw off the power, and at personal risk lent his strength to stopping the machine.

"Kid Martin," who aspires to pugilistic honors and has participated in several mills in the county, had the surprise of his life at 1 o'clock this morning. He had gone to the Pacific Electric barn to catch the night crews when they came off duty, and solicit life insurance. His tactics did not please Daniel Kevane, conductor on the Redondo line, and the discussion ended by Martin offering to thrash Kevane. The pair adjourned 1 to an adjoining lot. Martin made a pass at Kevane, which was dodged, and the next moment, "Kid" was on the ground holding his jaw. Three times did the "pug" attempt to land on Kevane, and three times he went down. Then bystanders intervened, and the battle was over. Kevane is a quiet, gentlemanly fellow of medium weight, and his boxing proficiency was never dreamed of before.

After long discussion and wrangling between the citizens of American avenue, north of Anaheim street, relative to the improvement of that thoroughfare, a compromise has been reached by which the Council will order in a rock and oil pavement on the east side of the Pacific Electric right of way, the present width of the street, while on the west side, the improvement will be carried to the property line, widening the street ten feet. It will then be necessary to acquire enough off the front of each lot for a sidewalk, but property owners have agreed that this will be done without necessity of condemnation proceedings. The work has been held up for a year solely on this point.

HARRIMAN STANDS ALONE.

Councilman Harriman, at an adjourned meeting of the Council, introduced an ordinance, abolishing the office of Chief of Police, but on a motion to declare it read a first time, Harriman stood alone, and the ordinance practically has never been presented.

Because its stockholders are all Long Beach men and because its plant and deposits beds are within the city limits, the owners of the San Pedro Salt Works have reorganized under the name of the Long Beach Salt Company, and will send out products under that name hereafter. The president of the company is C. J. Walker. The only change in the directorate is the selection of Stephen Townsend, who has purchased the interests of B. P. Dayman.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, Aug. 31.—The funeral service for Harold Finch, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Finch of No. 1015 Brent avenue, occurred yesterday afternoon at the chapel of Turner & Berry on Mission street. Rev. J. Harvey Deere officiating. Interment was at Mountain View Cemetery.

Jonathan S. Dodge, who has been a member of the Board of Trustees for two years, and chairman for six months, will hand in his resignation next Monday evening. He has purchased a home in Los Angeles and will move to that city.

The Barraca Boys of the Methodist Church are arranging to hold a picnic at Balboa Labor Day. Special cars have been engaged.

J. B. Nolan of Pasadena is building a handsome bungalow on Mound avenue, between Oxley and Monterey road.

Sam Bierach, an artist, designer and illustrator of New York City, who spent a vacation with his father, Simon Bierach, No. 347 El Centro street, returned East today.

A. A. Lawyer, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of this city, and family have gone to San Diego. Later they will return and spend the balance of their vacation in the mountains.

E. L. Taylor and wife of No. 1106 Magnolia street, who have spent the past ten days at Catalina, have returned. Mr. Taylor succeeded in landing a black sea bass weighing 254 pounds, in nineteen minutes.

GIVES LIONS RIGHT OF WAY.

Forest Rangers Find That Discretion Is the Better Part of Valor.

CLAREMONT, Aug. 31.—As Forest Ranger Hardy was riding through Cow Cañon yesterday he came suddenly upon a huge mountain lioness with two cubs. At sight of the ranger the lioness turned, ready to spring upon him if he approached. Cow Cañon lies between Brown's Flats and Camp Baldy. The trail is very narrow and precipitous. Hardy hesitated to pull his gun and fire at the lioness. He realized the dangerous position he was in, the trail being so narrow he could not turn his horse if retreat were necessary. He took the wiser course and halted. The lioness then proceeded along the trail with her cubs, but turned every few yards to see if the ranger was advancing. Finally she disappeared into a neighboring cañon, and Hardy proceeded upon his way.

MOONLIGHT FETE.

Three Hundred People Attend Outdoor Concert Near Covina Given by Ellen Beach Yaw.

COVINA, Aug. 31.—Over 300 people attended the moonlight fete given last night by Ellen Beach Yaw. The singer's artistic bungalow home, evolved from a small California house and a barn, was agiow with dozens of fairy lanterns, hanging from the beams of the veranda, pergola and "arch-gate." The piano was moved to the veranda and under the shadow of the blue gums seats were placed for the audience of over 300, present from Los Angeles, Pasadena and the nearby valley towns.

The first number on the programme was a violin solo, Handel's Largo, by Robert Philleo, a Covina High School student. Later in the programme he rendered "Berceuse from Jocelyn" (Godard,) and for an encore Traumerei (Schumann.)

Ellen Beach Yaw was in splendid voice and looked healthy, happy and charmingly girlish, as she tripped out in an Austrian peasant costume to sing "The Russian Nightingale." The encore was "Dixie," given in delightfully rollicking style. Mme. Yaw's other songs were "The Last Rose of Summer," encore "Coming Thro' the Rye," "Le bonieur est chose legere" (Saint-Saens,) the violin obligato to which was sympathetically executed by Mr. Philleo.

The gem of the evening was Mme. Yaw's rendition of "Caro Nome," from Rigoletto, the selection being given in splendid dramatic style. Mme. Yaw was accompannied on the piano by Mrs. T. Newman of Los Angeles, and Mr. Philleo by his sister.

Miss Irene Wadey, a talented young reader and singer, delighted her audience with a new reading, "The Pudding," faithfully portraying the culinary troubles of a young bride. Act III, scene 1, of "Hamlet," was given by Miss Wadey and Mr. Goldthwaite.

After the concert, Mme. Yaw held an informal reception and ice cream and punch were served. A goodly sum was netted in aid of the King's Daughters' Day Nursery, for which the affair was given.

GETTING READY.

Educational Institutions at Claremont Prepare for the Opening of the School Year.

CLAREMONT, Aug. 31.—The educational institutions of Claremont are being rapidly made ready for the opening of the school year. The public schools add the ninth year to their course. Frank Palmer, who was graduated from the college two years ago, will have charge of this grade and it is expected that by another year the community will demand the full High School.

The preparatory school connected with the college drops the first year's work and this department will be given up altogether as soon as a first-class High School is established.

Prof. James Lyman, who will be head of the department of chemistry, is moving into the Wood house, which he has purchased, on Alexander avenue. Lyman is a Ph.D. of Johns Hopkins University and a teacher and author of repute.

Miss Grace Berry, recently elected dean of women, will reach Claremont soon. She is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and has had successful experience as dean in an eastern college.

Miss Monroe, for some years a member of the faculty at Oberlin, will have charge of physical culture for the women.

Miss Hughes, a graduate from Oberlin Conservatory, is added to the members of the faculty of the school of music.

Edwin Bartlett, a Dartmouth graduate, will assist Dr. Lyman in chemistry.

The matter of the presidency has not been decided, but it is expected that the trustees will be ready to act soon.

Buildings and grounds are being put into fine condition and all things point toward a successful year at Pomona College.

"SOLID THREE" IN CONTROL.

Majority of Belmont Heights Trustees Block Citizens' Move for Consolidation With Long Beach.

BELMONT HEIGHTS, Aug. 31.—Two-thirds of the citizens of this little town are raging over the ease with which three of the Trustees are ignoring their demands for an opportunity to snow at the polls their desire for disincorporation. There is a strong feeling that consolidation with Long Beach would result in more general improvements, but Trustees Bassett, Gourd and Vandeventer have succeeded thus far in dodging the issue, despite the writ issued by Judge Bordwell, ordering them to call the election. They escaped contempt of court by having the City Attorney give notice of appeal, and they absented themselves from the Council meeting last night.

The schools of the Belmont school district will open September 13. There are two schools in the district, the Temple-street and East Fourth-street. The teachers are Prof. Edward Fisher and Misses Martha J. Elder, Eleanor Garner and Ines Lore-

GRAFT CHARGES UNTRUE.

Huntington Park Man Makes Them on Mere Say-so of Two Friends. Trustees Rebuke Him.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 31.—Elmer Davis came near precipitating a fight at the meeting of the Trustees last night when he accused the engineering department of receiving a rake-off of 12½ cents on every load of gravel used for street work. When asked to produce evidence, or at least put his charges in writing, Davis failed to make good. He said two friends of his had told him that there was graft, so he thought it must be true.

The Trustees explained to Mr. Davis that it is usually regarded as unsafe to repeat in public everything one hears. The incident occurred during a discussion on the quality of street work being done here. In reply, the city authorities were able to point out that although more street work had been done here under the Vrooman act than in any other small town in Los Angeles county, there had as yet been no protest filed by any property owner in the legal manner for which that act makes provision.

WAX REMINISCENT.

Members of Knights of Pythias Lodge of Pomona Celebrate Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

POMONA, Aug. 31.—Last evening was a memorable occasion in the history of Aetna Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this city, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of its institution in Pomona. It was organized by E. A. De Camp, who was present at last evening's festivities, which took the form of a banquet served by the Pythian Sisters at the K. of P. Hall. When the lodge was started here there was a population of 800 in the village and ever since that time the order has thrived here. After the banquet Chancellor Commander Fred Niedermeyer acted as toastmaster and interesting and reminiscent talks were given by Messrs. H. G. Tinsley, John H. Lee, De Camp, Armour, Ogle, Gallup, Hannum, Stevens, Robert Loucks, Patterson, Vandegrift, McIntyre, Welch, Dr. N. J. Rice and Rev. L. J. Millikan.

WEDS—SURPRISES.

Willis Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Bartlett, has arrived here from Los Angeles with a bride, and thus surprised his friends. Mrs. Bartlett was Miss Grace Ingersoll of Santa Monica and was married to Mr. Bartlett in Los Angeles on Saturday. The newly-wedded couple are at home at No. 649 West Center street in a new bungalow recently finished by the groom.

Mrs. Frank W. Thomas, wife of Assistant Cashier Thomas of the First National Bank of this city, arrived on a belated Santa Fé overland yesterday afternoon from Burlington, Vt.

G. W. Simpson has let the contract for the erection of a brick building for a wood, hay and feed store east of the Fraternal Aid Theater, to O. J. and Willis Bartlett. The plans were prepared by Architect C. E. Wolfe of this city.

CITIZENS PROTEST.

Serve Notice on Santa Monica City Treasurer Not to Pay Demand for Band Music.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—A protest, signed by J. C. Steele and W. S. Vawter, was this morning filed with City Treasurer Bane, opposing the payment by that officer of a warrant for $180 ordered drawn by the City Council last night in favor of Frank Gregory. This sum represents the August demand for the support of a band at Pier avenue. The protest declares that the payment "is invalid and is an attempt by the city to make a gift of its funds, in violation of the law and the Constitution of the State."

The Treasurer was notified that if he paid the warrant, suit will be brought against him and the securities on his official bond for the recovery of the money to the treasury of the city.

Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles has accepted the invitation of the Pier Dedication Reception Committee to deliver an address here on the afternoon of Admission Day, September 9. This address will be at 1:30 o'clock, immediately following the luncheon to be served to the Mayors and officialdom of Southern California.

H. E. Huston has just returned from Banning, to which city he went by automobile. He covered the 128 miles lying between the seaside and the rim of the desert in five hours and thirty minutes, going by way of San Bernardino.

ALHAMBRA.

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 31.—Miss Ethel Bishop, Miss Clara Barnett and Miss Edith Moe returned yesterday from Terminal Island.

The J. F. Hall Martin Company has finished the Linda Vista bridge which spans the Arroyo Seco at the west end of Colorado street, Pasadena. The general specifications called for a structure 400 feet long with a twenty-foot road way and at an elevation of sixty-five feet above the bed of the river. The firm of Mayberry & Parker were the engineers in charge of the big undertaking.

Miss Julia McIlvain has resigned her position at the Pacific Telephone office to take one with the Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles.

Glen Morrissey, of the Hospital Corps of the United States Navy, is home from Mare Island on a furlough.

The Alhambra District Sunday-school Institute will hold sessions at the High School Auditorium, Sunday, at 2 o'clock and 7:30 p.m. A fine programme is being arranged.

The new oil sprinkler is proving to be one of the best of its kind. In a preliminary trial a fine even spray of cold oil, twenty-five feet wide and nearly five miles in length was thrown upon Main and Garfield streets from one tank holding 1000 gallons. No inconvenience was caused to travel. This seems to settle the problem of keeping the dust laid.

The New Conover
Pianos

¶ The most artistic case designs, both in their unique architecture and beauty of finish, that have ever graced our floors are embodied in a new shipment of the famous Conover pianos which has just been received. More beautiful mahoganies, more excellent and durable varnish work, we have never known, while the tone character of the Conover is so surpassingly sweet and rich, of such great purity and volume, as to have made it one of the most favored of American pianos.

¶ Conover pianos are, in comparison with their excellence in workmanship, tonal character and great durability, more moderately priced than any really great piano today. Conover pianos make extravagance in piano buying unnecessary, and are really better in every detail that makes for piano perfection than pianos usually sold at $100 to $150 higher.

¶ Conovers, like all pianos, are sold at our house on most easy payments. Satisfaction is guaranteed in the smallest detail, while the reputation of thirty-two years of progressive piano selling and straightforward business methods is an additional guarantee to each buyer.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

JOB IN JEOPARDY.

PINCHOT WILL INVESTIGATE.

Chief Forester to Inquire Into Slosson Case.

Fate of Santa Barbara Man in His Hands.

The Rangers Loyally Stand by Their Chief.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States Forest Service, is coming to this city next Thursday. It develops that his visit, instead of being a semi-social, semi-business call on his old acquaintance, Col. W. M. Slosson, supervisor of the Santa Barbara forest reserve, is for the purpose of determining Col. Slosson's fate. It seems that two months ago F. E. Olmstead, chief of the San Francisco district forestry headquarters, summarily demanded of Slosson that he tender his resignation. Slosson refused, or rather, he answered that if an inspection were made of the Santa Barbara forest reserve and it showed that he was in any way delinquent in his duties as supervisor, he would tender his resignation. No reply was made to him.

Col. Slosson, who is said to be the oldest in point of service of any man of the United States Department of Forestry, took the matter up directly with Pinchot. The two were acquainted years ago in Texas. Senator Flint and others also interceded with Pinchot in Slosson's behalf. The chief forester has given assurance that Slosson will not be removed from his position until the affair has been investigated and he has been given a chance to be heard in his own behalf.

Slosson is popular here and his work on the reserve is constantly applauded. His rangers are said to be loyal to him to the point of resigning if he is removed. If results are what count, the Santa Barbara reserve is in very fine shape. It is hinted that the reason back of it all is that another man wants Slosson's job.

Pinchot is due to arrive here Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, and will leave for Los Angeles the following morning at 10:30 o'clock. He has wired an acceptance of the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to make an address on the Roosevelt conservation policies and will speak at the chamber at 9 o'clock a.m. September 7. Owing to his limited stay he will be unable to inspect the Santa Barbara reserve.

WILL EMPLOY DIVERS.

No attempts to find by grappling the body of John Collins, who was drowned in the pond beside the Potter Country Club on Hope ranch Sunday, have failed, the head of the Patillo Contracting Company, for which Collins worked, has given instructions to employ divers. The body of Dan Reedy, who was with Collins when their little sail boat capsized, was brought to the surface yesterday, the grappling hook having caught over the man's rigidly-crooked finger. Reedy had swum within fifty feet of shore when he went down. Sedge grows about the edges of the pond and he became entangled in it.

PYTHIAN ENCAMPMENT.

Life goes merrily on at Camp Driffill, out at Oak Park, where the Third Regiment Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias, is comfortably ensconced. Last night the younger ones took things into their own hands and there was merry dancing for over three hours. Gen. Driffill expects to arrive for a three days' sojourn tomorrow. The military ball at Elks' Hall tomorrow will be the feature of the encampment.

VETERANS ENTERTAIN.

Old Soldiers Make Things Lively at Huntington Beach—Marvelous Disappearance of Beans.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 31.—Santa Ana post and corps, assisted by the Columbia Band of that city, furnished last night's entertainment at the veterans' encampment and attracted a big audience. The programme consisted of songs, tableaux and the concert by the band.

Today was bean day and hundreds of old soldiers and the members of the auxiliary corps sat down to a big dinner consisting of beans, beans and beans. Tin cups filled with the succulent vegetable were rapidly emptied and refilled, and when the soldiers had been satisfied the ladies of the W. R. C. and Daughters of Veterans sat down to the tables and completed the feast.

In the afternoon the Veterans' Drum Corps went to Los Angeles to meet the drum corps and members of Roosevelt Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, accompanied by a large number of friends. The Los Angeles delegations were cordially welcomed at the camp and fraternized with the veterans of the other wars like old comrades.

Tonight Roosevelt Camp gave a splendid entertainment, perhaps the most elaborate of the entire encampment. Its drum corps met with an enthusiastic reception from the big audience and was forced to respond to numerous encores.

Last night the Trustees fixed the city tax rate for the ensuing year at 1 per cent. Of this, 85 cents is to be for general purposes and 15 cents for the maintenance of the newly-established free library. The membership of the library is rapidly increasing and the daily circulation of books is surprisingly large for a city of this size.

HILLS BATHED IN LIGHTNING

Grass Set Ablaze by Remarkable Storm That Visits Santa Clara Valley.

VENTURA, Aug. 31.—Santa Clara Valley was visited yesterday, by the most remarkable electrical storm in its history. There was no rain in the valley, but great black clouds rolled up over the mountains to the eastward of Piru, and these seemed to send ahead of them wild gusts of wind that swept the dust and sand in whirling masses down the valley. As the clouds rose higher in the sky, there was a dazzling display of lightning and the dry grass on the hillsides back of Buckhorn was set on fire in many places. Within a few minutes, the whole mountain side was ablaze. The heat was intense. Little thunder accompanied the electrical display, but there were showers back in the mountains.

POVERTY BRINGS DESPAIR.

GRAND OPERA STAR'S BROTHER TRIES TO DIE.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 31.—Disappointed because he was unable to earn a living, Rudolph Walinski, a young Austrian and son of one of the leading merchants of Vienna, attempted to commit suicide this morning. When he placed a revolver to his head it was seized by W. L. Lindsey, who had refused to lend the young man money.

Walinski, who is 22 years old, is now in charge of the immigration authorities, and will be deported to Austria. It is understood his relatives have refused to aid him financially, because he ran away from home.

The attempt at suicide took place at Dr. Cummings's sanatorium, in Paradise Valley. A year ago the doctor, while on a tour of Europe, became acquainted with the Walinski family in Vienna. His stories of American life were a revelation to young Walinski, and so impressed the young man that he determined to see for himself. With limited capital he landed in New York, and after vain attempts to find work there, made his way to San Diego. He had Dr. Cummings's address, and went to the sanatorium. He attempted to earn his board, but was unable to accomplish much, and became despondent.

Yesterday he came to San Diego, and with the last money he possessed, purchased a 44-caliber revolver and cartridges. Returning to Paradise Valley this morning he went to W. L. Lindsey, an employé of the sanatorium, and asked him for money, saying he had lived on nothing but watermelon since yesterday morning. When Lindsey refused his request, Walinski said: "Well, there is one way out of it, and that is this." He drew the revolver and pointed it to his forehead. Lindsey seized the gun.

Dr. Cummings reported the case to the immigration authorities, and Walinski will be sent home.

The young man's sister is a grand opera star in Vienna.

TWENTY-TON BLAST CAUSES MOUNTAIN TO ROCK.

Powder Explosion Tears Hundred and Twenty-five Cubic Feet of Granite from Nature's Wall. Plumbers Said to Ignore License Ordinance.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 31.—Twenty tons of powder were used yesterday in a single blast, which tore 125,000 cubic feet of rock from a mountainside at the site of the Morena dam of the California Mountain Water Company.

This is believed to be one of the biggest blasts touched off in Southern California. The company is boring a tunnel into the mountainside, which is solid granite. A gang of men spent one whole day in placing the explosive in the various holes that it had taken weeks to drill, and three days were consumed in tamping the charges.

When the discharge took place, the mountain was shaken as if by an earthquake.

BIDS ON BOND PRINTING.

Six printing firms yesterday submitted to the Supervisors bids to print the 1250 bonds of the $1,250,000 issue voted for good roads. The bidders and amounts follow: Union Lithographing Company, Los Angeles, $404; Western Bank Note and Engraving Company, Chicago, $406; American Bank Note Company, San Francisco, $339; Franklin-Lee Bank Note Company, Chicago, $1236; Loring & Co., San Diego, $404; Frye & Smith, San Diego, $485. The contract has not been let.

PLUMBERS CITED.

Master and journeyman plumbers of this city have been cited to appear before the Council and state why the ordinance recently adopted requiring them to take out licenses and pass examinations as to fitness should not be enforced. The ordinance took effect July 6, and it is said it is being ignored by plumbers. It requires that a master plumber shall pay $5 for a certificate of examination and a journeyman, $2.50. An examining board is created, of which the City Health Officer is chairman.

TWENTY-YEAR SENTENCE.

Judge Guy in the Superior Court this morning pronounced sentence of twenty years at San Quentin upon Charles A. Swaile, convicted of having placed dynamite on the porch of a house owned by E. W. Dickinson for the purpose of intimidating the owner. Swaile was tried three times before a conviction was secured. His attorneys gave notice of appeal.

May Cook, waitress in a local restaurant, was yesterday granted a judgment for $1000 against I. I. Alumbaugh, a wealthy property owner, for defamation of character.

TRAINING SHIP SAILS.

The Japanese training ship Taisei Maru, with eighty cadets aboard, which has been in the harbor for a week, sailed this morning for Valparaiso, Chile. From there the ship will go to Honolulu.

WEAHER COOLER.

With the approach of dawn this morning a heavy fog enveloped the city and surrounding country and cooled the atmosphere to a normal temperature. The fog hung over the city and bay throughout the day.

SEWER AGITATION.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 31.—To the Trustees last night A. C. Tiede stated that the northwestern portion of the city had paid $1400 in taxes to build and keep up the city's sewer system; that if the city would set aside $1400 for that district, the latter would vote $2200 bonds to raise the total sum of $3600 necessary to sewer the district by placing mains on Seventeenth and Baker streets.

The Trustees had never thought of extending the sewers in that way, believing the only way to raise money for sewer extensions was by bonding the entire city. The City Attorney reported that Tiede's plan would be legal.

There are other outlying sections that want sewers, and the board is considering a bond issue that will accommodate them and give the city a larger outfall capacity.

FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL.

There is a movement on foot for the county to purchase the Harris building at the corner of D and Fruit streets for a county hospital. It was a hotel but the city moved away from it and left it an elephant on some one's hands. It contains twenty rooms. E. H. Turner, steward of the place where a number of the county's indigents are gathered and cared for, says the building can be bought and converted into a hospital for $6500.

The Trustees last night went on record against the disposal of any city real estate, on the theory that the time will come when it will all be needed for school or park purposes.

Postmaster Shaw spent Sunday and Monday in the foothills near San Juan Capistrano looking for his black mare. Shaw and Hisgson were on a fishing trip at Dana's Point when the animal got away.

VACANT RING.

VAINLY AWAITS BRIDE-TO-BE.

YOUNG MAN IN FULLERTON STILL HOLDS LICENSE.

Prospective Wife Fails to Appear at the Time and Place Set for the Wedding—Santa Paula Paper Prints Full Account of Nuptials That Did Not Take Place.

FULLERTON, Aug. 31.—Walter E. Davis, a popular young man of Santa Paula, has a marriage license that he would sell at a big discount for cash.

The license was issued in Los Angeles about a week ago for Mr. Davis and Miss Bessie M. D. King of Glendale. The young man rented a handsomely furnished residence in Fullerton and went to Los Angeles one evening last week to be married. He had purchased a valuable ring and had an official on hand to perform the ceremony but the young lady failed to keep her end of the agreement for the evening, to the disappointment of all present.

A day or two after the ceremony was to have taken place, Mr. Davis received a telegram from Miss King, who was far down the line toward San Diego. It is understood that she wired him to meet her in Santa Ana, Saturday. Mr. Davis went to that city and Miss King again failed to keep her appointment.

Mr. Davis returned to Fullerton that night and made a further reduction on the price of his marriage license but up to the present has found no one who can use it. A Santa Paula paper published a long account of the marriage, giving full details, telling how the ceremony was performed, who was present and all that sort of thing and it makes good reading matter but the people of Santa Paula will be surprised when they read this notice in The Times.

The bridegroom-to-have-been is a son of former Supervisor Davis of Santa Paula, one of the best known residents of Ventura county. The young man has been in Fullerton several weeks, having accepted a position with a firm here in which his father is interested.

The order for the residence has been cancelled by Mr. Davis, who says he will not rent a home again until the ceremony has been performed and he has returned from the "honeymoon" trip.

The young man is still holding his position and does not seem to lose much sleep over the fact that Miss King failed to keep her promise. After Mr. Davis and Miss King went to the Courthouse in Los Angeles to get the license they parted on the corner of Spring and Fifth streets and that was the last meeting between the two young people.

MAY EXTEND TROLLEY LINE.

It is stated that the Pacific Electric Railway will extend its road twelve miles from La Habra Valley, eastward through the valley and to a point up the Santa Ana River. The first twelve miles of the road was completed last year, it going now to a point below the mouth of Bren Cañon. The new road will pass just north of Placentia, running south of the Olinda oil fields and on to Yorba. It is stated that the twelve miles will take it to a point up the Santa Ana River where one of the best gravel beds in Southern California has been located. The company is anxious to reach this gravel bed as hundreds of carloads of this road material are needed on the company's other lines.

More than a year ago a number of cabbage growers brought suit against Thomas Strain, alleging that he owed them about $2000 for cabbages he marketed. Mr. Strain held that the cabbages had been shipped on commission. The growers got judgment against the defendant for about $1800. The District Court of Appeal sustained the decision of the lower court and denied a rehearing of the case. Mr. Strain will carry the suit to the State Supreme Court. The costs now foot up between $700 and $1000.

WALNUT PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

Early in the season a number of walnut growers of this part of the county estimated that there would be less than one-half crop this season but, according to the best reports obtainable now, there will be at least 65 or 70 per cent. of an average yield. The crop is looking well and has not been injured by the hot weather of the past few days.

Valencia oranges were shipped as follows in carload lots from Fullerton the past week: C. C. Chapman, 4; Placentia Association, 5; Benchley Fruit Company, 5; H. F. Dalrymple, 6; Thomas Strain, Jr., 1.

SAN BERNARDINO.

HORSE TREADS ON WOMAN.

TRAMPLES OVER HER AS SHE LIES PROSTRATE.

Thrown from Carriage to the Pavement She Receives Serious Injuries as the Iron-shod Heels of the Excited Animal Crush Into Her Body.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Herman Kleuter, a wealthy resident of this city, was seriously and possibly fatally injured this morning by being thrown from her buggy by a fractious horse. After she was hurled from the rig the animal trampled upon her as she lay prostrate on the pavement. The accident occurred on Third street, and was witnessed by numerous bystanders.

Mrs. Kleuter, together with Dolly Ault, a nine-year-old friend, was the occupant of the buggy. In attempting to turn around, the horse became unmanageable, and backed against the curb. Starting ahead with a jerk, it threw Mrs. Kleuter, who is advanced in age, and her companion, to the pavement. The horse then backed over the woman. She was struck in the face. She is also suffering from a serious injury in her back.

TRUSTEES ARE "MISSOURIANS."

The City Trustees and Mayor last night took no action on the petition of Fred Durham, representing unknown Los Angeles capitalists, for the advertising of an electric railway franchise through certain streets of the city.

Three weeks ago the petition was filed, and at that time it was the sentiment of the board to take no action unless the applicant for the franchise was willing to take the Trustees into his confidence and demonstrate that he meant to construct the line, and was not merely attempting to hold the franchise for speculation.

Although three weeks have passed, the board has not been shown that the franchise is desired for the construction of an electric line. A petition was presented last night to the Trustees from property owners along two blocks on E street, along which thoroughfare the franchise is asked, requesting that the petition be denied. Mr. Durham informed the board that he would amend his application to avoid this street.

SHOW WOMAN ARRESTED.

Mrs. Lola Radcliffe, manager of a traveling show company, was placed under arrest last night at Upland and brought to this city by Deputy Sheriff Lambert. She is wanted here to answer to a charge of passing worthless checks to the extent of $27 in Colton last Saturday night, when her company played in that town. One of the checks was in favor of the City of Colton for $10 for the rent of the City Hall, and the other was in favor of the Anderson Hotel for $17 for board. Both checks were made out on a bank in Pomona, where she has, it is stated, an account of but $2. Her six-year-old daughter was placed in the Detention Home.

The "Ville de Paris," of Los Angeles, is conducting a great sale of women's ready-to-wear garments at their branch store, located at 329 3rd street, between E and F streets, San Bernardino. The merchandise offered is fresh and new and the sale prices average about one-half the original values.

ANXIETY OVER YACHT.

Boat With Ventura Pleasure-Seekers Aboard Missing—Launch Chartered for Search.

VENTURA, Aug. 31.—Anxiety is felt here today concerning the gasoline yacht Anacapa and the party of Ventura pleasure-seekers aboard. The anacapa, commanded by Capt. Bay Webster, left here for Anacapa Island Saturday night, and was to have returned Sunday night. The party took provisions for only four meals.

Yesterday there was a high wind on the channel between here and Anacapa, with a terrific sea. Capt. Webster is known to be the most careful of skippers of the Ventura mosquito fleet. He would not have put out from the island in such a blow, and may have been blowing at the island Sunday night.

It is thought the boat's engines may have failed to work, or that she may have been blown ashore on the rocky island. The gasoline launch Nipoma was chartered today to go in search of her.

Those in the party, beside Capt. Webster and his engineer, William Ralls, are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Moore, Virgil Sewell, Roy Cannon, Miss Persia Townsend, Newton and Alfred Palm, Miss Anna Palm, Miss Mamie Eaton, Mrs. Farroll of Oxnard, C. W. Vandelinder, Roy Vandelinder, Will Dimmick, Nelson Mickell, Walter Morris, Mrs. Wilson and Willie Eaton.

The weather at Ventura is cool and pleasant, with a fresh wind from the west—not so strong as the blow of yesterday.

LONG FOR CLARET.

After a rest of several months, the fight game is to be commenced anew here on Admission Day. The arena near Windward avenue will be utilized. This was formerly a roller skating rink, but when the craze over that bloodless sport faded away and the demand was for something with more of the claret hue, a ring was set up and surrounded by elevated seats. The City Trustees have issued a permit for the September boxing matches.

CORONA GROVE SOLD.

New York Man Becomes Owner of Ten-Acre Place—Recorder to Resign. Building Activity.

CORONA, Aug 31.—J. J. Rhodes of Syracuse, N. Y., has bought from C. T. Zintz, a ten-acre orange grove on Olive street. The deal was made through the Hively and Hull agency.

There is considerable activity in building here, especially in the erection of homes. C. D. McNeil is to erect a seven-room bungalow on Olive street. Walter Clayson, Jr., is building a cottage on north Ramona street.

N. T. Stevens and Mrs. A. M. Mettiercil of Corona, were recently married in Los Angeles, and as the bridegroom is a veteran, the couple took a wedding trip to the G.A.R. encampment at Huntington Beach.

An inch of rain fell at Temescal, Sunday, and about half an inch in the foothills, but in town showers merely laid the dust.

Justice Hull is to tender his resignation as Recorder in order to take an eastern trip. He will leave Saturday, for South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Florida.

LUCANIA HOPELESSLY DAMAGED.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 31.—A survey of the Cunard line steamer Lucania, which caught fire at her dock here August 14 and was sunk in order to quench the flames, shows the damage to be so extensive that the company probably will not repair the vessel. It is estimated it will cost more than $500,000 to refit the steamer.

DRS. SHORES & SHORES great success in curing Catarrh and all Chronic Diseases has brought hundreds of patients to their offices. The great number treated makes it possible to treat all diseases for the low fee of $3 a month, including medicines. Positively no other charge or expense.

Catarrh, Deafness and Ear Noises Cured

Mrs. G. H. Wilson, Gardena, who is one of the proprietors of the famous Magnolia Poultry Ranch, says "I have had catarrh for the past thirty (30) years, and about one year ago my hearing began to fail me and my ears throbbed and beat, causing a loud noise, and there was a bad discharge from one of my ears. In fact, my hearing failed me until I could not hear a watch tick. Two (2) months' treatment with Drs. Shores & Shores has entirely cured my catarrh. The noise and discharge has subsided, and my hearing is nearly restored. To those suffering as I did I cheerfully recommend Drs. Shores & Shores' treatment." Signed Mrs. G. H. Wilson.

Drs. Shores and Shores Low Fee Deals a Death Blow to the Medical Grafter

Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 73 deg. and 71 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 73 per cent; 5 p.m., 75 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 1 mile; 5 p.m., southeast, velocity 7 miles. Maximum temperature, 81 deg.; minimum, 69 deg. Rainfall for season, trace; rainfall last season to date, .06 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—Clear weather has prevailed in Los Angeles and vicinity during the last twenty-four hours, and the pressure distribution this morning indicates a return to more seasonable temperature conditions. The pressure continues low over the Northwest, and scattering thunderstorms, accompanied by heavy rain, are reported over southern California. At Riverside 1.32 inches fell on Monday, while at San Bernardino the total precipitation was 1.31 inches. Heavy rains also fell in the desert country, 1.54 inches being reported from Yuma, with lesser amounts at Phoenix and Flagstaff. Rains have also occurred in Utah, Nevada, Southern Idaho and New Mexico. In the East the weather is fair, with temperatures of normal or slightly below. Scattering showers have occurred in Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina and Florida, being heaviest at Charleston, where 1.40 inches fell. The indications are for fair weather and some cloudiness at intervals in Los Angeles and vicinity, probably with a further moderation in temperature tonight. Thunder-showers will likely continue in the mountain and foothill districts this afternoon and tonight.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Generally fair weather Tuesday night and Wednesday, probably with some cloudiness; cooler tonight; variable winds, becoming westerly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Forecasts: San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy Wednesday; moderate west wind.

Santa Clara Valley: Cloudy Wednesday; light west wind.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Wednesday; light south wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Fair Wednesday; light west wind.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy Wednesday; showers in the mountains; light southwest wind.

Arizona: Showers Wednesday and Thursday.

MARKET DULL, BUT STRONG.

MAKES SLIGHT GAINS FOR ALL DELIVERIES.

Quotations Almost at Top When Close Ends Day's Trading on Chicago Board of Trade—Corn Crop Short of the Government Figures is Private Estimate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Dullness and strength characterized trading in wheat all day. The market opened strong with prices up ¼@⅝c to 1c, and during the day further gains of about the same scale for all deliveries. The close was almost at the top figures. The bulge at the opening was due chiefly to an advance of 1d at Liverpool, and the later upturn was largely the result of a falling-off in primary receipts in this country, particularly in the Northwest.

Private estimates which claimed a much smaller crop of corn than was indicated by the government report, were factors responsible for a sharp advance in prices. September closed 2c. The market closed strong at almost the top, with prices 1½c to 2¼c, compared with yesterday's close.

Oats were dull but firm. The close was firm with prices ½c to ⅝c up.

Trade in provisions was decidedly quiet. At the close prices were a shade higher to 7½@5c down.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour, steady; feed or mixing barley, 47@50; fair to choice malting, 52@56; flax seed, No. 1 northwestern, 1.37; No. 1 northwestern, 1.42; timothy, 11.25; mess pork, per bbl., 20.50@22.55; lard, per 100 lbs., 12.22½; short ribs, sides (loose), 11.60@11.80; short clear sides (boxed), 11.75@12.50.

New York Cotton Market.

(Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 111 West Third street.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—We have been bullish on cotton sold at 8½ cents last December and we are now more convinced than ever that cotton will untimately sell much higher owing to short crop and improvement in trade, but spinners are not buying freely. The question is when will the start, as we think speculators will take a hand of it, which will precipitate and establish a higher basis of values. Excessive heat has caused premature opening and this will work in favor of the crop later, but it is likely to cause a heavy rush movement which will be against prices, and temporary setbacks are likely to occur. Above 12.50 we would advise profit on long cotton and on any break as the government report shortly due will probably prove the most profitable buying point of the season.

Mr. Bryan's letter follows: "Speculators think we are long of the market and the forthcoming bureau report to increase buying power, either through increased endeavoring to provide for future delivery, or by the new crop of speculative long to carry prices to new high ground. Some of the market toward that result can not only upon figures that may be bullish enough to create a small crop ideas, but also upon the manipulation of the report this year by the out-measure of profit taking. The trade is reluctant to pay the price, or to keep the market upon himself, however, by the time it is proposed a willingness to meet the market later on in the season. We favor looking at the bureau without and without constimulation. Look at the actual situation and at the actual situation always that the actual situation will control values. The trade sentiment from Washington on Thursday of which figures were the average estimate of 6 members of the New York Cotton Exchange today."

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building.]

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The price of the metal in London today was unchanged, with moderate sales. The business of the General Electric Company for the month of August shows an increase in volume over July of about $6,000,000. They report a steady increase in the building of interurban electric roads all through the Middle West. This means a large consumption of copper. Copper Range declared a dividend of $1 today. Everything points to a wonderful future for the copper industry. Following were closing quotations on the Boston Stock Exchange:

RECEIVER OF BIG MINE.

Bank Appointed by Federal Judge to Take Charge of Francis Mohawk Company.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Western Trust & Savings Bank was appointed receiver, today, for the Francis Mohawk Mining & Leasing Company, of Goldfield, Nev., by Judge C. C. Kohlsaat in the Federal Circuit Court. The action was taken on complaint of stockholders. Judge Kohlsaat also granted an injunction against the company and its officers, restraining them from removing $125,000, now on deposit here, and from interfering in any way with the property of the company in Illinois.

AUGUST RECORDS IN SMITHEREENS.

BUILDING AND BANKING, EACH SET NEW SCORES.

No Other Similar Month Can Show Such Figures as the One Just Passed—Gigantic Sums Handled for Year Through Local Clearing-house Association.

The statistics, both of building and business in Los Angeles, for the month closed last night, are record breakers for any August. The chief inspector of buildings yesterday afternoon completed a report showing that 779 permits for construction and improvements had been issued by his department from August 1 to August 31, inclusive. The total valuation represented by these items is $1,555,199. Even the 1906 report falls $75,000 short of this record. The corresponding figures for last year were 676 permits and $954,271 valuation.

Following are the reports for the month of August, since the department began the present method of tabulation:

	Permits.	Value.
1909	779	$1,555,199
1908	676	954,271
1907	730	1,342,060
1906	791	1,476,522
1905	858	1,414,821
1904	690	1,182,111

The reassuring deductions to be derived from this impressive record of building operations are still further reinforced by the report of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse for August. The bank clearings are the greatest in the history of the month, $67,770,168.25 having been handled in the twenty-six business days by the prosperous financial institutions which belong to the association. The gain over the corresponding period of last year is nearly $20,000,000. The increase over 1907 is over $11,000,000.

The record gain in the figures for the month is paralleled by the totals for the year to date. Clearings up to yesterday aggregated $429,478,453, as compared with $325,599,025 for 1908 and $415,284,809 for 1907.

RAILROADS.

VALLEY LINE IS CLEAR AGAIN.

DAMAGE DONE BY CLOUDBURST AT CAMERON REPAIRED.

Southern Pacific Obliged to Remove Earth and Rock from One Thousand Feet of Track—Trains Routed Today as Usual—Washout on the Santa Fe at Topock.

The Valley Line of the Southern Pacific, after a tie-up of eighteen hours, caused by a cloudburst at Cameron, in the Tehachepi Mountains, that buried a thousand feet of track under four feet of earth and rock, was cleared and reopened to traffic yesterday morning and trains are routed today as usual.

The water that caused the trouble at Cameron fell suddenly and without warning. According to parties who witnessed the slide, the sky was clear twenty minutes after the track was covered and it was fully a half-hour after the cloudburst befors the water from the main shed came sweeping from the cañon in a solid wall three feet high.

Superintendent Platt of the southern district arrived at the scene of the slide a few moments after the cloudburst and remained until the track was clear yesterday.

The Sunset Route was opened at 2:30 o'clock p.m. yesterday and trains are moving today, but slowly, on account of the general soft condition of the track. Following close upon the washouts of two weeks ago, when the track was undermined in a hundred places in sixty miles, the roadbed is in bad condition. All trains today will start on time, but will arrive late.

At midnight last night the first of the five trains that had been held up at Yuma arrived in Los Angeles.

Rain fell in the desert most of yesterday, but the weather was reported as clearing late in the afternoon.

Railroad Notes.

C. C. Dana, division freight agent of the Santa Fé at Fort Madison, Iowa, is among the railroad men in Los Angeles. This is his first visit to California. He will leave Saturday for his home.

For the seventh consecutive week the Los Angeles Limited of the Salt Lake Route has been completely sold out before leaving this city. Other roads report all the business they can handle and the steamship lines are taxed to the limit of their equipment. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, operating the President and Governor, have not had a spare berth since April, either north or southbound.

N. R. Martin, division passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, is away on his vacation. He will spend a couple of weeks at Lake Tahoe and Seattle.

J. J. Aken, superintendent of the Los Angeles Railway, is absent from the city on a short business trip.

Santa Fe Washout.

A small cloudburst in the Tehachepi Mountains at 2 o'clock p.m. yesterday washed out five rails and a bridge on the Santa Fé at Topock, and delayed trains about five hours.

New Observation Car.

The Owl equipment, already as fine as anything in the West, has been further improved by the addition of a handsome, all-steel observation car.

HATPIN AS WEAPON.

Girl Makes Threats of Murder and Attacks Mother While Temporarily Insane.

Becoming mentally unbalanced because she could not return to her former home in Chicago, Ida Scholtz, 18 years old, terrorized the members of her family with a hatpin yesterday.

She threatened to murder the entire household and became so unmanageable that it was necessary to call a policeman. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital and a certificate of insanity was issued.

Miss Scholtz came to Los Angeles about three months ago with her mother and brother. They have been residing at No. 513 San Julian street. She frequently said that she would like to go back east, and fretted because she had to live here.

Her mother was startled yesterday when the daughter dashed at her with a hatpin. She was finally persuaded to give it up. She then went in search of a revolver.

"I'm going to kill the landlady," she shouted. "I'll put five bullets in her and the other one in myself."

She became so violent that it was seen to be unsafe for the inmates of the house to leave her at large. A policeman was summoned. When he arrived she had procured another hatpin and was flourishing it threateningly.

PROHIBITIONISTS MEET.

They Also Nominate Candidates in Convention, Disregarding Foolish Primary Fad.

The Prohibitionists of Los Angeles have held a convention and nominated candidates for municipal offices—direct primary or no direct primary. They have named:

For Mayor, L. M. Davenport.

For Councilman-at-large (one) Fred F. Wheeler.

For Board of Education (one member) Rev. Charles V. La Fontaine.

The party probably will put up several other candidates for the Council, although it is possible that they will concentrate on Wheeler, expecting him to draw from all parties.

Their candidate for Mayor is a Los Angeles-street dealer in agricultural implements. Mr. Wheeler was prominently named for the Presidential nomination of the party a year ago.

Alleged Embezzler on Way to This City Arrested With Woman Companion in Chicago.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Samuel Goldsmith, 32 years old, wanted for an alleged $10,000 embezzlement in New York, was arrested here today as he stepped from a Pennsylvania train in the union passenger station with a woman who gave her name as Tillie Howard.

The woman was taken to the central station, but was allowed to go after her clothing had been searched and she had been questioned. Goldsmith is said to have left New York with the woman for Los Angeles, Cal.

The New York authorities were notified and a detective is expected to arrive in Chicago tomorrow to take the prisoner back to the eastern city.

According to the police, Goldsmith, until a few months ago is just like a great many other things in life. You can do it if you make up your mind hard enough. Of course, you can't really drive the temperature down a dozen degrees or more, but you can make yourself feel a whole lot more comfortable than those who stand and watch the mercury rise on hot days. Keeping cool, in the broader sense of the word, means still more comfort—still more success. Don't let your blood or temper boil over. Down here we can keep cool both ways. We've got the best ventilated store west of the Mississippi, by far the coolest store in the State—and there being no intent to mislead, no false claims of any kind that might cause arguments and difficult explanations, it is the natural thing for us all to keep our heads. PRESENTED TO EMPEROR.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Capt. Samuel G. Shartle, the newly appointed American military attaché, was presented to Emperor William at the autumn review today of the Berlin and Potsdam garrisons on the Tempelhof parade ground. The review was the usual brilliant spectacle. Thirty thousand troops took part in the maneuvers. The Emperor and Empress returned to the palace through the principal streets of Berlin, and were cheered by the crowds. Among the Americans who witnessed the review were Orville Wright and Mrs. D. J. Hill, wife of the American Ambassador.
